IMPRESSIONS ABROAD.

NUMBER 1.

Mr. Andrew Young, of Chicago, has recently returned from a tour of observation in England, Ireland and Scotland. He left New York on the 30th of June, and returned, leaving Liverpool August 1. His main object in making the trip was to investigate the systems of sewerage and plumbing in the Old World. The following is his letter to the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL:

To the Editor of the Real Estate and Building Journal:

The Chicago man upon arriving at Liverpool will, no doubt upon the first opportunity, take the 'bus or tramway and visit the docks. After viewing them (and their equal is not to be found), his mind will naturally revert to our odoriferous river and our magnificent lake front, which is without a dock or even the possibility of ever having one. the right to the ground or frontage, the value of which is incalculable, having been the plaything of politicians for the last twenty years. He will be astonished at the vast amount of shipping from every clime seen there; but, sad to say, very few flying the stars and stripes. It would break the heart of ex-Governor Beveridge to remain long in England.

The buildings in the business portion of Liverpool are very fine — massive and substantial. Monuments and statues of public men and warriors meet the eye at every turn, and the same may be said of nearly all cities in Great Britain. They venerate their public men or those who have done good service to the state, and do not forget them when they die. The great republic has forgotten that it had a war. Liverpool is a busy, bustling city, but still their methods are slow and cumbersome. Two, three, and even four horses (and as fine draft horses as I ever saw) are harnessed to a truck, with a man at the head of each horse; this is notably the case in London. I don't think there is any danger of our following their example in this respect for some time at least.

We are apt to get exercised here about the number of our saloons and the consumption of beer and liquor, but Chicago is a model city as compared with the large cities of England. I saw more poverty and drunkenness in twenty days in the Old World than I have seen in Chicago in as many years. For brutality and general repulsiveness the lower classes of the large cities of Great Britain exceed any thing I ever witnessed. I saw a woman trying to get her husband home from one of the gin-mills. His answer to her request was a brutal kick, and his shoes were ironed like a man-of-war; and this in daylight, while across the street the Salvation Army were singing hymns.

Mechanics have fair wages as a rule, and less work and shorter hours than in the States. Were they to work as hard as we do and as long hours they could do as well as our mechanics; but their manners and methods are clumsy, and their tools old-fashioned. They pay more attention to the way their fathers and grandfathers did their work than to their own ideas, or the ideas of others who are progressive. I do not mean to say this is the case in all kinds of business, but as a rule they have unbounded faith in the wisdom and ways of their progenitors.

They are far behind us in their Fire Department system. if system it can be called. The fire escapes, or hook and ladder trucks, in London, generally stand at the junction of three or four streets; where they keep the horses I did not learn, but I saw enough to convince me that they can learn from us in anything pertaining to an efficient Fire Department. Their fire-plugs are located on the sidewalk, and level with it, and on the adjoining wall are painted the letters "F. P."

Of the railway service I can say their roads are free from dust, and every precaution is taken for the safety of passengers. No one is allowed upon the tracks other than employes, and where public roads cross the track it is upon substantial bridges. Everywhere the roads are thoroughly fenced. Trains are run faster, the road-bed being graded with more precision. But what of their cars? They are simply barbarous. You are locked in a compartment about the size of two seats of a Madison street open car, facing one another; if third-class, they are, probably, dirty and cushionless. The ride from Liverpool to London takes about six hours; from London to Glasgow, eleven hours. During this long ride you have no opportunity to get as much as a drink of water; in fact, there are no conveniences of any sort such as are found in even our immigrant cars. There is great need of a Humane Society over there. But you may ask — How do they get along themselves with such a system? They get along first-rate. Every one of them goes loaded with eatables and drinkables, and your compartment smells like a ten-cent lunch car before you have reached the end of your journey!

BUILDING NEWS.

The new theater on the southwest corner of Halsted and Jackson streets is going rapidly forward. The excavating is finished and the foundation nearly complete. This building will be 60x125 feet, and will cost $65,000. H. C. Zuttermeister, who owns the adjoining lot, 40x125, intends building two stores, with flats above, to cost $15,000.

The new hotel being built by L. Z. Leiter on the southeast corner of State and Van Buren streets, is well under way.

A new building, 32x70 feet, two-story and basement, and to cost $10,000, at 329 Warren avenue, is under roof and will be completed by the 1st of October. It is owned by a Mr. Adcock, and Mr. Whately is the builder. The building has a plain brick front with stone trimmings, and has a hip roof with slate.

On the north side of West Madison street, midway between Leavitt street and Hoyne avenue, a block of six stores, three story and basement — stores below and flats above — to cost $35,000, is being built by A. S. Wood, of Watertown, N. Y. The block is to be 120x70 feet, and made of brick throughout. The excavating is just now finished, and the contract for the brickwork was let on Thursday.

THE
Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, SEPT. 1, 1883.

THE MARKET.

A drive around the outskirts of the city shows plainly a greater activity in building, as well as more sales, than is reported by agents who are confined in their operations to central property. Especially is this the case in the southwestern section of the city, as was learned by our reporter from the offices of H. C. Zuttermeister, No. 818, Prokup Hudek, No. 734½, and the Bohemian Real Estate Office, No. 741, South Halsted street. By the first named gentleman the following sales have been made this week: 24x100 feet, improved, at No. 19 Elizabeth street, for $2,850; lot 42, block 1, Brown's add, 25x145, for $550; lot 6, McKee's subblock 2, Brand's add, on West Twelfth street east of Jackson street.

BUILDING.

There is a decided increase in the number of building permits over last week—the number this week being seventy-three. McCoy's Hotel, on the corner of Clark and Van Buren streets, is progressing rapidly. Some of the owners of adjacent property are considerably exercised over the rumor that L. Z. Leiter is not going to build a hotel on the southeast corner of State and Van Buren streets, but is going to construct a temporary building, to be used as a cheap row of stores, one story high. Mr. Leiter is not trying to adorn the corner, nor enhance the value of other property in the immediate neighborhood. Temporary structures like this one will be, is no less than a nuisance and a disgrace to Chicago. A wealthy gentleman like Mr. Leiter, who has made a great deal of his money by the rise in real estate ought to be too magnanimous to inflict an eye-sore on so promising a portion of Chicago.

DESPLAINES CAMP GROUND.

A great many lots have been sold, and many new cottages will be built during the coming year. Mr. H. B. Otis will build a large and handsome cottage on the grounds. Many of the Swedes and Norwegians have taken lots, and the Swedes will build a new tabernacle. The association contemplates many improvements, among others the complete refurnishing of the hotel. When these improvements are completed, the Desplaines camp ground will be a still more pleasant place at which to spend a week or two of the summer.

IMPORTANT CITY SALES.

Robert D. Clarke sold to Alpheus E. Wilson 50x231 feet, two hundred feet south of Fiftieth street, east front, for $80,000, on August 29. Sidney A. Willard sold to Hiram Sibley, one hundred and twenty feet south of Water street, west front, 69x80 feet, with buildings, August 8, for $60,000. The week just closed shows an increase in the number of transfers over last week.

COUNTY TRANSFERS.

By referring to the Record columns our readers will see that a healthy business has been transacted in the towns of Lake and Hyde Park, one in the former for $39,000, and one in the latter for $25,000, dated August 24.

STREET CLEANING.

A gentleman who has just returned from Europe, where he has spent a month in looking at the streets and sewers in several of the large cities of Great Britain and Ireland, says their streets are perfectly clean all the year round, no dirt of any kind being allowed to accumulate upon the surface. A man in every block, with a shovel and brush, immediately gathers up everything deposited on the street that will cause dirt or filth, and places it in an iron box with a tightly-fitting lid. This, he says, is done in some of our eastern cities to some extent. The reason our streets in Chicago are so filthy is because the dirt and filth of weeks and months is allowed to accumulate and intermix, and be blown about into the windows and doors of the houses, and into the eyes and nostrils of pedestrians. The European plan is to prevent dust and mud by removing them as fast as deposited. In Chicago we wait till the streets are full of filth, and complain that the job is too big for the force of men employed. Politicians and loafers should be removed, and active and industrious men placed on the police force and in the shovel brigade.

CHELTENHAM BEACH.

A. B. Meeker has finished the erection of a house and barn, the premises being inclosed by a barb-wire fence. Considerable building is going on. The Illinois Central Railroad Company is about to erect a fine depot. After next Friday six trains daily will run to South Chicago. Two handsome two-story frame houses on Commercial avenue near the railroad track, have been finished lately. There is talk of petitioning the South Park Commissioners to build a lake shore drive from Jackson Park to South Chicago, the Commissioners to build it to Sixty-seventh street and the village the rest of the way.

EQUALIZATION OF TAXES.

The Committee on Equalization of Taxes submitted a report recommending that additions and deductions in real estate and personal property in several of the country towns be made. There were no changes in the assessments of the three divisions of the city. Certain property, which through error of the Assessors had been omitted from the assessment, was ordered assessed. The committee reported that they had no right to recommend any changes in individual assessments, except where it appeared injustice had been done by a clerical error, and they, therefore, recommended that all petitions for reductions be placed on file. The total equalized valuation of property, real and personal, in the county was reported at $138,659,866. The report of the committee was approved.

THE BROKERS' LICENSE.

A club composed of commission merchants, lumbermen and real estate brokers has been organized for the purpose of fighting the fifty-dollar license ordinance. Judge Drummond has been retained by the brokers to contest the matter in the courts. He will furnish three parties from among the members of the club, one a lumber dealer, one a produce merchant and one a real estate broker or agent, as each particular case involves different points of law. These cases will be commenced in a justice court, and if the decisions are against the brokers, an appeal will be taken and the case carried up to the supreme court. One of the claims made against the license is that it is too much, and should not be more than twenty-five dollars. It is a fact that a great number of the leading real estate men of Chicago are in favor of a still higher license than the one imposed, and have already paid the fifty dollars. The opponents of the law say that the class of brokers and dealers who are thus compelled to pay a license are classed among the saloon keepers and others who get their living by pandering to the vices of mankind. Many of the brokers included under the law or ordinance pay a heavy tax on real estate as well as a personal property tax. This looks like oppressing a well-to-do class unjustly. A business which requires no police protection and no jails nor asylums to contain its victims, should not be taxed to pay for the ruin wrought by whisky and gambling.

LAW MATTERS.

1. CONVEYANCE TO HUSBAND AND WIFE.—At the common law a conveyance to husband and wife, as such, made them tenants by entirety, and neither could dispose of the estate thus conveyed without the consent of the other; but upon the death of either, the survivor was the sole owner of it.

2. IDEM. Prior to June, 1863, if then, or even since, this common law rule was not changed or modified in Oregon.

3. LAW OF THE STATE. The common and statute law of the State as expounded by the settled decisions of its highest court, furnish the rules that govern the descent and alienation of real property therein, and the effect and construction to be given to conveyances thereof.

4. QUITCLAIM, OR DEED OF BARGAIN AND SALE.—A quitclaim or deed of bargain and sale by an occupant of the public land in Oregon, before he became a settler thereon, under the donation act, passed only the possession, and does not affect an after-acquired estate, in the same premises under the donation act or otherwise.

5. PURCHASE OF ADVERSE TITLE BY CO-TENANT.—In the case of a co-tenancy arising by descent, devise, or one conveyance, the purchase of an adverse title by one of the co-tenants will generally enure to the benefit of the other tenants, but in the case of a mere tenancy in common, this depends upon the circumstances of the case, as that the co-tenant used the co-tenancy or the title right of claim under which it exists or is claimed to exist to acquire such adverse title.

6. IDEM.—A purchase by a tenant for life, of an adverse title, will enure to the benefit of the remainder-man.—[U. S. Cir. Ct., District of Oregon.

Notes to Recent Decisions.

NEGLIGENCE—LIABILITY OF PROPRIETOR.

The defendants were the owners of a building erected on the limit of a street. A pipe connected with the eave-troughs, conducted the water which collected on the roof down the side of the building, and, by means of a spout projecting over the sidewalk, discharged it upon the sidewalk, and in winter this water was formed into a ridge of ice, upon which the plaintiff slipped and fell while walking on the street, and injured herself. The jury found that the defendants did not know of the accumulation of ice, and that they ought not reasonably to have known it. Held, per Hagerty, C. J., the carrying of the water to the sidewalk was a harmless act: the action of the weather was the proximate cause of the accident, and the defendants not having knowingly allowed ice to accumulate are not responsible. Per Armor, J., the conducting of the water to the sidewalk was a wrongful act, and the formation of ice on the sidewalk was the natural, certain, and well-known result of the defendant's act, and they were responsible for the accident. Skelton v. Thompson, High Court of Justice of Ontario.

EASEMENT.

A was the owner of two houses, one built entirely upon one lot, and the other upon the adjoining lot and upon five feet of the first lot; a brick partition wall was all that divided the two houses, each house serving as a support for the other. At the same time, by separate deeds, he conveyed one lot to D and the other lot to W, who conveyed them at different times to H and K. H owned the house that stood five feet over on K's lot. K took the roof from H's house to the extent it covered the strip of ground between the wall and the real division line, cut every other rafter supporting the roof, took up the floor of the second story over the strip, and made several openings in the wall for the purpose of making improvements to his own house, leaving H's house entirely exposed. Held, that H had an easement in so much of K's lot as was necessary for the support of H's house. K could not first create a necessity for light and air on the side of his house by changing the arrangement of his own house, and then make that a pretext to remove so much of H's house as rested upon K's lot. When the injury is irreparable, or permanent ruin to property will ensue from wrongful act, a court of equity will interfere by injunction to prevent the injury. Hewig v Koch, Ct. App. Ky., Am. L., Reg.

BURLINGTON & M. R. R. Co. v. SOHLUNTZ.

1. The owner of land taken for right of way by a railroad company, having resided upon and improved it for several years, who swears that he knows what it is worth, is a competent witness on the question of its value. So, too, are other persons who have resided for several years in the immediate neighborhood of the land, and who seem, upon examination, to be well informed of its situation, condition and value.

2. On the trial of a question of damages for an injury to growing crops, neither science nor unusual skill being involved, the witnesses should be confined in their testimony to a statement of the facts showing the injury, and should not be permitted to express opinions as to the amount of the damages or loss occasioned thereby.

3. An award of damages, under the statute, for right of way for a railroad, embraces only those damages which may reasonably be anticipated upon the assumption that the road will be built and operated with due care and skill, and with no unnecessary injury to property outside of the right of way.

4. An appeal from the award of commissioners takes to the district court only those matters covered by the award. It does not include wanton or negligent injuries done to growing crops outside of the right of way, during the construction of the road. [Supreme Court of Nebraska.

TITLE
Written Opinions of Title Furnished.
Imperfect Titles Perfected.

IN the course of an article on "Street Pavements" the Inter Ocean says: Chicago has wasted and is now wasting a good deal of money in putting down poor pavements. People are loud in their praise of this or that pavement, and then a year or two after a Chicago contractor has put it down they are disgusted to find that they knew so little about what they had commended disgusted to find the pavement they swore by a miserable failure. A little consideration, however, would show them that the defect was not so much in the kind of pavement as in the way it was put down. The Nicholson or cedar-block pavement would last twice as long if put down with care and in accordance with specifications. But the contractors are too greedy. They bid low to get the contract, and are compelled to cheat the city or lose money. In such an emergency the average contractor does not hesitate. He recognizes the obligations to his pocket-book with a promptness and decision that would be commendable were not his contract and the right of the people on the other side. But he asks nobody to commend his actions as long as he can keep solid with the municipal powers, and a common political belief makes official wondrous kind.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICACO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials enquire at or address us at our office, No. 86 WASHINGTON ST., CHICAGO, ILL.

Benjamin Franklin suggested the idea of uniting the American colonies into one great organization, out of which has developed the Republic of the United States of America. The question is: Can the results of this suggestion be comprehended by the people, and will they support it by their voices and their votes? Will they become united and stand together as one man, with one voice, in the future, upon this important subject? If so, then the rivers will be thoroughly improved, and no power of railroads or sections can prevent it. The plan thus inaugurated must be carried out boldly and fearlessly, and our Merchants' Exchange must feel that they have the support of the whole community in their grand efforts in this direction.—[Exchange.

THE WESTERN INDIANA BELT RAILWAY.

The long-talked-of Belt Railway around Chicago has at last become a fixed fact. It was predicted by owners of subdivisions and lots in the vicinity of the proposed line, that manufacturers would rush pell mell to locate their works on the road. The first occurrence of the kind was the purchase of eighty acres of land on the Belt road between Fifty-ninth and Sixty-third streets, by George D. Haworth, now doing an extensive business in Decatur, Illinois. As an inducement to Mr. Haworth to locate his works there, Mr. J. B. Brown sold him twenty acres of the eighty acres for $250 per acre, and the owners of the other sixty acres were paid $500. A portion of the buildings for new works will be erected this fall, the rest next spring.

SOME of the financial journals are looking for gold shipments hitherward early in October. It is pointed out that the commercial balance of trade in our favor last year was $126,000,000. It is also noted that while our exports promise to be as large as last year, our imports show a decided reduction. But there is some doubt about our importing gold. It certainly will not take place while the market rate of interest on the bourses of Europe is higher than it is in New York. Then, have not the English and Continental investors paid the debt by the sale of American securities during the past spring and summer? Like other investors, Englishmen sell on a falling market and buy only when prices are rising. If we should have gold imports, or even a hope that the yellow metal will reach our shores, it will entirely change the temper of Wall street, and the liquidation which has been in process for some time would be arrested. Indeed, temporarily, the current would be reversed. We are inclined to believe that some time this fall there will be a recovery in prices, and a better feeling in trade as well as in Wall street. —[Exchange.

IMPRESSIONS ABROAD.

NUMBER 2.

To the Editor of the Real Estate and Building Journal:

Leaving Liverpool for London, the traveler passes some eautiful pastoral scenery. Every foot of ground capable f cultivation is cultivated to perfection, and the tidy ouses of the farmers pleased me far more than the castelated mansions of the nobility—and their palaces are lenty in the Old World. An English landscape is peculiarly English—the trim hedges, the white-washed cottages f the farm laborer, and the general neatness of everything s quite in contrast to the primitive condition of our western country. When looking at an English farm scene in he month of July you will appreciate the fact that "God nade the country and man the town."

A traveler is supposed, in travelers' lingo, after viewing city, to have "done" it. I can not lay claim to having lone London, as I only spent three days there, and most of hat upon the upper decks of 'busses and tramway cars. To describe the government buildings, hospitals, monuments, gardens, and other places of interest visited, or even ttempt so to do, would take too much space. We of Chiago can take pattern by their clean streets and their nethod of keeping them so. The street cleaning proper s done at night, and during the day there is a man for bout every block, whose duty it is to gather up anything tropped on the street and deposit it in a square iron box placed at the curb; the cover of this box is hinged, and at he bottom a sliding door facilitates the removal of its contents. To us, who were accustomed to inhale the dirt of he streets in pulverized form with the air we breathed, the cleanly condition of the streets of London was a pleasant sight.

The prevailing pavement in all the large cities of England, I understand, is similar to that around our Post Office, and the sooner we recognize stone-block pavements as the inevitable in our city the better it will be for the purses and the health of our citizens. They take great pains in making a solid foundation for this pavement, so that when paved long and hard usage will not cause ruts and depressions. The preservation of the street is largely due to the width of tire used on their trucks and wagons. These are ponderous, clumsy and heavy, the tires being from four to five inches in width and nearly an inch in thickness. The sprinkling carts of London are simply immense. The tank is of heavy boiler iron, about 6x5x3 feet, riveted like a marine boiler, and the outfit is a heavy load of itself. In fact, everything on wheels is fearfully and wonderfully made.

The houses of parliament are splendid specimens of architecture, though perhaps too profusely ornamented. Crowns and scepters and other emblems of royalty are literally plastered all over it. As I stood looking at them, I remarked to a policeman that, If ever England became a republic there would be plenty of work for stone-cutters. 'Ow so? he asked. Chipping off those crowns, said I. I did not venture any further remarks of that nature, however. He gave me such a look that I concluded to move on, but as far as I could see him he had his eye on me.

ANDREW YOUNG.

THE suggestion of the idea to unite the whole power and influence of the Mississippi Valley upon the one important question of the improvement of the Western waterways, is fraught with more benefit to the country than any suggestion of an economic character ever made since the time

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, SEPT. 8, 1883.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

It no longer requires a prophetic vision to see a prosperous and active fall trade in all the industries of the West. Reliable crop reports, faithful harbingers of prosperity, show the yield of wheat at 15 to 18 bushels to the acre in Iowa and other states, while corn will yield 40 to 50, oats 50 to 60, and flax 10 to 12 bushels, and rye is good as far as sown. Potatoes are large, and the crop of hay is simply enormous. Taking the whole area together, the condition of the corn has advanced from 88 to 89 per cent of a perfect crop. The returns indicate a yield of not over twenty-five bushels per acre, or 1,700,000,000 bushels. The average condition of spring wheat for August is 97 per cent, the same as in 1882, but higher than for any previous August since 1877. In Wisconsin recent rains have injured the crop in the southern and southwestern counties. The prospect in Minnesota favors a crop of 13½ bushels per acre, notwithstanding bad weather in early spring and subsequent drought in northern counties. The acreage, except rye, is the largest ever known in the state of Iowa, and with the exception of slight damage done by frost, the prospect is equally good from the majority of the Western States. Heavy frosts have injured fruit in New Hampshire and Vermont, and to some extent further west. Agents and salesmen traveling for wholesale houses in Chicago, report a prosperous condition of the country in the northwest, and say that their sales have more than doubled in the last two weeks.

THE RECORD.

There has been a large increase in city and a slight decrease in suburban real estate transactions during the past week as compared with the preceding week. Although the amount of money involved does not greatly exceed last week's transactions, an accelerated activity is perceptible, portending well for the fall trade. Among the more noteworthy transfers are those of improved and unimproved properties on Blue Island, Prairie, Calumet and Michigan avenues and Washington boulevard, and on West Madison, Market, Polk, Halsted and Washington streets. A reference to our classified Record columns will reveal the names of the parties, the date, location and amount of money involved.

A comparison of the Record for the corresponding week last year shows an increase in both the amount and number of warranty deeds filed for record.

BUILDING.

We are obliged to note a decrease in the number of building permits issued—there being only fifty-four, a falling off of nineteen; still the number is greater than for the same date last year. In fact, building has been very extensive this summer, both in the city and suburbs.

Public opinion has undergone a change. Not a great while since a rage for flats prevailed, which is somewhat modified at present. While flats over stores are still much in favor, an increased demand for single house structures has resulted in their erection by the score. Many of these have been finished the past week and are already rented.

The Open Board of Trade has taken out a permit for the erection of an office building, 100x105, on Pacific avenue near Van Buren street, to cost $130.000. Also, two 4-story stores, with flats above, are to be built on Clybourn avenue. About the usual number of permits for additions, cottages, stores and flats have been granted, the falling off being in the more pretentious two and three story dwellings.

ENGLISH MARKET FOR LANDS.

The season for investments which is just closing for the annual exodus to the country, has been marked by a general dullness. Land companies have fairly held their own, in the estimation of the public, and several new ones have been formed and floated, the last being the Santa Fe Land Company, formed to purchase over four million acres of land in the province of Santa Fe, in the Argentine Republic, at about seventy-five cents per acre. Among the most successful land companies listed here are those dealing in lands in Australia and New Zealand for colonization and development. Most of these have paid from 10 to 15 per cent dividends.

The profits to be derived from the cattle business in the grazing regions of the United States has within the past two years attracted a large amount of capital, especially from Scotland. About twenty companies have been formed to take over ranches and cattle, and those which have been in existence over a year have nearly all declared handsome dividends. The early companies have profited by the rise in the price of stock cattle, while the present high price of cattle and the growing feeling that grazing rights without freehold title will afford in the future but a doubtful basis for a permanent rprise, stands in the way of floating le companies at present. A few large ts of land in Mexico have been nego- ed here, and could there be any guaran- for the continuance of the present liberal cy in that country, it would be a favorite l for English investors. The past history English companies there has been so avorable that it will take time to restore fidence in the security of government capital. Timber and coal and iron ls in the United States are believed to cheap, and a grand permanent invest- nt; but for the success of a joint stock npany there must not only be a good in- sic value in the subject matter, but it st be so readily available as to pay year er year fair dividends on the capital ck. Many of the timber, coal and iron tures in the United States made by Eng- investors have failed for the reason that ir resources were not immediately avail- e; the freights to market were too high; ne one factor necessary to cheap produc- n was lacking; or, possibly, the manage- nt was unable to deal with the new and ried conditions wisely and successfully. is class of investment is, therefore, not so pular here as it deserves to be.

There is a growing tendency on the part middle-class farmers to buy and settle in nerica. As the bearing of cheap trans- rtation upon the comparative values of nd here and in America becomes better preciated, this tendency will increase, and ny well-to-do farmers who now pay a arly rental of from $2.50 to $5 an acre ll see that it will be better for themselves d their children to buy outright land at e same price, located where freights to verpool even compare favorably with the ights they now pay from their English rms. The influence of cheap transporta- on from America is only beginning to be lt here; but it must ultimately go far to qualize the price of agricultural lands here nd in the United States. I should be glad some future letter to point out some of e mistakes that Americans make who bring operties to England for sale, but want of nce forbids anything now save the gene- lization that most schemes sent here lack e definiteness and thoroughness of descrip- on and certainty as to prospective results at suits the conservative mode of business England.—[E. LAW MATTERS.

MCCANN VS. PRUDENCE ATHERTON ET AL.—Deed in escrow. Where a person, long after the execution and delivery of a deed for land, makes a second conveyance of the same premises to another, who files a bill against the heirs of the prior grantee to have the first deed set aside, on the ground it was delivered on conditions which were never performed, and the bill is brought for the mutual benefit of the second grantee and the grantor, the latter is not a competent witness for the complainant against the heirs of the prior grantee, to prove the grounds on which the first deed is sought to be avoided.

Casual statements made by a grantee of land long after his deed has been recorded, concerning the transaction, to persons having no interest in the land, can not operate by way of estoppel to prevent the assertion of the truth thereafter by him, or by his heirs after his death.

Delivery of deed—Delivery to grantee as an escrow.—A deed or other sealed instrument can not be delivered to the grantee or obligee as an escrow, to take effect upon a condition not appearing on its face. In order to operate as an escrow the delivery must be made to a stranger, otherwise the deed or other instrument will become absolute at law.

Where a deed duly executed is found in the hands of the grantee, there is a strong implication that it has been delivered, and the only clear and convincing evidence can overcome the assumption.

Where a deed was duly executed and acknowledged in June, 1867, and recorded in a few days thereafter, on bill filed to annul and cancel the same, in 1882, all the parties having resided in the same county where the land is situated during the intervening time, the court will not set aside such deed except for the clearest and most satisfactory reasons. In such case casual statements made by the grantee to strangers to the title, and to persons having no interest in the land conveyed, are insufficient to warrant a decree annuling the deed. —[Supreme Court of Illinois.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT — EXEMPTION.—The opinion of the Supreme Court of Illinois, by Schofield, J., holding that the exemption from taxation does not exempt from special assessments; that the general language of the statute authorizing cities, etc., to make improvements by special assessments, includes the property of counties, cities, etc., as well as private property; that real estate of a county cannot be sold for a special assessment levied by a city for a public improvement, and the title passed to private parties or the city. In such case the amount should be paid out of the county treasury.

CONVEYANCE TO WIFE.—The opinion of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, by Sterrett, J., holding that in interpreting a conveyance by a husband to his wife, executed at a time when the former had no creditors, to question the bona fides of the transaction, the construction which courts place on conditional conveyances, especially when there is the slightest evidence that security was the object intended, does not prevail, but it is to be construed most strongly against the husband.

The Elevated Railways of New York.

Whatever may be said about monopoly, high fares, and watered stock, there is no local system of railways in the world that furnishes such admirable facilities for passenger transportation as the four lines of elevated roads in the city of New York. Since the trains commenced running on the two lines on the west side, nearly six years ago, the traffic has steadily increased, until in the earlier and later hours of the day it is equal to the capacity of the trains, which run at intervals as short as safety will permit. The number of passengers carried on all the lines, comprising 32 miles of road, during the half year ending March 31, was over 46,000,000, and the whole number for the current year will probably fall but little short of 100,000,000. There can be no stronger evidence than this of the nature of the service rendered by these roads, not only to the vast population of the city proper, but to immense throngs of people from the suburban towns on every side, who come and go every day, and at all hours of the day. The development of local passenger travel in the city within these few years has been tremendous. The time will never come when its rapid transit facilities will be less than they now are, at least not until some New Zealand artist shall perch himself on one of the crumbling piers of the Great Bridge to do a little sketching.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials enquire at or address us at our office, No. 86 WASHINGTON ST., CHICAGO, ILL.

IMPRESSIONS ABROAD.

NUMBER 3.

To the Editor of the Real Estate and Building Journal:

I can not attempt even a partial description of London and the sights to be seen in and about it. I visited the International Exhibition of Fisheries, at Kensington, and it was a most complete exhibit, every nation being represented, the United States making, I think, much the best display. Chicago was represented by E. Booth in a manner pleasing to Chicagoans. I next turned my attention to the exhibition of mechanics and arts, at Agricultural Hall, London, which is something like our own exposition. Here I saw some things which were new to me, namely, wrought iron fittings for gas pipe, and some steel pipe that would, I think, if not too expensive, make excellent soil-pipe. I was unable to get much information from exhibitors; they are not so loquacious as are our friends on the lake front.

But time is up with me, and now for Scotland—stern and wild; land of brown heath and shaggy wood, land of the mountain and the flood.

Glawgow is the Chicago of Great Britain. For miles down the river Clyde it is one vast shipyard, and everything of iron and steel; the ship-building industry affording employment to thousands. It happened to be the Fair Holidays during my stay, and the entire population appeared to be having a good time. The excursion boats and trains were crowded with pleasure seekers, the city people going to the country and the country people coming to the city. The saloons were doing a thriving business, and upon the return of the boats and trains many of the excursionists appeared to be slightly exhilirated. It may have been the country air, but there was also a powerful smell of old Scotch whisky.

MONUMENTS, BUILDINGS, POLISHED COLUMNS, PAVING.

Room 25, 174 LaSalle Street, Chicago.

GEORGE F. BODWELL, Western Manager.

There is music in the air of Glasgow during fair week. There are many points of interest in and about the city. The cathedral is very fine—grand is the word I should have used,—its stained-glass windows, its immense proportions, while under your feet is the dust of a long line of warriors famous in the history of Scotland. I attended services, and the rich tones of the organ reverberating through the massive building were more impressive to my mind than even the words of the preacher. Back of the cathedral is the necropolis—Glasgow's city of the dead. A fine monument to John Knox is one of the attractions in it. I visited the Glasgow University in company with one of the students. It has a beautiful situation, and the buildings are very fine. The library, pertaining to the different sciences, is, I am told, unequaled; and from what I saw, seemed complete. The botanic gardens, one of Glasgow's attractions, looked small to me in comparison with our park system in Chicago. But the visitor to Glasgow can find plenty to interest him. Their water supply is excellent—it being brought from Loch Katrine, some forty miles distant, and is undefiled by sewage. It must have an important bearing on the health of the city. The prosperity of Glasgow and Liverpool is due to the money expended on their docks. These have had an important bearing upon Glasgow's prosperity. I find that the city has expanded just in proportion to the miles of dockage built. Will we of Chicago take the lesson in time?

From Glasgow I ran down to Paisley and visited the works of Robert Brown & Sons, manufacturers of plumbers' earthenware. I was kindly shown through the establishment, and inspected the process of manufacture from the clay to the finished work. Messrs. Brown & Sons will have a line of their goods on exhibition at the rooms of the Chicago Master Plumbers' Association during the coming winter. They will prove an attraction in connection with our lecture course.

I could not but think, when I saw the almost total cessation of business for the two weeks called the Fair Holidays what our Chicago business men would think or do were it to become the fashion with us. An enlargement of the insane asylum would be necessary, I think. Over there holidays are plenty, and many of the trades work only nine hours per day and five hours on Saturday. I did not see the statistics, but my impression is that there are not many deaths from over-exertion in Great Britain.

The motto on the Glasgow coat-of-arms is: "Let Glasgow Flourish by the Preaching of the Word," but of late years, however, they have abbreviated it to, "Let Glasgow Flourish." Liberalism seems to be making progress in Scotland as well as in the United States. ANDREW YOUNG.

THE new storm threshold, known as Wood's Combined Door and Weather Stip, to prevent water beating under outside doors from storms, etc., is winning golden opinions from every one using it. For economy, utility and practicability, it is unrivaled. It saves carpets, buildings, temper, time, money, and makes the home a desirable place in all storms. Practical, economical and permanent, nothing to get out of order or be affected by any kind of weather. The nearest perfection for what it is intended of anything ever presented to the public. A well-seasoned door, grooved and painted on the bottom, can be closely fitted, no danger of binding or storm driving through, and prevents water getting onto sill of building. The price of strips is only about the price of a yard of carpet, and saves carpets the entire life of the building as well as for one storm. It is the cheapest threshold in use, outlasting many wooden ones, and not only the most desirable for dwellings of all kinds, but also for school houses, churches, colleges, seminaries, halls, hotels, banks, mills, factories, public buildings, stores and offices, and is absolutely the most practical and economical device known for railway passenger stations and section houses. We especially invite its inspection by carpenters and architects, who will please send for sample. When put down by our agents, or when properly put down by any one, the money will be cheerfully refunded in case of failure. Being held in place by screws, it can be easily removed. We keep japanned in stock, but will furnish galvanized, brass, nickel, silver-plated or painted in any color to order. The galvanized strip we think very desirable.

We invite correspondence with architects, carpenters, real estate men and others contemplating building.

As to the efficiency of this Strip, we refer to S. S. Beman, Esq., head architect, and D. Doty (formerly Sup't of Schools of Chicago), general manager of real estate, Pullman, Ill., where the Strip has been in use several months.

THE
Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, SEPT. 15, 1883.

THE MARKET.

The anticipated opening of a brisk fall trade has manifested itself through the marked increase in the number of deeds filed for record in the Recorder's office during the last week. The list of trust deeds and mortgages, including building loans and purchase money, exceeds in number and amount the business of any one week since the 23d of June last. There is also a marked increase in the number of inquirers for residence property, and a decided preference is given to cottages by those contemplating building. Lot sales in the suburbs of Chicago continue active. Consequent upon this, suburban business is good, and the attention of railway companies is thoroughly enlisted. As soon as the Belt Railway is completed every town in the county of any importance will have ample train service and transportation facilities. Business lots are held at premium prices, and the few that are yet vacant will be improved during the next year by present owners. Among the few pieces of business property now offered for sale are the following: 99x134 feet to the river, near the southwest corner of Jackson and Market streets, at $85,000, and 99x178 feet on the southwest corner of same streets, at $140,000. The owner is certainly asking enough for the property, but with the rapid expansion of the wholesale district in this direction the prices asked may be realized.

BUILDING.

The total number of building permits issued for the week ending September 13, is sixty-three, to cost $256,000. The total number of same for the corresponding week last year was fifty, with a total consideration of $480,900. A comparison of these figures shows that fewer large buildings for stores and business purposes are being erected at the present time, but that a greater number of houses for dwellings suited to the wants of the laboring classes are being constructed than at this season one year ago. This is in accordance with the well-established principle that business property always leads in the solid and permanent growth of any city, both in the appreciation of values as well as in improvements, commencing in the center and traveling to the limits like the circular waves produced by casting a stone into a pond of water, the undulations growing less as they recede from a common center.

SINCE our last issue orders have been received for the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, from Terre Haute, Ind.; Philadelphia, Pa., and Washington, D. C. In each case the letters were from men who are looking for profitable investment in real estate. THE JOURNAL assures them that they have pointed their telescope in the right direction.

MINNESOTA AND DAKOTA.

There is no part of our vast country that is growing more rapidly than this section. Land is cheap, and crops are generally sure and profitable. Minnesota and Dakota offer to young men who are willing to work, no harder than they do in an office, bank or store, inducements such as they cannot find in the east. The same amount of energy and labor spent in improving a piece of land would in a few years make him the owner of his own home, from which he is sure of a living, with no fear of losing the position by failure or being discharged, and having to commence anew.

Mr. Solomon Garland, of Desplaines, has recently returned from Red Lake Falls and Fergus Falls, Minnesota, where he spent several weeks during the summer looking after his farm and town property at the latter place. Mr. Garland says that the above-named cities have grown more rapidly in population and business than any other in the west with which he is acquainted. Fergus Falls is situated on Otter Tail river, and ranks next to Minneapolis in water power. At Red Lake Falls the rapids in the river are clearly discernible to the traveler. Red Lake Falls, in point of water power, is next to Fergus Falls. These cities are located in the very heart of the wheat growing country of the Northwest, and the city of Red Lake is conveniently situated to the lumber regions in Northern Minnesota, and will, no doubt, become an important manufacturing point both for flour and lumber. By the kindness of the gentleman above named THE JOURNAL will be able to give its readers a full and complete description of these two prosperous cities in its next issue.

REMOVAL.

The firm of Kenny & Hartigan, well known as real estate dealers on the West Side, has lately removed its office from the corner of Randolph and Desplaines to the northeast corner of Union and Madison streets. They now have an office more favorably situated than before, and the JOURNAL wishes them success in their new location. This firm has made sales and large loans for building on West Indiana street. A sale of recent date is that of No. 839 Indiana street—house and lot. They also have houses to rent, and can make loans in any amount.

REAL ESTATE SIGNS.

Inquiry has been made at the office of the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL from time to time for some firm who paint real estate signs. As these signs, at the beginning of the fall trade, will be in greater demand, we take pleasure in recommending a firm who have the facilities to do this work as cheaply and satisfactorily as can be done by any other party. We refer to Mr. James McDermott. If you need signs or require painting of any kind, call at his office, No. 133 Monroe street.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph street, Bryant Block, Chicago, Ill.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

NEW PROCESS OF HEATING.

A COMPLETE HOUSE.

The various pipes for gas, heating, and the delivery of all efuse from kitchens, sinks, water c'osets, etc., are matters of so much importance that they well deserve the attention hey have received. In reference to gas pipes, it is very mportant that they be closely fitting and made of the best naterial and with such burners as will not leak gas. Pipes which bring water into the house are also to be closely vatched; since, if, from any cause, the water in them is in-ermittent, these very pipes may become the conveyancers of foul air from water closets, sewage, or other pipes.

The residence of John H. Ohlerking, No. 292 Park ave-nue, is a model house in respect to these essentials. The building is a two-story and basement brick, 25x54 feet, and has cost the owner altogether about $11,000. The windows of the basement are all protected by iron guards. There is a passage-way and store-room for coal under the sidewalk leading from the hall in the basement to the street. The store-room under the pavement will contain twenty tons of coal, and is covered with large stone slabs similar to the material used for sidewalks on Washington boulevard. The house is heated by hot water pipes running from a tubular boiler in the basement—said boiler is capable of heating 450 gallons of water per hour. One of these pipes is used to con-vey hot water to every part of the house, and is called the supply pipe; the other is connected with the lower end of the boiler, and is called the return pipe, through which the water is taken back to the boiler to be heated again. The heating apparatus is a furnace and boiler combined. Coils of pipe, serving as radiators, each containing seventy to eighty feet, are placed in the halls and in every room in the house. The plumbing of the house is excellent, and is a per-fect piece of workmanship. All of the gas pipes are bronzed, the plumbing nickel-plated, and the sinks in the kitchen and dining-room are covered with Italian marble as well as the wash-bowls and stands in every room in the house where water is used. The walls are all painted or grained in the kitchen and dining-room, and the two upper floors are papered with gold-gilt paper, while the ceilings are fres-coed. Mr. Ohlerking, who for years has been engaged in the real estate and loan business in Chicago with office at 150 Dearborn street, says he intends that his home shall be the most attractive spot on earth to him and the mem-bers of his family.

VENTILATION.

The ground-air plays the part of an always ready inter-mediate agent, so far as concerns the molds. In this light it is easily seen why some houses sometimes have to suffer so badly from certain conditions of the soil, especially when they are badly ventilated. The movement of the air in a close house is a thousand times less active than when the circulation is free; and the air entering into the house suffers correspondingly less dilution than that passing into the free atmosphere, and leaves in it much more of what it brings up from the ground. While the house is heated during the cold season, and at night in the summer, while the air in-doors is warmer than the surrounding out-door air, the houses act as draught-flies, and suck air out from the ground as if they were cupping-glasses set over it. Experience has long taught us that it is most dangerous to sleep in such noted fever regions as the Pontine marshes. Many persons believe that the ground air is an object whose influence is still pre-eminently theoretical, and that its practical influence is exceedingly remote. It does not present itself in this light to the physician who has had to deal with it. As an instance of this the following descrip-tion was given of an outbreak of cholera near Dantzic: "Nine houses stood in a group in front of the manor-house of the estate, and were inhabited by the farm servants; seven of them had been rebuilt in timber, with brick fill-ings, and furnished with cellars which were perfectly dry; their ground floors were lined with deal and were dry, airy and kept clean. Two of the houses in the group had not been rebuilt; they were old mud huts, with low stories, without cellars; the rooms were not boarded up, but only plastered; and their condition on the whole seemed much more unfavorable than that of the others, while the manner of living of their inhabitants, in other respects was in no way different from that of their neighbors in the modern cottages. About one hundred and fifty persons lived in all the nine houses. A woman suffering from an attack of cholera was taken into one of the new houses; three days afterward the first cases of sickness appeared in the neigh-borhood of this house, and the disease quickly spread to all the houses except the two old huts. The inmates of these houses had the same intercourse with their fellow-dwellers on the premises as the latter with each other; yet, while seventeen persons (or 15 per cent of the whole number) in the seven new houses were prostrated, not a case of sick-ness occurred in the old huts. The exemption of the latter was attributed to their being isolated from the ground by means of their plastered floors. The change of the other cottages into modern dwellings, with exposed foundations, was hygienically a reformation for the worse." From which it would appear that not only the air that comes into our houses through cracks in the casement pores in the walls, through the cold air box by way of the furnace, and from the sewers and cess-pools by way of plumbing pipes is to be taken into account in our schemes of ventilation, but also the slow expirations from the earth itself rising through the ground on which the houses stand.—[Exchange.

BUILDING IN NEW YORK.

The New York Mail says it is probable that the number of buildings in that city at the end of this year will be 100,000. The number erected last year was 2,561, and the indications are that a larger number will be put up this year. The amount expended in this way in 1882 was nearly $45,000,000, and it is thought this year it will be $70,000,-000. The value of real estate is higher than ever before. A lot at the corner of Broad street and Exchange Place was recently sold at the rate of $15,000,000 per acre. The best land on Broadway is worth $2,000,000 an acre.

THE
Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, SEPT. 22, 1883.

THE MARKET.

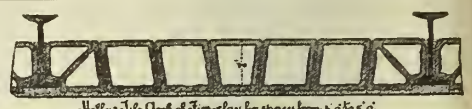
The condition of trade in real estate has not materially changed since last Saturday. A reference to the columns of deeds and mortgages will show that instruments are filed for record within a week of the date of the transactions, except in a very few cases. The demand is increasing for homes, as is evidenced by the many trust deeds and mortgages which describe notes for weekly and monthly payments. The number of transfers have increased fully 100 per cent since the 1st of September. The real estate trade of Cook county was never on a better basis, although there is no excitement or speculation. The number of recorded sales for the week ending Thursday evening is 277, and the whole number of trust deeds and mortgages, including purchase money and building loans, is 276. The total consideration of the former is $988,139; and of the latter, $571,605. The bulk of all transactions is for small amounts, and but for the apprehension over a crop failure on account of early frosts, investment and trading would have been more active. There is, however, an abundance of capital on hand for investment in central business property, but it is claimed by buyers that it cannot be had at a reasonable figure. THE JOURNAL last week mentioned two of these pieces of property in the wholesale district, at the corner of Jackson and Market streets, as being too high priced. The owner and his agent evidently believe that Chicago will double in size in a few years, and they want all the rise in the property for the next generation. This is asking from $900 to $1500 a foot for property that could have been bought for $400 or $500 three or four years ago. Within this time, however, some of the property in the same locality, but more favorably situated, has risen in value more than 100 per cent. It will not be long till the demand for more room in which to carry on Chicago's wholesale business will compel buyers to go across the river on Canal, Van Buren, Jackson, Monroe and Adams streets. All the freight depots for west-bound shipments are located upon the West Side, except the Rock Island. The in freight from the Atlantic seaboard destined for Kansas City, St. Joe, Council Bluffs, Minneapolis and other western points, must be transferred by eastern roads, and THE JOURNAL can find no good reason for confining wholesaling to the South Side. The growth of the city, in spite of bad management, is apparent to every one.

Law Pertaining to Chattel Mortgages.

The New York Court of Appeals in Brackett vs. Harvey, a case recently decided, held, that a chattel mortgage of a stock in trade which leaves the mortgagor at liberty to sell is not necessarily void, if the right to sell is conditioned upon the application of the proceeds to the mortgage debt. Neither would a stipulation that the mortgagor might sell upon credit, taking good paper at sixty and ninety days, render the mortgage void, if it be accompanied by an agreement on the part of the mortgagee to receive such paper and apply it on the mortgage debt. The principle of the decision, as stated by the court, is, that such an arrangement "does no more than to substitute the mortgagor as the agent of the mortgagee, to do exactly what the latter had a right to do, and what it was his privilege and duty to accomplish."

Whether, in the absence of any statutory provision permitting such an arrangement, this is the correct rule in construing chattel mortgages, we will not now discuss, but simply say that the contrary rule is the one applied in this state. It has been frequently held here that chattel mortgages of goods allowing the mortgagor to retain possession and sell in the usual course of trade are fraudulent and void. As early as the case of Davis vs. Ransom, 18 Ill. 396, such a mortgage was declared void, and this rule has been followed in later cases. See Barnet vs. Fergus, 51 Ill. 352.

SURVEYING DAKOTA.



All Dakota surveys, with a few exceptions, are reckoned north from a base line running through the middle of Arkansas, from which also reckoning was made in the surveying of Iowa, Missouri, Minnesota, and adjacent states. Reckoning is made west from the fifth principal meridian (with but a few exceptions), which starts from near the mouth of the White river, in Arkansas, and runs north about along the line of the Mississippi river. This is a standard reckoning meridian in most of the surveys taken in the region west of it, until the western boundary of Dakota is reached, where another reckoning line has recently been decided upon for surveys in Montana. It was not necessary to reckon from these particular lines, but they were simply chosen by the authorities at the time. Gen. Fessenden stated that it would really have been better to have chosen a nearer line, but that the first surveying having been done by Iowa the line they used naturally became adopted when the work was taken up by the Dakota department.

C. W. EASTON.

Many of our subscribers who reside on the West Side and keep a horse and buggy or carriage, will find it to their interest to call upon Mr. C. W. Easton, manufacturer of harness and dealer in horse goods, at No. 857 West Lake street. He has been in the business over twenty years, and fifteen years of this time in Chicago. Mr. Easton is a practical man, and is supplied with a full and complete stock of harness, horse clothing, whips, curry combs, brushes, the improved bits for vicious horses, and every device and convenience used by horsemen is on hand. Especial attention is given to repairing, and for the convenience of customers he keeps open his shop and store every evening until 9 o'clock, so that harness can be repaired at night and be ready for use in the morning. Cheap goods and harness made in the Bridewell are not sold by the above business house. Give Mr. Easton a trial and you will go nowhere else.

REMOVAL.

The well-known jewelry house of A. M. Church, dealer in fine watches, jewelry, diamonds and solid silver and plated ware, has removed from the old store at No. 103 Randolph street to No. 105 State street, where he has opened and fitted up a magnificent store with a fine display of the goods above mentioned. This is probably the best location in the city for such a business, being convenient for his West Side customers, as well as his numerous patrons on the South Side. The reputation of the house is the very best. Mr. Church has gained much of his popularity in the city by the excellence of his workmanship, and he now desires it made known to his friends and the public that he will continue to give special attention to repairing fine watches and chronometers. Remember the new store, No. 105 State street.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph street, Bryant Block, Chicago, Ill.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

ARCHITECTURAL COMPETITION.

The general history of architectural competitions in America has been to the profession and the public a record of humiliation, mortification and pecuniary loss. Little else could be expected of a custom founded on the absurd supposition that a building committee, board of trustees, or an individual client, can secure the best design, construction and administration of a building by the employment of the architect whose name is appended to certain sketches which are most admired by variously constituted and more or less qualified judges. Practices to which the members of no other profession would stoop come to be encouraged and justified as necessities, and serious work gives way to feverish speculation. All the evils which hamper the efforts of the regular architect cluster about, or originate in competitions. The want of honorable consideration and respect in some communities; the often futile efforts to obtain fair and equitable compensation for painstaking labor; the low standard of acquirement arising from the prominence given to the chance element in practice; and the growing impression that hard work is not so essential to success as influence combined with tricky design and superficial draughtsmanship. That occasionally a good building is the result of a competition is nothing to the question.

It has been wrongly claimed that the interests of the junior members of the profession are served by competitions. This, like many other things that hamper us, is an imported mistake. In a community where only the aid of the sign painter is requisite to constitute an architect, where every village newspaper gladly chronicles the most crude and imperfect development of local talent, and where technical education is within easy reach of all, there is little danger that future Wrens and Le-Ducs will "be born to blush unseen, and waste their sweetness" at the carpenter's bench. There is room in America to-day for all the skilled architects that our schools and offices can furnish, and the demand is steadily increasing. If we do not occupy the field with trained men the engineers and builders will do as best they may, and we can have but ourselves to blame for it.

The teachings of public competitions have encouraged the common fallacy, which has even found believers in our courts of justice, that architects are solely draughtsmen, and that drawings are their only products on which a value can be placed. Following this has naturally come the client's claim to the drawings as the only tangible results of service. The charm of design, the cleverness and method of plan, the skill and science of construction, the thousand items of excellence, the result of thought, study and experience, and more than all the slow mastery of the combination of all these, the expensive accumulation of years of arduous toil, become as nothing opposed to the clever picture that has caught the unreasoning popular fancy. If the result is conspicuous failure the obvious lesson than an architect should be judged by what he builds seems to make but little impression on the sufferers.—[Boston Architect and Building News.

THE LUMBER FIELDS.

The present size and swift growth of the lumber industry of Michigan, says a local correspondent, as shown by statistics, are almost startling. Twenty years ago a few hundred millions feet of lumber were cut in the state; now the annual product is one quarter that of the whole country, and reaches more than four billion feet. Cut into boards twelve inches wide and one inch thick the yearly product would reach 800,000 miles, and would suffice for a double-boarded fence, with posts, sixteen times around the earth. It would build houses for a city of 100,000 inhabitants, and would each year load some 2,500 miles of railroad cars. Those who were far-sighted enough to buy Michigan lumber lands a quarter-century ago at a little more than the government price of $1.55 per acre, have already made colossal fortunes out of tracts which sell readily now at from $15 to $30 an acre. Nevertheless, the business has its ups and downs, and is particularly down when a great forest fire sweeps over a lumber region. In that event, unless the trees are cut within a year, a worm penetrates the timber, spoiling it in a few months. One of the curious facts in this connection is the almost immediate appearance in millions of the moth that produces the worm on a burned tract of perhaps 10,000 acres, where before not a moth of the species was visible.

Equally surprising is the circumstance that after the pine has been cut away on an immense tract there spring up all over it poplar trees, where before not a sign of the poplar could be seen—the seeds of the new growth, no doubt, wafted invisibly from a distance through the air and finding fertile lodgment in the uncovered soil. The value of the lumber, when marketed, may be judged from the fact that an ordinary pine makes some 2,000 feet of cut boards, worth at the mills, say $40; while the biggest pines produce 5,000 feet, worth $100. As showing the size to which the white pine sometimes attains, the lumbermen here tell of a sound tree in northern Michigan, eleven feet in diameter at the ground. The owner of this splendid shaft has already refused $100 for sixteen linear feet of the butt, which was sought for exhibition. But, unhappily, all these evidences of Michigan's vast wealth in lumber are only the signals of the end. Some ten years more, at the present rate of denudation, will exhaust the grand pine forests of the state, and unless the cutting of harder woods, cedar, maple and elm, succeeds, large amounts of invested capital must seek new fields.

THE PUBLIC LANDS.

The amount of government land turned over to the hands of private individuals has increased more than 3,000,000 acres annually during the past two years, and the total for the twelve months ending with June, 1883, is 17,914,969 acres. Deducting that amount from the public domain, and we have, in round numbers, 951,000,000 acres as the area of Uncle Sam's tillable land, about 300,000,000 acres of the public domain being worthless. But as the census of 1880 showed that the total area of the farms of the United States was only 536,081,835 acres, it appears there is yet more good land in the republic that has never been touched by a plow than there is under cultivation. These statistics may reassure persons who fear that it will soon be no longer true that "Uncle Sam is rich enough to give us all a farm." However, it is time to stop the sale of public land in large blocks. The whole of that which remains should be reserved for actual settlers.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, SEPT. 29, 1883.

THE MARKET.

A compilation of deeds filed at the Recorder's office during the past week plainly shows that buyers have had their attention temporarily drawn to something else. The cheap railroad fares on the lines running from Chicago to Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Louisville and other points, has induced a great many of our citizens to visit those cities and the sections of country tributary to them. New York papers, and exchanges from all parts of the South, are using every argument to induce capital and labor to go to the Southern States. A Chicago man would soon get tired of the slowness of business men in Cincinnati and Louisville.

The State Fair now going on here is receiving the patronage of Chicago's citizens, which it justly deserves. Over 20,000 people were seen on the grounds at one time on Thursday, and the attendance was large the day previous as well as on the day following. Farmers with their families from all parts of the state have come to Chicago to attend the fair and take a look at the city. The exposition is also being visited by thousands of country people. Hotels and boarding-houses are taxed to their utmost capacity to accommodate them. These things, as above mentioned, no doubt, have served to divert the attention of resident capital from real estate investment, and visitors who may have come into the city to buy property have fallen in with the crowds and gone to the fair.

The only item of news in real estate circles is that Homer Pennock, of New York, is negotiating a purchase of 1,000 acres of land lying in the vicinity of Jefferson, for the purpose of erecting a number of manufacturing establishments. Among the important establishments to be erected is that of the Miltimore Elastic Steel Car-wheel Company. The cost of the property will aggregate nearly $1,000,000. A portion of the desired property has already been purchased, and it is said the final purchases will soon be consummated. It is said the enterprises will give employment to over two thousand men. Mr. Pennock is the owner of the Detroit car-wheel works.

Besides a slight falling off in transfers, the sales that were consummated were for cheap properties, and fully one half of them in the suburbs. The list of trust deeds and mortgages, as published in THE JOURNAL, shows an increase, if anything, in the number of loans. The rate of interest charged varies from 5 per cent to 8 per cent, but the prevailing rate is 6 per cent. The fact that the majority of these trust deeds and mortgages are given for purchase money is about all the encouragement to be drawn from the long list. The people are buying homes, and are going in debt for them.

BUILDING NEWS.

The number of building permits issued during the past week is considerably less than for the previous weeks in September. The only new building worthy of note is the store and warehouse of H. Sibley, at the Clark street bridge, on the north side of the river. The parties concerned are averse to having anything said about the work.

RED LAKE FALLS.

Two weeks ago THE JOURNAL contained a partial description of Fergus Falls and Red Lake Falls, Minn. The latter is situated at the junction of Red Lake and Clear Water Rivers, in Polk County, Minn., 22 miles east of Crookston, and 40 miles east of Grand Forks, D. T. On these streams, it is said, are the only water powers within an area of 300 square miles, with an immense wheat producing region tributary to this point. The town is situated on a plateau, heavily timbered, and flanked on both sides with nine first-class water powers. These powers are easily and cheaply utilized, even without dams, and have a fall of 12 to 25 feet. The average minimum flow of water in the river is equal to 500 cubic feet, with a fall of one foot in fifty. Clear Water River has about one-fifth of the above amount. The average variation between high and low water is five feet on both Red Lake and Clear Water Rivers. Red Lake is the source of Red Lake River, and is surrounded by a forest of pine, estimated to contain 2,000,000,000 feet of lumber. Hardwood timber also surrounds the town site, and is tributary to these water powers, and can be used for the manufacture of furniture, agricultural implements, paper pulp, etc. A fine wheat growing country surrounds this point, and is well settled up. The Duluth & Winnipeg Railroad touches at Red Lake and extends to the Red River, by which route the distance from the center of the Dakota wheat belt to Duluth, via Red Lake Falls, is 125 miles shorter. Hence there will be a difference in favor of the miller on these powers against monopolies of at least 5 cents per bushel on wheat and 20 cents per bushel on flour, from Minneapolis to Duluth. The location has a large quantity of lime and building stone easily obtainable. It is claimed, however, that the country so highly flattered has its drawbacks and disadvantages, of which we will speak hereafter.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph street, Bryant Block, Chicago, Ill.

IMPRESSIONS ABROAD.

NUMBER 4.

FROM GLASGOW TO STIRLING.

To the Editor of the Real Estate and Building Journal:

I took the train from Glasgow to Balloch, which affords one a fine view of Dumbarton Castle, at the mouth of the River Clyde. The castle stands like a grim sentry watching over Glasgow's welfare. From Balloch I went by steamer through Loch Lomond, with its thousand beauties, landing at Inversnaid; then by coach to Stronaclachar, and steamer on Loch Katrine to the Frossachs—"Where the rude Frossachs' dread defile opens on Katrine's lake and isle." The traveler will, on this trip, if he admires the beautiful and grand in nature, be amply repaid for his time and trouble. No grander scenery can be found, and every foot of ground is historical. The poet must have stood here when he wrote: "Breathes there a man with soul so dead who never to himself hath said, 'This is my own, my native land?'" But to describe the beauties of the Frossachs is far beyond my feeble pen. Its rugged mountains and overhanging rocks; its copses of rowen, hawthorn, oak and birch; its ferns, and all these inextricably blended and mingled one with the other form a scene of grandeur and beauty unsurpassed. The associations of the place are suited to its natural character. This was the land of the MacGregor, and the scene of many of the daring exploits of their chief, Rob Roy. Not a fastness or glen but has its traditions of those days of strife and wrong—when the sole law in the Highlands was the law of might, that they should take who have the power and they should keep who can. There is a fine hotel on the Collender side of the Frossachs. As I had made the journey from the lake on foot, I stopped to buy something to eat. I had them put up four sandwiches, for which they charged me three shillings—seventy-five cents. I asked him if Rob Roy kept the hotel. He said, "No." Then said I, "A descendant, I suppose." I have heard that a joke had to be hammered into a Scotchman's head, but I don't believe it, for he turned the tables on me by remarking: "You are an American." "How do you know I am an American?' "O, only for you Americans we could not make a living here."

I walked to Collender—a pretty Scotch village—where I took the train for Stirling. The country around is beautiful beyond comparison. Of Stirling and all its attractions I can only say they are interesting beyond description. The more I see of Scotland the greater my admiration for its history, its beauties, its romance, its sturdy sons and bonnie lassies. From Stirling I went to Edinburgh, and I do not think a handsomer city exists. St. Giles Kirk, of Jenny Geddes fame, John Knox's house, Holyrood Palace, Scott's monument, and many public buildings will interest the traveler from America. I spent an afternoon at the castle, viewing the relics of olden times. The view of the city from the castle is magnificent. When I saw the care and reverence of the people for their ruins and relics my mind reverted to the sale of old Fort Dearborn for firewood in this practical of practical city of cities. The original cross would excite no reverence from the Chicago man unless it had a money value.

So far I have said nothing about their plumbing and sewerage, and will reserve that for a future letter.

ANDREW YOUNG.

BUILDING ITEMS.

H. D. Deam, architect, 94 Washington street, has well under way nine houses for the Presbyterian Theological Seminary. These houses are located on Dunning street between Lincoln and Sheffield avenues, and are to cost about $2,300 apiece. He has also plans for two stores with flats above, 55x60, with pressed brick front, located on Twenty-first street and Wentworth avenue.

NEW PROCESS OF HEATING.

A COMPLETE HOUSE.

The various pipes for gas, heating, and the delivery of all refuse from kitchens, sinks, water closets, etc., are matters of so much importance that they well deserve the attention they have received. In reference to gas pipes, it is very important that they be closely fitting and made of the best material and with such burners as will not leak gas. Pipes which bring water into the house are also to be closely watched; since, if, from any cause, the water in them is intermittent, these very pipes may become the conveyancers of foul air from water closets, sewage, or other pipes.

The residence of John H. Ohlerking, No. 292 Park avenue, is a model house in respect to these essentials. The building is a two-story and basement brick, 25x54 feet, and has cost the owner altogether about $11,000. The windows of the basement are all protected by iron guards. There is a passage-way and store-room for coal under the sidewalk leading from the hall in the basement to the street. The store-room under the pavement will contain twenty tons of coal, and is covered with large stone slabs similar to the material used for sidewalks on Washington boulevard. The house is heated by hot water pipes running from a tubular boiler in the basement—said boiler is capable of heating 450 gallons of water per hour. One of these pipes is used to convey hot water to every part of the house, and is called the supply pipe; the other is connected with the lower end of the boiler, and is called the return pipe, through which the water is taken back to the boiler to be heated again. The heating apparatus is a furnace and boiler combined. Coils of pipe, serving as radiators, each containing seventy to eighty feet, are placed in the halls and in every room in the house. The plumbing of the house is excellent, and is a perfect piece of workmanship. All of the gas pipes are bronzed, the plumbing nickel-plated, and the sinks in the kitchen and dining-room are covered with Italian marble as well as the wash-bowls and stands in every room in the house where water is used. The walls are all painted or grained in the kitchen and dining-room, and the two upper floors are papered with gold-gilt paper, while the ceilings are frescoed. Mr. Ohlerking, who for years has been engaged in the real estate and loan business in Chicago with office at 150 Dearborn street, says he intends that his home shall be the most attractive spot on earth to him and the members of his family.

THE
Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, OCT. 6, 1883.

THE MARKET.

Owing somewhat to the continued cold weather and the prospect of an early and severe winter, the market has remained in statu quo, no very extensive deals being reported during the week. The number of deeds filed for record show a slight increase over last week, and, excepting the transactions of Homer Pennock and E. J. Lehman, their general character is also about the same. Agents report business as ordinary, no particular "spurt" having given an impetus to the market this fall. A few transactions in acre property have been reported, but not of such dimensions as to compel especial mention; nevertheless, the week's record is more favorable this year than last, notably in the matter of building. The corresponding week of last year shows but thirty-five licenses to build, with an equal number of transfers of real estate, while this week eighty were issued. This is incontrovertible evidence of the prosperity of Chicago's citizens, and of its accelerated rate of increase.

BUILDING.

The number of building permits issued during the week is eighty, an extraordinary increase over the preceding week. This may in part be accounted for: the State Fair holiday on Thursday, when the office of the Commissioner of Buildings was closed, and the general participation by the public in that noteworthy event, no doubt caused many to postpone building for a few days. The amount of money to be invested aggregates $279,800. It is feared that early and severe frosts may interfere in some measure with building operations, and henceforth cause a decline in this branch of business.

NOTABLE TRANSACTIONS.

Homer Pennock, through his agents, continues to buy real estate in the neighborhood of Garfield. In a very short time Chicago will have another suburb, which is to be known by the name of its founder—Pennock.

Property in the vicinity of Third avenue is still being bought by the Chicago & Western Indiana Railroad Company, the latest transfer being 50x202 feet on Third avenue, for a consideration of $25,000.

A lot on the east side of Seeley avenue, 121.7x125 feet, sold for $11,500. The Little Sisters of the Poor purchased 290x264 feet on Sheffield and Fullerton avenues, for $18,000. B. and L. Bloom transferred 150x174 feet on Michigan avenue and Thirty-third street, for $22,500. Ten acres near Belmont avenue and Robey street sold for $17,000. Improved property on Third avenue north of Polk street was bought by Andrew Crawford for $15,000. On the southeast corner of Grove and Eighteenth streets, a lot sold for $13,000. The Catholic Bishop of Chicago bought of Maggie A. Kirk, a lot 50x132 feet on State street near Schiller street for the sum of $12,000. A. McIntosh sold 25x181½ feet on Wabash av, improved, for $15,000.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

WIDOW'S DOWER.—The widow is entitled to one third of the personal property absolutely, and may dispose of it by will, or do whatever she pleases with it. The other two thirds go to the children, share and share alike, without distinction between married and single. The real estate goes in the same way, except that the widow has a life interest only in one third, and of course has no interest which she can dispose of by will, or which survives her. If she dies intestate her personal property goes in equal parts to the children. If the interest in a company owning a farm, etc., is that of a tenant in common, it will be reckoned and divided as real estate, but if the interest is represented by stock in the company, then it will count as personal property.

A division of the personal property may be made if it can be agreed on, by the simple process of putting each one in possession of his or her share. If the real estate has to be sold in order to make the division complete, this can be done by all joining in the deed.

If the intestate leaves neither children nor descendants of any, the widow takes half of the personal estate absolutely, and a life interest in one half of the real. The intestate's father, if living, will take the rest of the estate. If not, and the mother is living, the latter will share it equally with the brothers and sisters.

REMOVAL.

Dobson & Foster have lately moved their office to room 27, Nixon building, corner La Salle and Monroe streets. Col. Foster and Mr. Dobson rank among Chicago's oldest surveyors; the latter being the publisher of many maps, which are in constant demand. Surveys made by them can be relied upon.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph street, Bryant Block, Chicago, Ill.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

VENTILATION.

HOW TO AVOID GROUND AIR.

A practical Chicago plumber and sewer builder says: "We can get rid of ground air and dampness in houses built with a basement or cellar by digging a ditch, about one foot in width, around the entire building, within three or four feet of the foundation, and between the ditch and the walls a bed or layer of concrete in the shape of an inclined plane so as to carry the water away from the foundation to the ditch. A water-shed is thus constructed under the surface of the ground."

It is true enough that our ancestors did not suffer as we do from what we call zymotic diseases, but we must remember that they practised, from necessity, and unconsciously, certain hygienic principles which were abandoned when plumbing began to be generally introduced into houses, and have just been rediscovered, to the annoyance of those who are indisposed to exert their brains in following the development of a new art, but to the signal advantage of mankind in general. We all can testify that our great-grandfathers and grandmothers lived to a good old age in houses whose appliances for drainage consisted of a sanitary shanty in the back yard, and a wooden spout from the kitchen-sink, extending through the wall, with its outfall decently concealed by a group of luxuriant currant bushes; but we do not realize as we might that the main effort of modern sanitary science is, so far as is compatible with our luxurious habits, to restore the relations of our living-rooms with the appliances for the discharge of waste matters to their primitive condition; disconnecting the bedrooms from the offal heap by an abundant current of pure air, instead of laying the pipes to conduct the fumes back under the noses of sick children, as the bad plumbers do.

Practically, our houses differ from those of fifty or twenty years ago in being more complicated, but it would be strange if that were a reason for not trying to understand the modern ways. Every architect worthy of the name has now every other detail of the construction of an ordinary house at his finger's end, and habitually plans his rooms, arranges his doors and windows, distributes his closets, and designs his stairs and partitions, with constant reference to the course of gas-pipes, furnace-pipes, or hot-water tubes, the requirements of fireplaces and flues, and the movement of elevator balance-weights or other machinery; and that any one should think himself justified in leaving the administration of a portion of the work far more important in relation to the health and happiness of the occupants of the house than the ventilating flues, or the heating apparatus, or the arrangement of the butler's pantry, to the care of a plumber or a sanitary engineer certainly seems to the mind of the ordinary client discreditable as well as impolitic. He expects, and with reason, to find in his architect a man as familiar with all the anatomy and pathology of the dwelling-house and its diseases as the physician is with the human body in sickness and health, and the family doctor who should proclaim his entire ignorance of the nature and functions of the bowels, on the ground that the ancients did not appear to have them, and that he thought they were a humbug, anyway, would have about the same prospect of increasing his practice among intelligent people as the architect who chooses to remain in similar ignorance of the digestive apparatus and operations of the modern dwelling-house.

THE TIMBER CULTURE ACT.

Under the timber culture act 160 acres may taken. This act is liberal in its provisions, but a strict compliance with the letter and spirit of its terms will be required on the part of claimants thereunder. One hundred and sixty acres is the maximum entry, and when this quantity is taken at least five acres must be plowed within one year from date of entry. The following or second year said five acres must be actually cultivated to crop and a second five acres plowed. The third year the first five acres must be planted in timber, seeds or cuttings, and the second five acres actually cultivated to crops. The fourth year the second five acres must be planted in timber, seeds or cuttings, making at the end of the fourth year ten acres thus planted. Perfect good faith must be shown at all times by claimants. The timber must not only be planted, but it must each year be protected and cultivated in such a manner as to promote its growth. A patent may be obtained for the land at the expiration of eight years from date of entry, upon showing that for eight years the trees have been planted, protected and cultivated as aforesaid, and that not less than 2,700 trees were planted on each acre, and at the time of taking proof there shall be then growing 675 living thrifty trees to each acre. If at any time during the said eight years it shall be shown that the party has failed to comply with the terms of the law, the entry will be canceled. Under this law good faith will require that if the trees, seeds or cuttings are by any means destroyed one year, they must be replanted the next. A party will not be released from a continued attempt to promote the actual growth of timber or forest trees; a failure in this respect will subject the entry to cancellation. Only the planting of such trees, seeds or cuttings as are properly denominated timber trees, or which are recognized as forest trees, will be considered a compliance with the law. Cottonwood is recognized as timber under the act. "All entries for less than one quarter section shall be plowed, planted, cultivated and planted to trees, tree seeds or cuttings, in the same manner and in the proportion hereinbefore provided for" in the 160-acre entry. The land-office fee for an entry of more than eighty acres is $14; for one of eighty acres or less, $9.

The law provides that in case the trees, seeds or cuttings shall be destroyed by grasshoppers or by extreme and unusual drouth, for any year or term of years, the time for planting such trees, seeds or cuttings shall be extended one year for every such year that they are so destroyed.

CHICAGO DRIVING PARK.

In addition to the regular purses, the Chicago Driving Park will to-day, Saturday, October 13, offer to its patrons the most interesting race ever trotted in the United States. J. I. Case enters his black gelding Jay-I-See, record 2.10¾; and A. O. Hickok enters his black gelding St. Julien, record 2.11¼. Mile heats, best three in five, to harness. This will be the best meeting of the year. Headquarters and official pools at the Palmer House. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad will run their trains from the Union Depot on Canal street to the track gates. Madison street horse cars to the gates. Trotting commences promptly at 2 o'clock p m. Admission $1, including grand stand. For further information address D. L. Hall, Secretary, 116 Monroe street, Chicago.

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

The question is often asked, How does the price of New York realty compare with the best business property in Chicago? The old Post Office site in New York, upon which is now being erected the Mutual Union building, cost $32.50 per square foot, and other property in the vicinity much less eligible brought higher prices. In May, 1882, the building No. 150 Broadway sold at the rate of $115 per square foot, while the best London (England) property cost less than $63 per square foot.

The following table, for which we are indebted to the New York Record and Guide, will enable our readers to compare locations and prices of realty in New York with property in Chicago. The first table shows arbitrary figures and actual sales; the second gives average prices or values:

Location.	Date Sold.	No. of sq. feet.	Price per sq. foot.
Southwest corner Wall and Broad streets	April, '82	508	$330 70
No 7 Wall street, southwest corner Wall and New sts.	May 1, '82	1,525	157 37
Northeast corner Liberty and Broadway	May 31, '82	3,070	115 96
No 12 Wall street	November 1, '82	2,695	111 31
Nos 8 and 10 Wall street	January 22, '81	5,709	87 58
Southeast corner Cedar and Nassau streets	July 31, '82	5,494	84 18
No 16 Nassau street	May 10, '82	2,050	82 92
No 11 Broad street	March 11, '81	2,486	80 44
Nos 17 and 19 Broad street, and 55 Exchange place	April 27, '81	8,655	73 65
Nos 35 Wall and 13 and 15 Broad streets	May 2, '82	8,622	72 48
No 9 Pine street	March 17, '81	1,752	57 07
Southeast corner Broadway and Exchange place	January, '83	19,115	52 31

The following table will serve to show the average maximum valuations with sample locations in Chicago:

Classes.	Price per front ft.	Sample Location.	Price per sq. foot.
First-class Retail Business	$3,000	State street	$33 33
Banks and Offices	2,000	LaSalle and Washington streets	22 22
Wholesale Business	1,500	Wabash avenue and Franklin streets	9 38
Second-class Retail	600	North Clark and West Madison streets	6 66
Local Business Centers	400	Twenty-second street	4 44
Local Business Centers	250	Cottage Grove ave, at 35th and 39th sts	2 77
Aristocratic Residence	600	Michigan, Prairie and Calumet aves	4 00
First-class Residence	300	Dearborn and Indiana avenues	2 00
First-class Residence, West Side	200	Ashland avenue and Washington boul	1 66
First-class Residence, 3 m distant	150	Avenues, near Twenty-ninth	1 00
First-class Residence, 3½ m. dis.	125	Avenues, near Thirty-first	83
First-class Residence, 4 m distant	100	Avenues, near Thirty-fifth	67
First-class Residence, 4½ m. dis.	85	Langley and Vincennes avenues	57
Medium Residence	65	All Divisions	54
Mechanic's Residence	50	All Divisions	41
Laborers' Homes	40	All Divisions	33
Laborers' Homes, cheap	20	All Divisions	17
Fashionable Suburban	60	Hyde Park, Evanston	30
Genteel Suburban	30	Englewood	15

Thus it will be seen that a lot near the corner of LaSalle and Washington streets, 25x150, could be purchased for less than $150,000, or at the rate of about $40 per square foot. The table of New York valuations includes the buildings as well as the ground, still the high price was not given for the houses, but because the sites were supposed to have great prospective value. It is obvious that Chicago property is still very cheap in comparison with New York realty.

The Hale Building, and lot upon which it stands, sold for about $4,500 per front foot. Allowing $1000 per front foot for the building before it was re-fitted, the cost of the ground was about $3,500 per foot, which sum, if divided by the depth of the lot in feet, wil give the price per square foot

THE MARKET.

Transactions in real estate during the past week have been numerous enough, but are nearly all for small amounts. The greatest activity noticed is south of the city limits and north of Sixty-third st., in Hyde Park and the Town of Lake. Kent's sub, containing twelve acres, on the northwest corner of State and Forty-seventh sts., is being rapidly sold by Jacob Weil & Co. The tract contains 130 lots 24 feet wide, and is conveniently situated to the Rock Island and Southern roads and to the State street cars. The lot on the southwest corner of Forth-seventh and State streets was sold to Chapin & Gore for $5,000, and is being improved by them with a handsome four-story brick building containing stores and flats, at a cost of $30,000. The next 50 feet south is sold and will be improved at once. The northwest corner of Dearborn and Forty-seventh sts., in the sub, is sold, and the three lots next south also. Near the corner of Dearborn and Forty-seventh streets four Queen Ann cottages are being built, to cost $2,800 each. Twelve cottages are being built on Forty-seventh, Dearborn and Butterfield streets, and two are now completed. This is said to be a good business point, of the same character as Twenty-second and Thirty-first street property in the vicinity of State street. Fourteen lots have been sold within sixty days. Dearborn and Butterfield streets have both been sewered through the subdivision. The prices obtained so far are as follows: $5,000, $4,000, $1,800, $1,250, $850 and $750 for 24-foot lots.

The activity in the region of Garfield was noticed in the JOURNAL of last week. Thirty-three sales were recorded on Thursday, all within the city limits. The transactions for the week were, theeefore, encouraging to sellers. The Pittsburgh, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company give the following description of Chicago in their notice of an excursion from Dayton, O., October 10:

"Time and again have you heard of the wonders of Chicago, that Queen of the West, sitting enthroned on an inland sea, and rivaling the splendor of ancient Babylon. Buildings of royal height and architecture, lining broad avenues over whose smooth pavements cars glide seemingly by their own volition; palatial hotels, furnished with Oriental magnificence; numerous theatres, within whose walls the finest dramas of the world are produced with all the charm of elaborate scenery and gorgeous costume, by the best actors of the time; the silver waters of the lake dotted with the sails and the gaily painted hulls of vessels that ply between the far Northwest and the roads that lead to the Eastern Ocean; beautiful parks, adorned by nature and art, combine to form a living panorama that, while amply productive of instruction, is entrancing, and never to be forgotten by the visitor who moves through its scenes.

CITY COUNCIL.

An ordinance was passed establishing grade on West Indiana street, from Hoyne to Western avenue; for vacating part of alley, block 52, Kinzie's addition; for curbing, filling and paving DeKoven street, from Jefferson to Halsted; for grading and paving Halsted, from West Harrison to West Twelfth streets.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph street, Bryant Block, Chicago, Ill.

BUILDING RESUME 1883.

FACTS AND FIGURES OF INTEREST TO CHICAGO BUILDERS.

A slight decrease, both in the number of permits issued and capital invested, from the figures of 1882 has so far characterized the building interests this year. The number of permits for 1882 was 3,119, at a cost of $15,842,800. The totals for the present year, from January to October 13th, is 2,070 permits, representing $12,949,175. It is altogether likely, however, that the figures of 1882 may be reached and perhaps exceeded before the expiration of the year. The season opened auspiciously and were it not for various unthought of impediments, principal among which was the bricklayers' strike, the record of 1882 would have certainly been beaten. There is a growing tendency among capitalists, owing to the unsettled condition of all stocks, to invest where a certain revenue is assured rather than chance the erratic action of securities. This would have undoubtedly resulted in a building boom vastly in excess of previous years were it not for a combination of unfortunate causes. The truth of this will assuredly be demonstrated the coming year, and THE JOURNAL advises builders to prepare for 1884. Among the edifices worthy of mention erected during the present year, or in process of construction, the following may be named: The Pullman Palace Car Company's offices, corner Michigan avenue and Adams street, $500,000; Royal Insurance Company building, corner Jackson and Quincy streets, $500,000. These two represent the highest permits issued, and $200 in February the lowest. June was the most prolific, the totalage for that month being $2,434,850, representing 378 permits, and January foots the list with 28 permits at a total of $162,200. The pro rata cost is, however, higher this year than last, it being $6,255.65, as against $5,079.45. Elemoysnary institutions have been erected, at a total cost of $488,000, during the year, the number being eleven.

The lumber market has been remarkably steady, the supply at times being unequal to the demand. Within the past few months, owing to the scarcity of bottoms and the raise of transportation consequent on the advance of seamen's wages, there has been a marked upward tendency in the market. The other various building material has been very steady, and, take it all in all, THE JOURNAL can congratulate builders upon a prosperous year and, preventing untoward circumstances, a bonanza in 1884.

The National Warehouse Company are erecting a storage house at the intersection of Clinton and Fulton streets and Milwaukee avenue, which, when completed, will be the largest structure of the kind in the city. The dimensions are 150x148, four stories in height, with basement. The material used is of the very best quality, consisting of Indiana pressed brick and Joliet limestone, with cut stone trimmings. Burling & Whitehouse are the architects; Angus & Gindelle, masonry; Peter Kauff, wood-work; Holmes, Piatt & Co. furnish the iron, and Henry Curber the trimmings. It is to be under roof by the first of December and ready for occupancy January 1st, 1884. The design is a model combination of durability and beauty, and every available foot of space is well utilized, without in any way detracting from the harmonies. The cost, when completed, will be about $75,000. The National Tube Company will be the occupants.

THE mania for building houses in London, which resulted in 50 per cent more new buildings in 1881 than in 1871, has not abated. Novel building schemes of many sorts have easly attracted capital. Noel Park, in North London, is a project of the Artisans', Laborers' and General Dwellings Company. This company is paying 5 per cent on its investments in the Shaftesbury and Queen's Parks, comprising 3,300 houses in all, and now purposes to put up 2,600 houses on 100 acres, arranged in the form of a park, eight acres being left unincumbered as a recreation ground.

WINDOWS with sashes which draw up are regarded with horror by the French, who call them guillotine windows and have almost entirely abandoned their use. A few of the old casements, however, are still left in France, and one of them lately caused a tragedy in Havre. While looking out of such a window in a house in the Rue de l'Hopital an old woman named Bassel was caught by the falling frame which descended squarely upon her neck, pinioned it to the sill and choked her to death before the horrified spectators in the street below could reach her.

A MACHINE for plastering walls has been invented. It consists of a receptacle for the mortar, the segments of a cylinder in form. It is provided with a hinged leaf or press plate that moves rapidly against the mortar, and as the receptacle is moved upward against the wall the plaster presses out through a narrow gauged opening at the bottom. .

IN Fairfield, Maine, is a manufactory of ready-made buildings, which is said to be the largest in the world. It turns out dwellings in many sizes and shapes, as boots and shoes are turned out in other parts of New England. The capabilities of the factory range from a shanty to a $50,000 hotel, with every room fronting toward the sea.

A NEW building at Cambridge, Md., is a theater and church combined. There is a stage, with scenery and footlights, for dramatic use, and in the center is a large trap, out of which an altar is raised on Sundays and other holy days for Roman Catholic services. The exterior is made churchlike by a steeple.

GROUND has been broken the past week for a factory building, estimated to cost $30,000, owned and to be occupied by M. Benner, the well-known manufacturer of stand-pipes and fire-escapes. Mr. Benner informs us that the increase of his business absolutely demands much more extensive accommodations than he now has at his disposal. The location is on South Jefferson st., Nos. 262 to 264, and the dimensions will be 56x150 ft., eighty feet of depth to be four stories, with basement, and the rear seventy feet two stories, to be used for foundry and blacksmithing purposes. Everything will be completed in the most substantial and commodious manner, with a view to the rapid handling of a large business.

TERRA COTTA.

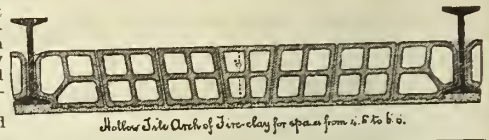
A NEW MANUFACTORY IN THIS CITY.

We take the following from a published interview with one of our most prominent architects:

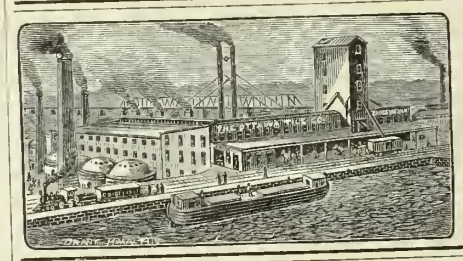
"This is a period of wonderful activity and progress in architectural art," said the architect. "The new, the beautiful, and the useful in house-building were never so conspicuous and abundant as at present."

"What is the most marked style in outside material?"

"The most conspicuous thing at present is the rage for red brick and terra cotta. The return to red brick from stone was the result of the great fires which visited the leading cities of the country some years ago, beginning with Chicago. Brick are almost indestructible in fire, and their popularity in business structures is well founded, but for other kinds of buildings the style has culminated. Terra cotta trimmings have been in use more or less for several years."



"How do other materials stand?"



"There is a great willingness to use new material, for the sake of novelty, and new kinds are always coming to the front."

"Does iron hold its own?"

"It does not. For several years past it has been entirely distrusted, unless covered with terra cotta or other material to protect it from fire."

We are surprised that our architects are not making more extensive use of this indestructible article of terra cotta, but upon inquiry we find that the reason for this is the difficulty of procuring a first-class article in time when wanted, as there has so far been in operation but one factory in the west. We therefore take pleasure in calling the attention of owners of building sites, as well as builders and architects, to the fact that a new company, called "Lake View Terra Cotta Company," has been formed, with practical manufacturers and good business men at the head, which is refitting the old plant at the corner of Fifteenth and Laflin streets. The central office of the company is at room 83 Republic Life Building. Otto Peltzer is the secretary and Robert Berger, cashier of E. S. Dryer & Co., is the treasurer, which is a sufficient guarantee for the solidity of the enterprise.

Terra cotta is extensively manufactured in the east and, to a large extent, has been shipped from there to this point. No branch of western manufacturing has been so sadly neglected, there being but one factory on a small scale in the entire northwest. The newly-organized company, whose advertisement appears on the last page, will commence work at an early day. That it will succeed is doubly assured by the good character and business ability of the men at the head of it.

WE call the attention of parties who are either looking for investments in real estate, or are desirous of securing loans, to the well-known firm of Peterson & Bay. This firm is making a specialty of city property. They also do an extensive business in loans. Messrs. Peterson & Bay transact their business in a straightforward and reliable manner, and in consequence already have a large and extensive business.

THE MARKET.

From a business acquaintance with capitalists and real estate dealers in Chicago and elsewhere, the editor of this journal long ago arrived at the conclusion that the land market, at least in Cook county, is not influenced by the specious promises of speculators, nor the dismal forebodings of the "bear" element. If speculation and excitement could influence the real estate market, Chicago property would be as high priced as land is in New York and London, and perhaps higher. Prices have not waned in the least, and no single case is on record to show that any buyer of Chicago property within the last five years has been ruined, or even failed to grow richer. To be sure, the record does not show as many sales during the past week as agents are wont to realize, but the previous week's transfers showed a healthy movement. The numerous fine residences which have been built on the South Side, on Michigan boulevard and upon the West Side, on Washington boulevard and the streets running next parallel to it, and costing all the way from $10,000 to $100,000, and some much more, are ample proof that Chicago is a safe place to invest money and a good place for rich men to live in; but by far the most marked improvement in building has been in the direction of tenement houses and cottages, in every part of the city and suburbs. Fewer fine business blocks were begun this year than in 1882, because many that were begun last year were only finished during this spring and summer, last past. A goodly number of stores were built on West Madison and West Lake streets, and are now being finished and occupied. On the building page of this number of THE JOURNAL will be found a resume of building operations of 1883 to date. The building feature, therefore, argues volumes in favor of real estate investment in Chicago. It has been claimed that, in consequence of so much building, rents must come down. Be it so! If present rents are so high as to induce capital to go into new buildings, then the work will continue till there are more houses than tenents and more stores than business, but the fact of the matter is that much of the new building done within the last two years was an actual necessity, brought about by the rapid increase in population and business. The same activity is seen in New York and other large cities, and, to some extent, in smaller cities. In Dayton, Ohio, on the northwest corner of Fourth and Main streets, a six-story building is being erected, to cost $100,000, by a man by the name of Kuhn, and is called the Kuhn building. The structure is one of the finest and largest in the city and is to be used for store and factory purposes. The new court house in Dayton, just north of the old building, is now being completed, at a cost of $250,000, plus as much more as the commissioners can find use for.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

AGREEMENT TO EXTEND THE TIME OF REDEMPTION.—The opinion of the Appellate Court for the Second District of Illinois, by Lacy, J, held, that an agreement to extend the time of redemption of real estate from sale may be enforced in equity.

JOINT RESPONSIBILITY OF EXECUTORS.—The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in Waldy's Appeal, 14 Pitts. L. J. 50, held, that executors are jointly responsible for a loss resulting from their joint negligence; that where executors instead of investing the fund divide the same among themselves without security, they are jointly liable, the one for the other, for any loss of any part of the fund.

LANDLORD AND TENANT—ESTOPPEL.—The opinion of the Appellate Court, Second District of Illinois, by Pleasants, J., holding that where a tenant already in possession under a first lease accepts a second from a second lessor, under the belief, through mistake, artifice or fraud, that the second lessor is privy in title with the first, he is not estopped to deny the latter's title; the exclusion of evidence tending to prove such mistake ar artifice is error.

CONTRACT FOR SALE OF LAND.—After a contract for the sale of land had been executed, but before any money had been paid thereon, the land was sold by the sheriff upon a judgment against the vendor. The amount for which the land sold was more than the judgment and more than the whole sum agreed to be paid by the vendee. Both vendor and vendee claimed the excess. Held, that the excess belonged to the vendee. Mercur, J., Frick's Appeal, Sup. Ct. Pa., 4 Ohio Law Jour. 131.

MR. C. H. CUBBON, house and sign painter, located at the corner of Madison and Leavitt streets, has some large contracts on hand. He does good work and is appreciated accordingly.

WISHING to retire from active business, the owner of a large and very desirable suburban property—all clear—wants a first-class, active man to take full charge of it on commission. PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph street, Bryant Block, Chicago, Ill.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

CO-OPERATIVE BUILDING.

Under the title of "How to Build a House," the Co-Operative Building Plan Association has issued an illustrated magazine which we understand is to be followed by periodical numbers. The plan of the association seems to be a good one and worthy of support. When it is proposed to build a house the owner first consults an architect, who puts the builder's ideas into tangible form by drawing an elaborate plan of the proposed building and all the specifications for material and labor. For this the arcchitect has to be paid his price, varying from twenty-five to many hundreds of dollars.

The association above alluded to proposes to furnish plans and specifications at rates varying from five dollars to fifty. The secret of the business consists in employing one or more competent architects to prepare the drawings and estimates and these are then printed. If, then, the association can sell fifty copies at, say, ten dollars each, it not only makes money for itself, but it saves the purchaser a very large percentage of the architect's fees. As only first-class architects are employed, the work is as well done as if the plans were made for a private individual.

Any one who has had occasion to travel much in this country could not fail to notice the immense number of ugly buildings, and he will come to the conclusion that not only are they void of beauty, but also of plan or adaptation. There is no reason why a farm-house should be unsightly when the same outlay would make it attractive.

The field which the association intends to occupy is a large one, and THE JOURNAL wishes it all the success it deserves. Its mission is to improve public taste and we do not doubt that its publication will, to a large extent, promote that result.

THE VANDERBILT HOUSES.

There are two new Vanderbilt houses nearing completion at the southwest corner of Fifty-fourth street and Fifth avenue which seem to have aimed at summarizing on two lots all the features of all the other Vanderbilt houses, at least the features of the admired houses designed by Mr. Hunt for Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, and by Mr. Post for Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt. Nearly every feature in either one of these houses reappears here in some strange transmutation, together with a number of features that are in neither. The featureless houses built for Mr. Vanderbilt himself are succeeded here by fronts which have features so multiplied that the effect is much as if one should come upon a countenance furnished with five eyes and three noses.

One leading motive is quite enough for a twenty-five foot house, and the most successful street fronts of that width are those in which no more is attempted. There are two good houses in this same street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues, one of them extremely good, which owe their effect to the breadth and simplicity of their composition. There is another very effective house in the same street, across the avenue, the architectural interest of which resides in the skill with which an oriel is designed and adjusted to the other openings, and around the corner in Fifty-fifth street is another house, of which the whole front is converted into a single feature by enclosing the upper stories under an arch which spans the whole and contains a recessed balcony. This same arrangement has been repeated, not very happily, in a new house near by on the west side of Fifth avenue.

The two only cover two lots, and they contain more things than both of the houses they seem to imitate put together, although the house of Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, good as it is, rather suffers from an excess of features. Here, with all the things, it is impossible to make out an architectural motive.

BUILDING NEWS.

A visit to a number of architects during the past week shows but little business being transacted in their line for immediate use. A few of them are drafting plans for fine buildings to be commenced in early spring, and a number of others are making figures which are expected to bear fruit next week. Mr. Earnshaw will soon have the brick and stone work of St. Luke's Hospital completed. The building is located on Indiana avenue, a short distance south of Fourteenth street, and will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000 when finished. A large number of tenement blocks have had the last work put on them during the week and everything in the line of building seems to be centered in the idea to get all now on hand finished before the cold weather set in, and before many new enterprises are inaugurated. From the outlook, however, as taken from contractors and architects, early spring will witness a very heavy building boom.

Building in Evanston is reported as being quite heavy for the season of the year and all property sales are made to those who intend immediate improvement. There is but very little speculative feeling.

At Englewood there are a large number of small cottages going up and a few brick houses are in the course of construction, but all dealers in property are feeling the effect of the dismal weather.

The Chicago & Western Indiana Railroad are making preparations for two large and very fine warehouses in South Chicago. They will be built upon Slip No. 2 and used by the railroad as storage and transfer houses.

SEARCHING TITLES IN NEW YORK.

A few weeks ago the New York Herald published a long article upon the cost of searching titles to real estate in that city. Every purchaser has experienced the disagreeable necessity of disbursing from fifty to two or even three hundred dollars in excess of the price of the property before he felt reasonably sure of his title.

In the rapid exchange of ownership in that city, this expense has become a very onerous burden; nearly all the land within the city limits was originally in large estates, which were afterward divided into smaller tracts, and eventually cut up into city lots. The titles to much of this property comes through the Surrogate's Court, others again are diverted out of the original channels by judgments, executions and forfeitures, and it requires both experience and ability to make a complete and reliable abstract of title.

Only within a comparatively short time have they had regular conveyancers, for every lawyer in his varied practice has included conveyancing. Those who make such transfers a specialty keep records or copies of all abstracts made by them, but these cover but a small proportion of the whole of the real estate there.

New York is far behind her sister cities in that she has no regular bureau where each lot is known, and all transfers are noted on the record. In the Western States even the counties have such a record, although it is generally in private hands. For instance, if they desired an abstract of the chain of title to the west half of the northwest quarter of section ten, township one hundred and seven, range fourteen, west of fifth principal meridian, we should write to the Register of Olmsted county, Minnesota, for it. He would order his clerk not to search the records of his office, but to step over to the Abstract office and copy perhaps a quarter or half page which he would find there. The fees demanded for this service would generally be not to exceed one third the expense of an original search, and would occupy less than an hour of time, while the old way might involve a search through every book in the office, and would consume from one day to a week of valuable time.

The new Real Estate and Traders' Exchange proposes to inaugurate some such system there. Counsel of ability and experience have been, or will be, employed, so that dealers may rest assured that titles passing through their hands will be thoroughly reliable. With proper maps and books, where a separate entry of each lot is kept, together with an entry of every change of ownership, the labor, time and expense of examining a title will be, as in other cities, reduced to a minimum.

THE proposition to remove the county seat of Bond county, Ill., from Greenville to Smithboro is abandoned for the present, and the question of an appropriation of $20,000 for a new court house at Greenville is being urged.

FARMING IN COLORADO.

Colorado as an agricultural state is but little known to the people in the middle and eastern states. Heretofore her great mining industries overshadowed everything else, and while the great productions of gold and silver are annually on the increase, and must continue to increase until the yearly "out-put" will be one hundred millions of dollars or more, the great irrigation canals that have been built within the last few years are rapidly bringing farming industries in this state to the front. Irrigation is the act of flowing water over the land to nourish crops. It is a simple method when understood, and it gives the farmer an advantage and a power to produce good results that he does not have under any other system of agriculture. As much study has been given to farming as to any other science, and great improvements have been made in all kinds of agricultural implements. Farmers' clubs and societies are constantly discussing about how to plow and when to plow—how to sow and when to sow, and large factories are constantly at work producing rich but expensive fertilizers, and ships are engaged carrying guano to our shores, and all of this is done in an effort to produce good crops. How much doth it avail to the farmer if he have not rain in due season? The average annual rain fall in Colorado is about twelve to fifteen inches, or about one-third to one-fourth of what it is in Missouri, Illinois or Ohio; therefore the farmer in that state is never troubled with too much rain. About fifteen inches added by irrigation during the growing season to the rain-fall, produces crops that can not be surpassed anywhere. Instances of unusually large yields are frequently heard of in other states, which may be as much per acre as can be produced in Colorado, although it is claimed there that eighty bushels have been raised on an acre; but the instances of failure are far more numerous amongst eastern farmers than are found there. Under irrigation the yields are annually steadier, and the general averages are larger.

A GREAT LAND CASE.

A bill was filed in the Superior Court on Monday last by Alexander F. Greig against Frances Ann Russell and others. heirs of the late Samuel Russell, to recover possession of lot 9 b 28 of the original town of Chicago. This property is said to be very valuable and includes Nos. 31 to 45 West Randolph street and Nos. 6 and 8 Canal st. The story is that in 1847 William H. Stow had a contract for the sale of the above land from Samuel Russell, of Middletown, Conn., the owner, the purchase price then being $7000, and put valuable improvements on it. Up to 1852 he had paid $2,850, leaving $4,150 still due, the property then having increased in value to $45,000. Russell pressed Stow for the balance, and Stow gave him an assignment of the contract in regular form on its face, although it was to be only a mortgage. In 1855 Stow tendered $400 on account, and in 1856 $3,951.35, all of which was refused on the ground that the contract was forfeited. March 24, 1859, Stow conveyed all his interest so George I. Stow, and on April 15, 1871, the latter sold all his interest to Jane R. Stow. She on July 13, 1883, in turn assigned her title to the complainant.

In 1861 Russell obtained judgment by ejectment against W. H. Stow, and was put in possession. In 1862 Stow filed a bill to set aside this judgment on the ground that the assignment to Russell was a simple land contrac tinstead of a mortgage, but the bill was dismissed for want of equity. Greig now claims that the only way in which Russell could have acquired title was by foreclosure, and that the decree in chancery was no bar, because Stow long before conveyed all his rights. Also that the mortgage has long since been paid by rents received by Russell. Besides the title the tomplainant asks for an accounting of all the profits since 1852. Mr. B. H. Vary files his bill as solicitor. [Inter Ocean.

ENFORCING LOAN ON REAL ESTATE.—The opinion of the Supreme Court of Iowa, by Day, C. J., holding that where a party who procures a loan, promises to execute a mortgage on his land as security therefor, and subsequently conveys the land to another as security for certain claims, the lender may, upon payment of the amount of such claims, have the amount loaned by him made a lien on the land, to be enforced, if necessary, by a sale thereof.

REAL ESTATE AND TRADERS' EXCHANGE.

The opening of the above association, on the 12th of September last, at 39 Broadway, was most auspicious. Within ninety days the organization has a membership of four hundred, composed of real estate agents, bankers, brokers and merchants, with daily additions of new members, and has a bank account of $20,000 derived from the sale of seats, a year's rent paid and no liabilities. If the future success is to be determined by the opening, the Real Estate and Traders' Exchange will be a flattering success. There is no reason why a national real estate exchange should not succeed in New York or in Chicago. There is need of such an enterprise. The interest it represents is the real wealth of the country. The object of this exchange is to facilitate the real estate business of the whole country by establishing a common headquarters where real estate brokers can meet and transact business. There will be daily calls and auction sales, the negotiation of loans, the sale of bonds and other securities. There will also be connected with the exchange a gratuity life insurance fund which will be for the mutual benefit of its members. Corresponding memberships will be sold at a nominal price, enabling real estate brokers throughout the country to enjoy the privileges of the exchange by correspondence, and when in the city the full privileges of the floor and office facilities. The New York Real Estate and Traders' Exchange has a wide field before it, and needs only good management and honest dealing in all its transactions to develop an institution of power and usefulness long needed.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.—The opinion of the Queen's Bench Division by Lopes, J., holding where a lease contained a covenant by the lessee not to carry on any trade except, etc., and not to assign or underlease the premises without the consent in writing of the lessor and there was a proviso for re-entry, if the lessee should not well and truly perform, and keep all and singular the covenants, conditions and agreements, thereinbefore contained to be observed, performed and kept, that the words of the proviso for re-entry were wide enough to cover a breach of the negative covenants and letting the premises from year to year is a breach of a covenant not to "underlease."

DOUGLAS COUNTY, DAKOTA.

Douglas county steps boldly to the front in line with adjoining counties in South Dakota with a magnificent crop of wheat, oats, flax, corn and all kinds of vegetables.

Douglas county first attracted attention two years ago. One year ago the population was 300; to-day estimated at 2,000. The face of the country is rolling, the soil a rich chocolate color, plenty of soft water in the numerous lakes found on almost every section, while the best of drinking water is obtained by digging twelve to twenty-five feet, free from alkali and other impurities. Government land is all gone, but deeded claims can be bought for about $1.000. It is a splendid county for stock as well as for small grains, corn and vegetables. The one thing needed is a railroad, twenty-three miles being the nearest railroad town—Graud View—the county seat and geographical center of the county. Grand View is a yearling of substantial growth, having several stores, two printing offices, two hotels, shops, etc. It derives its name from its commanding position, being visible from most all parts of the county, and with the advent of a railroad will become one of the booming towns of South Dakota.

WAUKEGAN REAL ESTATE.

Within the past two months $50,000 worth of farming lands in Antioch and Avon townships has been sold to E. J. Lehman, of Chicago. Mr. Wm. K. Emmett, the theater man, has also invested large sums in the purchase of real estate in the county. Other Chicago men have also invested large sums. There is a growing demand for land in Lake county, and the real estate men of Chicago are anxious to secure farming land there. The Lake Superior Railroad is supposed to be the cause of this inquiry and investment. Antioch is to be one of the points of the proposed railroad. Rumors are afloat that Lehman and others are going to get up a summer resort on one or more of the lakes that abound in that vicinity.

NO STREET in the world possesses more value than Fifth avenue, New York. Yet that city derives but $1,000,000 a year in taxes upon the property, which shows that New York as well as Chicago suffers from the epidemic of under-valuation. The total assessment upon the property along the avenue is but $49,449,000, although it must be worth six or seven times that amount. As an instance of under-valuation, Mr. Vanderbilt's property may be taken. His house cost $3,000,000, exclusive of the land upon which it stands, which is said to be worth half a million more. Yet the whole establishment is assessed at $1,000,000. The house of his son, William K., which is said to have cost $2,000,000, exclusive of the ground, is assessed at $500,000, while that of Mr. Webb, his son-in-law, quite as expensive in value, is rated at $400,000. Mr. Vanderbilt's former residence, which cannot be worth less than $750,000, is rated at $140,000. The Stewart marble palace is assessed at $500,000. James Gordon Bennett's residence, for which $350,000 was refused, is rated at $150,000, while Robert Bonner, whose place is not much more valuable, pays taxes on a valuation of $575,000, which indicates that the owner of Dexter is an honest man.

THE cause of the anxiety to reduce the Sioux Indian reservation several hundred thousand acres has come to light. A syndicate had been formed to purchase the land, in violation of the laws of the country. This syndicate is composed almost entirely of English capitalists, who are gradually securing vast tracts of Western unimproved lands, to the exclusion of the American settlers. We have kept a large portion of our army busy keeping the Indian within bounds, and the military have often failed doing even that. But Mr. Bull and the Sioux are not Englishmen, and that is something that goes a great way in their favor. The spectacle the English members of the Hatch party made of themselves induces people to feel very lenient toward the Sioux.

THE amount of internal revenue in Peoria district paid to Collector Knowles during the month of September was $1,314,463.60. This is an increase of $119,014.76 over the corresponding month last year, when the collections amounted to $1,195,448.84. There were shipped for export during the month 983 packages containing 86,303 gallons.

VALPARAISO'S ENTERPRISE.

The laying of the corner stone of the new court house in Porter county, Indiana, took place on Wednesday and was witnessed by about 20,000 people.

The style of architecture of the building is Renaisance. The dimensions will be: 98x128 feet; height to top of roof, seventy-two feet; height to top of tower, 165 feet; height to top of flagstaff, 195 feet. It will be fire-proof, will be finished in hard woods, and the glass used will be polished plate and cathedral stained. The roof will be of slate. The exterior will be of Ellettsville lime-stone, which is of the same character as the stone used in the Cook County (Ill.) Court House. The entrances on the north and south fronts will be approached by flights of stone steps, 10 feet high, the pedestals of the ballustrade being surmounted with ornamental lamp-posts. Above the steps will be a portico, sustained by polished granite pillars. The portico will project eight feet and will be twenty feet long, and will be of the style known as enriched Doric. The top of the portico will be a classic ballustrade. Over the porticos in the center of the north and south fronts will be arcade windows sixteen feet wide by thirty feet high, and will be of stained glass. The cornice for the central portion of each of the four fronts will be cantetaver cornice with medalions between, the frieze to be enriched with festoons, on the top of which will be a classic ballustrade, surmounted with figures. The basement, which will be ten feet above the ground and two feet below, will be finished with very bold rustic work. The principal story will have quoins at the corners with molded cap. The second story will have pilasters at the corners with carved composite caps. The exterior otherwise will be rubbed stonework. The windows will be wide with semi-circular tops. The four quarters or corners of the building, will have mansard roofs with circular dormer windows, the central portions of the four fronts extending up even with the tops of the mansard roofs.

The interior will be equally beautiful if not more so, and will be as convenient as modern invention, ancient wisdom, and art both new and old can make it. The floors of the hallways and rotunda will be of encaustic tile of rich design. The first floor will contain the rooms of the Auditor, County Commissioners, Treasurer, Recorder, Sheriff, Surveyor, Superintendent of Schools, and Clerk of the Court. It will be 17 feet high. The second floor will be devoted to the court room, which will be 40 feet wide, by 62 feet long, and 26 feet high, and handsomely finished; the common court room, grand jury room, two petit jury rooms, consultation room, and witness private room.

The cost of the building is to be $126,000, and the furniture and heating apparatus will cost $14,000 more.

The architect is John C. Cochrane, of Chicago, and the contractor is J. D. Wilson, of Valparaiso.

The commissioners are: L. P. Scott, President; N. Pickrell and F. Burtram. William F. Brown is Auditor.

NEW YORK MARKET.

The auction market has displayed more animation this month than in September, and a considerable portion of the property offered for sale was purchased upon terms satisfactory to buyers and sellers; but still a little more concession on the part of the seller would give a great impetus to business. At private sale the operations have also been upon an extensive scale, especially in regard to moderate-sized dwelling houses which, in the opinion of capitalists, are very good investments. Althougg the renting of apartment houses is not so readily effected, ae formerly, builders are not discouraged at this state of affairs, and sites of considerable magnitude have been recently disposed of upon which to erect very imposing structnres of this character.

ARTICLES of association were filed at the State House at Madison, Wis., on Wednesday, as follows: People's Saving Fund and Building Association, of Appleton, for making mutual loans for building purposes, capital stock, $400,000, in shares of $100 each; Ripon Lumber & Manufacturing Company, for making sash, doors and blinds, capital stock, $24,000; Romadka Manufacturing Company (Limited), of Milwaukee, for making wood stock for wagons, and lumber and shingles, capital stock, $50,000.

REAL ESTATE SIGNS.

MESSRS. WILFORD & PETRIE make a specialty of Real Estate Signs. They have been in this business for about seven years and hence have a very thorough knowledge of their business. They are also the only firm who make a specialty of these signs. For cheapness in price the signs which they make cannot be surpassed. We take pleasure in calling the attention of real estate agents to this firm, who have their shop located at No. 189 Fifth avenue. Orders by mail promptly attended to. Call and see their work and get their prices and you will, without doubt, give them an order. Mr. J. L. Petrie, of the above firm, designed and superintended the frescoing of the United States Custom House and Postoffice. He will be pleased to furnish designs and estimates for any style of decoration on public or private dwellings.

THE MARKET.

The limited number of the sales and the dullness in trade last week was attribnted to the bad weather. Continuous rains and muddy streets have hindered business to a serious extent during the week just closed. Although new buildings are being pushed to completion with the usual energy which characterizes Chicago builders. Hnndreds of new structures are not yet under roof and will not receive their finishing touches nntil midwinter. The various new enterprises spoken of so frequently by the daily papers, are sufficiently familiar to the public as to require no further discussion in THE REAL ESTATE JOURNAL. Suffice it to say that this paper does not devote its columns to hastening the birth of unborn schemes, but rather to give the new creature a suitable dress and send off at its birth.

Chicago has settled down to solid growth and will never be again disgraced by real estate speculations without foundation or money, and simply run on cheek and word. We have a few fellows yet among us who are trying to build suburban towns on paper and they seem to be out of humor with themselves and the world generally, because things don't boom. Capital is taking hold fast enough in Chicago and our progress in real estate is now far in advance of our municipal government.

The great burden of debt and taxation in this country is chargeable to the extravagance and corruption of local governments, the national and state governments being comparatively free from these vices. At least this is the burthen of a paper from the pen of Congressman Kasson, in a recent nnmber of the North American Review.

If some of our property owners and enterprising agents would devote themselves to reform in our municipal goverament, Chicago would have a still greater reputation abroad and millions of capital now lying idle in Eastern banks would find investment here. The majority of the common council of Chicago and of the board of county commissioners have no qualifications whatever for the positions they hold, and could not, if turned loose, produce the necessary credentials to enable them to get a clerkship in a country store or teach a country school ten miles distant from a county seat. The daily papers have written them down as asses a hundred times with but the effect to bring ridicule upon the city.

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Callatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

TWO TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and MINNEAPOLIS and ST. PAUL, via the famous

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph Street, Bryant Block, Chicago. Ill.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

LAND AND BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS.

Exehanges from eastern cities and Europe shows that incorporated companies for the purpose of purchasing and improving real estate are rapidly increasing. Quite a number of land and building associations have been formed recently, with the above view. Under our laws it is now quite possible to apply corpoaate management in the purchase, improvement and sale of real estate. There are many enterprises which might be made profitable were they not too large to be handled by private capitalistts, but an association of a dozen or more persons could raise amounts sufficient to improve quite a good deal of real estate. The time is coming when these associations will become very popular, and when the Real Estate Exchange is organized in New York the shares of these corporations will be regularly bought and sold, as are other securities. Indeed, eventually no inconsiderable part of the dealings on the Real Estate Exchange will be in stocks representing lands and houses.

Several Building and Loan Aassociations have been organized in Cuicago one of which is vouched for by E. S. Dreger & Co. and another good one, with office at the real estate rooms of W. D. Kerfoot & Co., Kimball, Voce & Co., of Chicago, also are interested in a Building and Loan Association. If these associations referred to, are in running order, their soundness would be guaranted by the mere connection of the above named firms. Frequent inquirics have been made by strangers at the office of the BUILDING JOURNAL, concerning certain Building and Loan Associations and judging from the manner of the callers some doubt existed as to their genuineness or soundness. Sometime ago the Journal published a list of all the Building and Loan Associations in Chicago, and will do so again at no distant day.

HARDWOOD LUMBER.

It seems difficult for some manufacturers of hardwood lumber to understand that there is no open market for such lumber in Chicago. Again, letters are frequently received asking. Who will buy such and such kind of lumber at your quotations? We will say once more that we do not know. At this minute we are unable to name a single dealer who wants to buy any kind of hardwood lumber, although there are may be a dozen of them. Who desires any particular kind of hardwood is not one of the questions that our market reporter puts, although he often learns of such desires. To sell hardwood lumber in this city usually requires personal attention, either on part of the man owning it, or a commission man to whom it may pe consigned. We are willing at any time to give a subscriber the names of parties who make a specialty of any kind of hardwood lumber, but it must not be understood that these parties always stand ready to buy. That question must be settled between them and the men who want to sell.—Exchange.

THE MARKET.

The improved condition of the weather during the latter part of the past week has had the effect of bringing about increased activity in the lot trade, The limited number of county and suburbon sales last week was a necessity because people could do more than travel to and from their places of business and no one attempted to look at real estate. With the improvement in the weather, there is also an upward tendency in the prices of stocks and investment securities. Money to be used in monthly settlements, on change was in improved demand on the first of the month: Rates remained unchanged and firm at 5½@6 per cent, on call and 6@7 on time. Eastern exchange sold at 50c premium. Foreign rates continne at $4.79½ for 60 days documentory sterling. Thursdays clearings were $8,967,-000, against $7,018.000 for Wednesday. Stocks on Wall street were lower for Government; railways were steady, State securities quiet. Stock speculations showed no decided movement either way. There is a steady withdrawal of dividend stocks from the west, by the constant investments in small amounts not only in this conntry but in Europe. Northern Pacific sold up to 29¾ for common and 64¾ for preferred on the announcement that the government, had ordered the transportation of Oregon and British Columbia mails over the Northern Pacific lines adding over $500,000 to the annual receipts. Regular wheat sold at prices a little under the closing of Oct. 31, but recovered later on a steady demand, on local account. Firmer Eastern and Foreign markets tended to imprve the situation at Chicago, No. 2, red winter wheat was quiet and firm at 99c@$1.01. Corn sold firm and strong for near options, demand being stimulated by rumors of manipulation, and strength lent the market through improvement in other grain.

HOW TO BUILD HEALTHY HOUSES

In all compactly built towns, but particularly in our larger western and southern cities, the air on the plane of the second or third stories of ordinary dewllings is more agreeable and healthy than that in basement or ground floors. Where yellow fever prevails it is recommended by physicians to sleep and live, as much as possible, iu elevated apartments. The air held within an area of crowded buildings being obsturucted as to its natural average motion by walls and fences, is prevented from a free ventilation, and is stagnated in streets, alleys, and yards, and courts, to every degree of closeness. There is no chance for a free surface ventilation, and during close weather, in such situations, for many days at a time, the air which is retained is but little changed.

It is to be regretted that our knowledge concerning the emanations of gases, and air, from the crust of the earth is not more certain. That the earth does perform a function somewhat analogous to human respiration, is most probable; that is, the air penetrates the soil and water to a certain depth, is there changed, as in the animal lungs, and is again exhaled or expired through the pores of the earth or water. How much the expired air is changed in different situations, is always a subject for scientific inquiry. It is reasonable to suppose that such atmospheric changes may be excited into action by laws similar to those which govern the motions of the air at different temperatures. Whatever may be the causes which originate, or the laws which govern, terrene emanations, existence cannot be questioned. In alluvial soils, cellars are damper and more unpleasantthan in primal formations, and obtain and retain an air which gives life to molds and various air plants.

Now, instead of springing the houses out of the ground in such situatious by digging cellars, and continuing the communications with the houses above by soild walls, it is suggessted to build arches as the foundations for the houses, so that a stratum of air may be interposed the interior of the dwellings and the earth.

What advantages may be expected by such a change from the present style of building? As already said, surface ventilation of the air would be one prominent advantage. Cleanliness, surface drainage, convenience in city life, an abatement of certain nuisances, and consequent increased healthfulness, would be other advantages. It is not necessary to enumerate all the machinery which can now be so easily procured for carrying out details of this desirable object. It is well known that such appliances are now at hand. Substitutes for cellars are being invented and put on the market; manufactories for asphalt and artificial stone are being established; convenient receptacles for holding the refuse and effete matters of a family are already made, so that such refuse can be raidly transported to a distance without oder. Indeed, every detail for carrying out the convenicences for this principle of arch-building, can now be obtained at moderete expense, for even the largest cities.

Patent plastering was a novelty exhibited at a recent building exhibition held in London. It is claimed for it that it saves both time and labor. The material is prepared beforehand, in slabs, which are fixed to the joists direct, with great speed, forming the ceiling at once. Thus plastering that would occupy weeks to execute can be accomplished by this slab system in as many days.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

SUPREME COURT OF ILLINOIS.

Filed at Ottawa June 16, 1883.

Milton M. Ford v. Richard Marcall.

JUDGEMENT LEIN—A judgement ceases to be a lien on real estate if execution is not issued thereon within one year from its date, in which case the execution may be sued out within seven years from the date of the judgment, and it then becomes a lien on the real estate of the debtor from its delivery to the sheriff or other proper officer, but if he has conveyed the same, and his deed is recorded before such execution is placed in the hands of the officer, no lien will attach, and no title will pass by a levy and sale.

NOTICE BY POSSESSION—Possession by a grantor, as notice of his equitable rights. Where A, the owner of land, conveyed the same to B, without any consideration, to be held in trust, and B conveyed the same in like manner to C, merely to enable him to sell for tho benefit of A, who remained all the time in the actual possession of the premises, it was held, that the possesion of A was notice to judgement creditor of C of A's equitable title, and that such creditor having such notice acquired no title by a levy and sale of the premises on execution against C, he not being an innoent purchaser entitled to the protection of the law.

Anderson Walton v. Thomas E. Burton et al.

DELIVERY OF DEED—Presumption from being recorded. A party residing in Ohio requested his brother, residing in this State, to give him a mortgage to secure an indebtedness, and the mortgage was made, acknowleged, and recoreded shortly afterward. The mortgagee was notified by letter of these facts, who, in reply, requested the mortgagor to get the morgage, and hold the same until he should return to this State. and the mortgagor did obtain the mortgage from the recorder, but lost the same before any manual delivery to the mortgagee. It was held, the record of the mortgage was prima facie evidence of its delivery. and that the burden of showing that the acceptance came ajter the recorder had parted with the deed, was upon the party denying the delivery and acceptance.

Where a mortgage is made, acknowledged and recorded by the mortgagor, it needs only the assent of the mortagee to make it good. If withdrawn from the recorder by the mortgagor for the mortgagee, and at his request, the subsequent manual possession of it by the mortgagor becomes that of the mortgagee, and the mortgagor becomes operative.

LAND FRAUNDS.

Col James Tullis, special land agent of the Government, who has been investigating land frauds in the Territories and the Rocky Mountains, and who is now in Salt lake, says that there has been some big swearing by witnesses in some of the land offices, and large tracts of land have been patented by persons who had in no wise complied with the land laws. The desert land entry act has been violated with a recklessness that was perfectly astonishing. In many cases it was found absolutely nothing had been done toward reclaiming lands, and what are known and regarded as good citizens have gone before the land officers and made solumn oath that the land had been reclaimed and all the conditions of the law complied with, when in fact no mark made by human hands could be found on the entire tract. Other tracts have been taken up under the dessert act that are no more desert than the valley of Ohio River, and other lands were found to have been taken up under culture act upon which was growing at the time of the original filing more forest trees than the law requries when final proof is to be made. The homestead law has not been fairly complied with and tens of thousands of acres have been patented by persons who have not complied with one single requirement of the law. Tens of thousands of acres of public lands have been fenced by wealthy cattle raisers, thus leaving the actual settler on the land without range for the family cow. In one instance it was found that a man living near a city in Montana fenced up three thausand acres of public land, anb had permitted the town people to pasture stock on his enclosure for one dollar per month per head.

Wishing to retire from active business the owner of a large and very desirable suburban property- all clear —wants a first-class active man to take full charge of it on commission. The party must keep a city office and live on the property. Address, with reference confidentially, "Suburban," Chicago P O.

SPECIMEN PRICE OF LAND IN NEW YORK.

The property on Reoadway, New York, on which the well-known New York hotel stands, has a frontage of 135 feet on Broadway, by 100 feet in depth on Washington and Waverly places back to Mercer street in rear. This lot is now worth, and would, in a moment we have been assured, bring, at the very least, $1,500,000, or over $8,100 a front foot The building is of no value, and if the property was sold the building would at once be torn down and a new six or eight-story wholesale building would be erected. Broadway, below Ninth street, where Stewart's old retail dry goods store used to be, is now almost wholly devoted to wholesale business. Property for wholesale business does not bring as high a price as the best retail property. Lots on the best retail portions on Broadway, between the Fifth Avenue Hotel (at Twenty-third street) and, say, Fortieth street, would bring twenty-five per cent, more than wholesale property. These facts will illustrate the great value of the best real estate in New York.

Copper for Roofing—In speaking of the cost of building materials an architect recently suggested the use of copper instead of galvanized iron or "terne" sheets for roofing purposes. He said that copper costs only about double tee price of tin, or iron, for the same area of roof, that it is practically indestructible by time, and that even if the builping it covers is pulled down, the roofing material possesses an absolute value. The price of copper has seriously declined within the past year, and if the supply continues to augment much more, the metal will soon be as cheap as tinr

D. W. Mitchell with office at No 1, Ashland Block has some very fine property to sell on the West Side. This property is on Polk, Harrison and Taylor streets and Ashland avenue, Loomis and Laflin streets. Property in this locality has made some very decided advances during the last year and will keep advancing. This is a good chance to invest in a home.

The Causes of Business Depression Illustrated,

Capital Should be so Invested as to Produce Something.

Some notice has been taken of the effect of the conversion of circulating into fixed capital by the construction of railroads, and fears have been expressed that the change was proceeding in excess of the requiremeuts, by which means too much capital was being withdrawn from the productive industries and converted into a non-productive from. Railroads are a form of fixed capltal which very much increase the power of circulating capital by cheapening and faciliating transportation and exchange, and unless their construction proceeds very much beyond the requirements of the country no great damage can come from investment therein, There are other forms of fixed capital of which so much can not be said. They absorb circulating capital and make no return. Houses are required for the habitation of men, and as they increase in wealth it is desirable that there be an improvement in the character of the domicils they occupy, in order that the circulation capital, which is an annual product, may not be lost or cease to be of value for want of use. But houses are a kind of fixed capital of which there may be an excess. If too much machinery to do a given amount of work exist, the surplus is of no value. The circulating capital which has been invested in it is virtually lost. If twice as many houses existed as were required by the population, the circulating capital in them would be valueless and the result as harmful to business as though the money were invested in railroads which were not required. If houses were built of twice the size needed to accommodate the families occupying them, the needless space would be of no more value than would needless machinery, but it is not easy to determine how much space is required to accommodate a family. Whatever promotes the comfort and health of a family is requisite—providing, always, that their annual production of circulating wealth is large enough to afford the transforming of so much into fixed capital. When we consider the tendency in this country to the construction of palatial residences the fear is aroused that too much money is being thus invested; the earnings of labor are being too rapidly absorbed into that kind of fixed capital, a large portion of which does not earn anything and is practically lost. The erection of houses costing $50,000, $80,000, $100,000, $200,000 and more is quite common, and such residences cannot but be regareded by political economy as wasteful extravagances which consume the circulating capital which labor has created without the ability of earning interest upon the investment. It may be said that the erection of such residences furnishes employment to labor and creates wealth. The employment of men to erect a walk around a city which another set should be employed to tear down would add nothing to the wealth of the world, although it would employ labor. How can the piling up of needless stone or brick and mortar increase the wealth of the world? How often is the proof presented that a vast deal of labor has been wasted upon such edifices, when the palatial residence of a Barnum or a Holliday is sold at one-fourth of its cost. The extent to which the people may indulge in palatial houses elaborately adorned with works of art and luxuriously furnished depends upon the annual products of labor. There is reason to fear that the movement in that direction in the United States is too rapid, Too large drafts are made on the circulating capital of the country for conversion into a kind of fixed capital which does not promote production, There is quite a possibility, too, that extravagant houses make a draft upon the productive energy of the country in another way. A large house requires a larger number of servants. More employment is furnised, but so far as adding to the aggregate wealth is concerned they might as well be idle. They produce nothing. A certain number of servants are requisite, and may be employed without burdening productive labor, but there may be an excess. The construction of palatial residence would tend to the employment of a larger number of servants than could be afforded, Servants must be fed and clothed and paid, and as they are not producers, it is easy to see that the number employed might be so large as to be a burden. And any other employment of labor as a like kind would have a similar effect. An authority on political economy stated the cause of the business depression which prevailed over the world a few years ago as a deficiency in the production of commodities. There was not enough circulating capital. The prevailing depression in business to which the attention of some writers has been directed is doubtless due to the same cause. There has been two large drafts made upon the circulating capital, for the construction of railroads not needed, for manufacturing establishments not employed, for ships not freighted, for buildings not used and for houses beyound the requirements of comfortable living. To produce these things a large amout of labor has been diverted from the channels of production, and while not producing that which adds to the stock of available wealth they have been living upon the earnings of those who have been employed in producing available wealth. Too large a proportion of the population are non-produners—there are too many idle, or engaged in occupations which can not be afforded. There is much labor done which is of no value in promoting the general prosperity. For all they contribute to the annual production of wealth they might as well be digging ditches and filling them again. A hint upon this subject will be sufficient to enable every reader to call to mind instances in which productive labor is made to support unproductive labor.

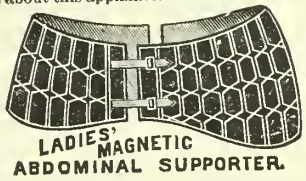
DISEASE CURED WITHOUT MEDICINE.



A Valuable Discovery for Supplying Magnetism to the Human System.

Electricity and Magnetism Cured Her Husband. Cured Her Son.

THIS MAGNETIC BELT IS
WARRANTED TO CURE Or Money Refunded, the following diseases without medicine:—Pain in the back, hips, head, or limbs, nervous debility, lumbago, general debility, rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, sciatica, diseases of the kidneys, spinal diseases, torpid liver, gout, seminal emissions, impotency, asthma, heart disease, dyspepsia, constipation, erysipelas, indigestion, hernia or rupture, catarrh, piles, epilepsy, dumb ague, etc.

When any debility of the GENERATIVE ORGANS occurs, lost vitality, lack of nerve force and vigor, wasting weaknesses, and all those diseases of a personal nature, from whatever cause, the continuous stream of Magnetism permeating through the parts must restore them to a healthy action. There is no mistake about this appliance.

Warranted TRY ONE.

TO THE LADIES:— If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Exhaustion, Dyspepsia, or with Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Headache or Cold Feet, Swollen or Weak Ankles, or Swollen Feet, an Abdominal Belt and a pair of Magnetic Foot Batteries have no superior in the relief and cure of all these complaints. They carry a powerful magnetic force to the seat of the disease.

For Lame Back, Weakness of the Spine, Falling of the womb, Leucorrhœa, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Barrenness and change of Life, this is the Best Appliance and Curative Agent Known.

For all forms of Female Difficulties it is unsurpassed by anything before invented, both as a curative agent and as a source of power and vitalization.

Price of either Belt with Magnetic Foot Batteries, $10. Sent by express C. O. D., and examination allowed, or by mail on receipt of price. In ordering, send measure of waist and size of shoe. Remittance can be made in currency, sent in letter at our risk.

The Magneton Garments are adapted to all ages, are worn over the under clothing, (not next to the body like the many Galvanic and Electric Humbugs advertised so extensively) and should be taken off at night. They hold their power forever, and are worn at all seasons of the year.

Send stamp for the "New Departure in Medical Treatment Without Medicine," with thousands of testimonials.

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Callatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

TWO TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and MINNEAPOLIS and ST. PAUL, via the famous

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

A German named Herr B. Harrass has (it is said) ciscovered a new method of making artificial wood, which is likely to prove of considerable service to all manufacturers of fancy goods. Common cellulose in paper form is reduced to pulp in water. and after being strained, three parts by weight of starch and two parts of wheat or maize meal are added to it. The compound is then boiled over a water-bath in thin metal tubes, which it leaves in the form of a liquid glue. Now, saw dust is added. and the whole is dried in a hot room and set to the consistency of wood. Any shapes can be made by the aid of molds and great pressure, and any color, polish or veneer can be imparted. It is the old patent coal and rock apshalt principle over again, and we should think could be developed to almost any extent, as the compound may be required to leave the molds all ready for the most delicate and artistic uses.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO
Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph street, Bryant Block, Chicago, Ill.

VALUE OF REAL ESTATE IN LONDON.

A plot of land in London, opposite the Mansion House, the public residence of the Lord Mayor, a locality well-known to all who have visited England, is said to have been recently let at a ground rent almost equal to £1 per square foot per annum, which represents a capitalized value of about a million and a half sterling per acre, or $7,500,000. If in New York, on Broadway, they give $200,000 for a city lot, 25 feet by 100, for the fee simple, they think that they have paid amply for their right, and yet twelve times the area mentioned will be nearly an acre, and twelve times the purchase instanced will be but $2,400,000, less than a third the value of the Mansion House plot.

If New York is to become another London, as is predicted in magnitude, in commerce and in popelation, there is ample room for appreciation in that city's real estate; for juding from analogy, they have yet to run two thirds the distance of the goal before them, Capitaliits, therefore need not shrink from making investments at current prices, for although this generation may not see New York City lots $625,000 each, we believe that the next generation will reap the product of their fathers' sowing.

The recent purchase of Mr. Childs of the lot corner of Wall and Broadstreets, containing 721 square feet of land, is equal to about $867,000 in gold for a full lot 25x100.

Two of the largest loans on real estate ever negotiated in New York city was made recently by Barton & Whittemore, acting for the New York Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Insurance Company. $960,000 was lent by the former company to James Clyne and Jose de Navarro on the four Navarro buildings now in course of erection on the south side of Fifty-ninth street and north side of Fifty-eighth street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues. The same firm some months ago negotiaied a loan of $1,040,000 with the Mutual Life Insurance Company to the same parties on four similar houses on the same streets and immediately adjoining, thus forming a group of eight magnificent apartment houses covering 425 feet on each street, or thirty-four full city lots. The aggregate loan on the eight buildings amounts to $2,000,000, and is claimed to be the largest transaction of the kind ever negotiated in that city.

THE
Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, No. 10, 1885.

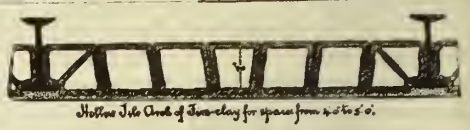
THE MARKET.

Careful inquiry among some of the Real Estate and Loan concerns shows that old time operations have been reversed, in this, that agents are not trying to sell property so much as they are endeavoring to buy for their pricipals. One of the leading agents showed our reporter his atlas whereon were written the prices asked. He said he used the atlas in connection with the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL to keep up this system and to ascertain selling prices. He further said that he had all he could do to look up property for buyers, and that he found the greatest difficulty in getting owners to bend down to a reasonable figure. There is no scarcity of money for safe investment and the rates for which loans can be made, depends almost entirely upon the character of fhe security.

The market is very firm but sluggish Bargain hunters are on the outlook. There is a fair inquiry for investment but owner are as firm as a rock. Mr. J. P. White bought for a customer 3 stores with lots on West Side a $25,000. The deeds have not yet been delivered because the abstracts are not ready. There has been more or less inquiry for business property in vicinity of Lake and Franklin streets and the west end of South Water street. The above named gentleman thinks that the trade is flowing westward across the river from the above points.

The most remarkable case of improvement on real estate is by U. P. Smith who has erected 19 houses on Rhodes avenue corner Thirty-second street, at a cost of $70,800. Also 8 houses on Groveland Park avenue, costing $72,000. Also one house costing $12,000. On Rhodes avenue for Wm. E. Smith and one on same avenue costing $10,000 each on same avenue. He has sold all except 50 feet on East front Groveland Park avenue to parties who contemplate immediate improvement. Some have already commenced among whom are W. Gale and W. E. Forest. On Vernon avenue Chandler & Co,, have sold 130 feet at $81 to $85 per foot front to parties who will improve it at once with handsome brick dwellings. The reiidences on Groveland avenue east front belonging to Resin Lancaster and Charles Busby, Jack Flemming and Mr. Reid are under roof. Permits have been taken out by Messrs. Day & Jarreaut and two other parties have also taken ont permit to build on the adjoining lots. A prominent railroad offiicial will build an elegant residence west front on Groveland av near corner 32d street 30 feet front Mr. Smith is building a carriage repository on Cottage Grove avenue north of 32d street, to cost $4,500, and has already leased the building. The same party is building a number of houses in Hyde Park on 43d street, between Hyde Park avenue and the lake costing from $5000 to $12,000 each. The roofs of these buildings are already on. The streets are paved with concrete with cement sidewalks and lamp post after the pattern of Michigan boulevard These extensive improvements are being planned and carried on by one man and in accordance with one uniform system.

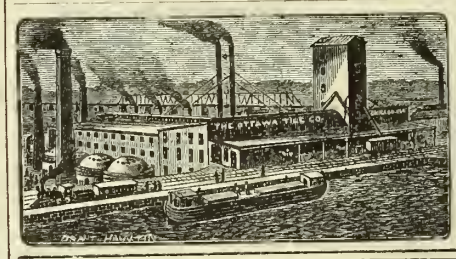
New York.



The market is dull, There is a manifest sause in the desire tp invest in real estate hat prevailed a month ago. The auction sales are neglected and private sales passed out sluggishly. Money is most abundant and capitalists are ready to advance largely in real estate, but they display no disposition to enter the arena as purchasers. They may be discouraged as buyers by the some what prospective views of sellers, a difficulty that may not readily be adjusted, for taking all things into consideration, the holders of real estate in good localities cannot but regard the future with consideraple hopefullness. Possibly, however, these seemingly apathetic watchers may be sednced iuto the market by the approaching sale of the estate of the late governor Morgan, consisting of nearly one hundred city lots in tempting localities. The sites are admirably adapted for the erection of those colossal structures termed apartment houses for which there is such a passion among builders and citizens that threaten the absolute abandonment of dwelling houses by small families,

London, England.

Lands in close proximity to London and other important commercial centres are always tending to increase in value, and the revenues are also increasing in consequence of the constant demand for building sites by reason of the ever growing population. The enormous increase in the number of houses in England may be judged from the fact that in 1861 the duty on houses was about £16,000,000, whereas at present it has increased to about £38,000,000, having more than doubled in twenty years. This illustrates the cause of the large profits which have been made both by private individuals and companies, who have had the foresight to purchase suitable lands and develop them.



Dun's Mercantile Agency reports business improved, with a marked increase in clearings. Profits are not large, but money is being made and most all traders feel satisfied with the season's business. The money market is easy, and the present low price of iron and other raw staples invite capitalists to invest, fceling assured of a rich return in the future. No fears about the promptness of collections are entertained.

There has been a great deal of uneasiness in the mercantile community by reason of numerous and heavy failures. This of itself has caused all merchants to pursue a very prudent course, and we believe it a fact that credits are not extended, that stocks are low, that there is no speculation in general business and that the general mercantile situation of the country is sound One thing seems reasonably certain—if li quidation is not ended it has proceeded to such an extent that there is not much more for it to feed upon. "As near as we can summarize the situation; The country is sound, the banks are sound, merchants are sound, agricultural districts are sound, consumers of goods are sound, and have the means to pay for what they need.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

The New York Chronicle has the following on the condition of trade aud business prospects:

"The anticipations of a more favorable condition of business, so long indulged in by the more confident of merchants, tradesmen and builders, at the present writing have what may be termed a firmer foundation to rest upon. A better feeling has made itself manifest, although there are mauy who persist in declaring that we are on the eve of a panic or some other dire calamity. We do not look for any extensive increase in the crop of failures that has of late induced something akin to despondency in many business circles."

It is generally conceded that there has been no dimunition in the consuming capacity of the country, the burden of the reports being that the protracted shrinkage in prices and failures have begotten a feeling of distrusi; that buyers have adopted a haud-to-mouth policy, and that with excessive production in some departments and over competition in all, the profits have well-nigh dissapeared. And yet things are ot quite so bad as they are represented to be. Reckless speculators and imprudent merchants and manufacturers may come to grief, but consumers multiply and the exchange of commodities steadily enlarges year after year.

Money is remarkably abundant for this period of the year, but it is not readily obtainable except on the most undoubted security. Lenders look more to the certainty of payment than to the rate of interest, and are not disposed to take any risk; but as there is more than enough money offered to supply the wants of first-class borrowers, they are able to obtain what they need at low rates. Merchants and manufacturers who have not an abundant capital of their own however, are obliged to circumscribe their operations, and those who have done business mainly on borrowed money, or have extended their credit too much, are brought up short and forced to liquidation. As far as it has the effect of bringing people to a realizing sense of the duty of taking vigorous measures to correct the errors to which its advent is traceable, its influence are salutary, and will produce good results It certainly is highly important that everybody should understand that the laws of political economy cannot be trangressed with impunity.

The long contlnued depression in the prices of railway stocks and securities appears to have been checked, and if the prices now quoted represent their actual money and investment value, there ls likcly to be a large amount of money attracted to the Street. The long looked for rise would be inaugurated, and uuder the benign influence of prosperous days on the Stock Exchange there would be an improvement "all along the line" in other commodities than stocks, and in all the prominent industries. The effect of the great depression in railway securities should be to discourage any projects for the building of new lines or roads until there is an actual demand for their construction, by reason of an increase in their carrying trade, or a rapid development of the agricultural and other interests in the section lying between the proposed termini. Capital would be directed into other and safer channels, and in the ferocity of competition, industries and properties that now lie dormaut would be infused with new life, and attended with little risk to the capitalist, would be made to yield handsome profits. There would be a greater demaud for realty and as there is in every instance of improved property offered for sale within our knowledge, almost an absolute eertainty of a net return of not less than six, and frequently twelve, per cent, the result would be an active inquiry and sale, and an extension of building operations.

THE PROSPECTS OF THE SOUTH.

Eighteen years ago the southern states many of them, were but little better than a wilderness; at this day they are everywhere showing signs of a wonderful vitality, and the covetous eye of capital in Europe as well as in the North are attracted by their amazing resources. Railroads are running in every direction; mines of every description are in active operation; manufactories of various kinds, and in mauy instances of extraordinary capacity, are flourishing in every State; forests are dissapearing and millions of mouey coming in return for them; agriculture is all the time improving and advancing; men without work are exceptional; the old cities and towns have growu, some of them greatly and prosperously; new towns have sprung up and are rapidly expanding into cities; farmers, merchants, mechanics, and professioual men, are not only liviug but laying by a surplus in many instances; and indeed almost everywhere and in almost everything, throughout the length and breadth of southern territory, there are iudicatious of a much greater degree of progress and prosperiry than has ever been known by any other people emerging from such a situation in so short a time, And all this we must remember, is but in the initial era of the industrial reaction under which the south is just beginning to tremble, with the dynamic agencies of her inherent powers awakened and at work for her rehabilitation,

Texas has 175,587,840 acres of land, which entitles her to the credit of the Empire State, and these broad acres are gaining numbers of rmigrants every day, but the territory is so large that they seem but a drop in the bucket which is soon swallowed up, and only can be realized by actual count. It is computed that were Texas populated in the same ratio as one of the smaller northern States, there would be over 50,000,000 people. She now has a population of over 1,500,000. Yet the State is but small in numbers or population as compared with older States, and emigration is largely going her way, and the railroads in the south are competing for the emigrant travel over their several roads, which would lead one to think the fever had only just commenced.

Every day, every hour is imparting a new strength to the new impetus of the South in her career of progress, and the end of another decade will dispel the last doubt in the minds of the least hopeful of her people, as to the great and glorious future that is opening to her.

CITY COUNCIL.

An ordinance was passed for a six-inch drain on Ogden av, from Madison to West Twelfth street, also on Ewing Place from Robey street to Leavitt; also Lemoyne street from Robey to Leavitt and on Evergreen avenue same; for six-inch drains on Fowler street from Hoyne avenue to Leavitt and same ou Robey street from Bryson street to Evergreen street; same on Hoyne avenue from Bryson to North avenue. An ordinance was passed for sidewalks on both sides of Winchester avenue from West Adams to West Jackson street; for grading and paving DePuyster street from Desplaines to Halsted streets; same on West Van Buren streets from Halsted to Loomis; for grading and paving Halsted from West Twelfth to Sixteenth street; same on West Madison stree from Ashland avenue to Western avenue; for establishing sidewalk space and roadway on College place from Rhodes to Cottage Grove; same on Avon place from Hoyne to western terminus; for repealing ordinance for sidewalk on North side of Illinois street from St. Clair to eastern terminus; for establishing grade on Vincennes avenue to 135 feet north.

Lake View.

SEWERS WANTED.

An ordinance was passed providing for a system of sewers on Halsted, Diversey, Dunning, Wolfram and George streets and Lill avenue. Bids were received for the construction of sewers on Frederick and Orchard streets, and referred to the committee of the whole. A petition was received asking permission to tap the Fullerton avenue sewer west of Lincoln avenue. The matter was referred to the committee of the whole,

Permission was granted to open Fullerton avenue for the purpose of laying gas mains between Larrabee and Hurlburt streets and also to lay mains across Fullerton avenue to connect with the city mains between Clark and Larrabee streets.

An ordinance was passed providing for the issue of $25,000 additional water bonds for the purpose of extending the water system of the town. The bonds are to bear 5 per cent interest and are due and payable in twenty years.

Jefferson.

CITIZENS' MEETING.

A meeting of the citizens of Jefferson was held Monday evening at Kuhn's Hall, in Maplewood. for the purpose of discussing the question of a water supply for the town. Plans were proposed and discussed. One was to construct a complete system of works with an inlet main along Diversey street.

The other was a system of distributing mains within the town, connected with, and being supplied by, the Lake View system, provided terms could be made with Lake View. The latter was considered the more feasible, as the expense of a complete system, including pumping works, will probably exceed the means of the town.

ANNEXATION AN ALTERNATIVE.

Annexation with the city was spoken of as an alternative, but the sentiment of the people was against it, if a water supply could be obtained without.

Improvements for Hyde Park.

At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees of Hyde Park, the purchase of two steam fire engines, each to cost $3,600, was ordered. The commissioners appointed to estimate the cost of the various public improvements, reported the probable cost as follows: Sewer in Wabash avenue, Forty-third to Forty- seventh street, $10.945,45; water pipe in Michigan avenue, Sixty-third to Fifty-first street, $18,811,70; to supply deficiency of first assessment of Forty-fifth street sewer, $5,650; water pipe in Oakland avenue, Ellis avenue to Lake avenue, $840; sewer on forty-fifth street, Grand Boulevard to State street, $22,037,57; macadamizing Ellis avenue, forty-fourth to forty-seventh street, $14,282,50; water pipe in sixty-seventh street, $12,056; insufficiency of assessment for sewer in fortieth street, Langley avenue and thirty-ninth street, $1,500; water pipe in Ellis avenue, forty- fourth street to forty seventh street, $5,079; water pipe in Webster avenue, fifty-third to sixty-third street, $9.813; sewer on Madison avenue, fifty-sixth to fifty-fourth street, $6.346,45; sewer on Ellis avenue, forty-fourth to forty-seventh street, $8,683; for insufficiency of assessment for sewer in fifty-sixth street, Lake Michigan to Woodlawn avenue, $5,450,

The superintendent of Public works was authorized to expend the necessary amount to remedy several defects in sewers along forty-first , fifty,sixth and fifty-third streets, and south park avenue, The ordinance granting the Calumet River Railway Company the right to cross the Calumet river near fifty-ninth street was ordered engrossed.

NEW BOOKS.

Warvelle On Abstracts of Title.

The well-known law publishers, Messrs. Callaghan and Company will issue their new book on Abstracts of Title as soon as the same can be bound by the Legal News Co., who have already finished printing it. The book is destined to be a leading text book on the subject. We refer to the practical treatise on the preparation and compilation of title abstracts and the leading principles of law applicable to examinations of title; with numerous forms and precedents by George W. Warvelle.

Although Abstracts of Title have long been in use in all parts of the Union, no American writer, has heretofore attempted to prescribe rules or advance suggestions relative to the best methods for the proper and systematic presentation of questions of title in the abstract, nor for passing upon the questions as presented. Both of these points this work has most satisfactorily encompassed.

The plan of the treatise contemplates a general elementary review of the subject of title to land, so far as the same may be useful in the preparation or perusal of abstracts; a brief preliminary inquiry into the origin of American land titles, and of the inceptive stages of the same, including all the various methods of the primary disposal of the public domain; a general summary of the various methods of the acquisition and transfer of land and the evidences of title to the same, including concise statements of the operation and effect of all instruments used as vehicles for the conveyance of title, and of all actions and proceedings by which it may be in any way affected or implicated; and a thorough practical resume of the latest approved methods for abstracting the contents of deeds, mortgages, wills, etc.; the proceedings and determinations of courts; execution, judicial and tax sales, and the proper presentation of descents.

To this has been added explicit directions for preparing the formal parts of the abstract, captious, conclusions, etc., with valuable suggestions relative to laying out and keeping a set of abstract indices, and a further chapter on passing and preparing opinions of title.

A set of abstract indices, including Entry Books, Tract, Judgment and Tax Indices, is shown by illustrative sample pages, and in a manner sufficiently plain to admit of easy comprehension and prnctical application,

Mr. Warvelle has not only had experience as a lawyer, but practical experience as an abstract maker, and as a consequence he now presents a treatisc which not only gives the legal principles involved in a scientific manner, but serves as a practical guide to the abstract maker and the examiner of titles. Fvery man, be he lawyer or layman, who has to examine titles and pass upon abstracts, will have reason to be thankful to Mr. Warvelle for his valuable and pioneer treatise upon the subject.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

The publisher regrets the necessity for calling attention to the fact that a certain individual who was allowed to represent this Journal a short time ago, was discharged for good cause and since his dismissal has been going about among advertisers for the purpose of maligning and injuring the Journal. This same individual or some one representing him has written and signed what purports to be an order or a copy of a contract for advertising in the Real Estate and Building Jonrnal, whereby different conditions and terms are agreed upon, so as to defeat the collection of the bill, One of these fellows has been sued for money wrongfully obtained from this paper, and a judgment against him awaits collection in one of the Justices courts of this city. Any man engaged in so reprehensible a business is both a liar and a dead-beat. The public are notified accordingly. A fuller description of these men will be given.

NEW YORK.

Real Estate and Traders Exchange.

The opening of the above association was most auspicious on the 12th of September last at No 39 Broadway. Within 90 days the organization has a membership of 400. Composed of real estate agents, bankers, brokers and merchants, with daily additions of new members, and has a bank account of $20,000 derived from the sale of seats a great reat rent paid and no liabilities. If the future success is to be determined by the opening of the Real Estate and Traders Exchange of New York will be a flattering success. There is no reason why a National Real Estate Exchange should not succeed in New York or in Chicago. There is need of such an enterprise. The interest it represents is the real wealth of the country. The object of this Exchange is to facilitate the real estate business of the whole country by establishing a common headquarters where real estate brokers can meet and transact business. There will be daily calls and auction sales, the negotiation of loans, the sale of bonds and other securities. There will also be connected with the Exchange a gratuity life insurance fund, which will be for the mutual benefit of its members. Corresponding memberships will be sold at a nominal price, enabling real estate brokers throughout the country to enjoy the privileges of the Exchange by correspondence, and when in the city the full privileges of the floor and office facilities. The New York Real Estate and Traders' Exchange has a wide field before it and needs only good management, honest dealings in all its transactions to develop an institution of power and usefulness long needed.

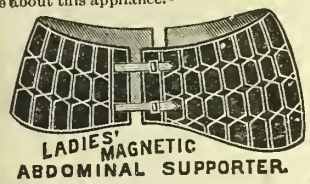
DISEASE CURED WITHOUT MEDICINE.

A Valuable Discovery for Supplying Magnetism to the Human System.



Electricity and Magnetism United as never before, for Healing the Sick.

THIS MAGNETIC BELT IS

WARRANTED TO CURE Or Money Refunded, the following diseases without medicine:—Pain in the back, hips, head, or limbs, nervous debility, lumbago, general debility, rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, sciatica, diseases of the kidneys, spinal diseases, torpid liver, gout, seminal emissions, impotency, asthma, heart disease, dyspepsia, constipation, erysipelas, indigestion, hernia or rupture, catarrh, piles, epilepsy, dumb ague, etc.

When any debility of the GENERATIVE ORGANS occurs, lost vitality, lack of nerve force and vigor, wasting weaknesses, and all those diseases of a personal nature, from whatever cause, the continuous stream of Magnetism permeating through the parts must restore them to a healthy action. There is no mistake about this appliance.

Warranted TRY ONE.

LADIES' MAGNETIC ABDOMINAL SUPPORTER.

TO THE LADIES:— If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Exhaustion, Dyspepsia, or with Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Headache or Cold Feet, Swollen or Weak Ankles, or Swollen Feet, an Abdominal Belt and a pair of Magnetic Foot Batteries have no superior in the relief and cure of all these complaints. They carry a powerful magnetic force to the seat of the disease.

For Lame Back, Weakness of the Spine, Falling of the womb, Leucorrhœa, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Barrenness and change of Life, this is the Best Appliance and Curative Agent Known.

For all forms of Female Difficulties it is unsurpassed by anything before invented, both as a curative agent and as a source of power and vitalization.

Price of either Belt with Magnetic Foot Batteries, $10. Sent by express C. O. D., and examination allowed, or by mail on receipt of price. In ordering, send measure of waist and size of shoe. Remittance can be made in currency, sent in letter at our risk.

The Magneton Garments are adapted to all ages, are worn over the under clothing, (not next to the body like the many Galvanic and Electric Humbugs advertised so extensively) and should be taken off at night. They hold their power forever, and are worn at all seasons of the year.

Send stamp for the "New Departure in Medical Treatment Without Medicine," with thousands of testimonials

TO PRESERVE THE HEALTH

Use the Magneton Appliance Co.'s

--:--Magnetic Lung Protector--:--

Price Only $5.

They are priceless to Ladies, Gentlemen and children with weak lungs, no case of Pneumonia or Croup is ever known where these garments are worn. They also prevent and cure Heart difficulties, colds, rheumatism, pneuralgia, throat troubles, diptheria catarrh and all kindred dieeases. Will wear any service for three years. Are worn over the under-clothing.

Catarrh, It is needless to describe the symptoms of this nauseous disease that is sapping the life and strength of only too many of the fairest and best of both sexes. Labor, study and research in America, Europe and Eastern lands, have resulted in the Magnetic Lung Protector, affording cure for catarrh, a remedy which contains no drugging of the system, and with the continuous stream of magnetism permeating through the afflicted organs, must restore them to a healthy action. We place our price for this appliance at less thau one-twentieth of the price asked by others for remedies upon which you take all the chances, and we especially invite the patronage of the many persoffs who have tried drugging their stomachs without effect

How to Obtain This appliance Go to your druggist and ask for them. If they have uot got them, write to the proprictors, enclosing the price, in letter at our risk, and they will be sent to you at once, by mail, post paid.

Send stamp for the "New Departure in Medical Treatment without Medicine," with thousands of testimonials.

THE MAGNETON APPLIANCE CO.,
218 State Street, Chicago, Ill.

Note,—Send one dollar in postage stamps or currency (in letter at our risk) with size of shoe usually worn, and try a pair of our Magnetic Insoles and be convinced of the power residing in our Magnetic Appliances. Positivcly no cold where they are worn, or mouey refunded.

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Callatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

TWO TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and MINNEAPOLIS and ST. PAUL, via the famous

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph street, Bryant Block, Chicago, Ill.

Manistee, Mich has exported tbis year up to Sept. 1, according to the Custom House books, 115,005,000 feet of lumber, 367,809,000 shingles, 10,038,000 lath, aud 5,705,000 cubic feet of timber.

According to the statement of the Export Lumber Co. of New. York, there has been exported of white pine from that port: For July, 6,402,000 feet; for August 5,160,000 feet; for September, 3,582,000 feet; from July 1 to October 1, 45,796,000 feet or 4,700,000 more than for the same period in 1882.

A recent statement shows that there are engaged in getting out and manufncturing lumber in Canada about 100,000 men who support their families, forming a grand total of 500,000, or about one-ninth of the population of the dominion. In sawmills and machinery $25,000,000 is invested and in land and lumbering outfits about $50,000,000, or more than one third of the amount invested in all the other industrial establishments.

BUILDING STATISTICS.

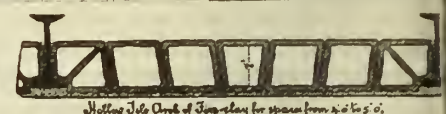
Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, Nov. 17, 1883.

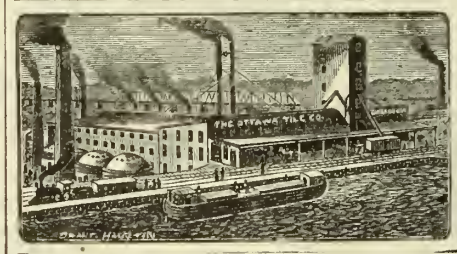
THE MARKET.

The instruments of conveyance as they are brought to record disclosed about all there is of interest in the land trade in Cook County. Almost double the number of deeds have been recorded each day this week. that were reported for the days of last week, but many of them were for sales consummated long ago; as for instance the N w 1-4 and east ½, 17. 36, 15, being 316 acres on the state line near Hammond Station, Ind., dated May 15, for $48,150- by the Union Mut. Life Ins. Co. to John J. McClellan. The same property was conveyed by the latter to B. F. Jacobs, May 23, for $64,000. The above sales were recorded on Thursday, Nov 15; six months after they were made. The more recent sales of note are as follows: 80 feet north of Harrison street, wast front 40x172½, Nov. 14, by V. B. and Ira Holmes to Lester H. Eames, for $32,000, or at the rate of $800 per front foot; fourteen lots on Forest avenue, 154 feet notth of Fullerton avenue, for $10,000, by S. M. Nickerson to C. S. Crosby; on Nov. 10, Henry Greenebaum, trustee, conveyed to Jno. D. Jennings 60x138 feet on State street, 160 feet south of Congress street, for $45,100, or more than $750 per front foot. Other recent sales of importance are as follows: to wit; Clark street 62 feet north af Monroe street, east front 24x90. improved, Oct. 30, H. C. Wheeler to H. P. Peabody. for $52,000; Madison street west north-east corner Water street, leasehold and 30 feet adjoining and 50x155 7-10 with mill etc., Oct. 10, L. D. & J. L. Norton to Norton Milling Co. for $200.000; on Nov. 9, Rebecca Steiner sold to C, H. Allen, 50x160½ feet on Michigan Avenue Boulevard, 147 feet north of 32nd street, west front, for $18,750, or $375 per front foet; on Washington Boulevard, north west corner Leavitt street, south front 118x124 improved, Nov. 8, H, B. Peabody sold to Wm Ripley for $20,000 or about $170 per foot. Now, be it remembered that owners have been asking $200 per front foot for vacant property on the last named Boulevard, and $400 per front foot for lots on Michigan avenue Boulevard on the south side at and near the points above described. On Wabash avenue 210 feet s0uth of Jackson street, 55x180 feet improved was transferred Nov. 9, by Master in Chancery to Franci3 E. Ogden for $103,500, Under the head of agreements it will be seen that John Harrison sold to John L. Scanlan the Se 1-4 of Sec, 15 and the S w 1-4 of Sec. 14, town 38 north range 12, for $22,000 on Nov. 12. South Chicago, Evanston and Hyde Park show signs of life at all seasons of the year at handsome prices. Those of our readers who make daily use of the Journal as a guide in their operations will find food for thought as well as the transactions usually paraded as news by the Sunday papers. Further comment on the sales of the week is unnecessary—save this—that transactions are more numerous, and far larger amounts than were chronicled a week ago.



Winter has fairly set in, if a cold snap is any indication. The rate at which money is being loaned is better understood by studying the trust deed and mortgage columns than by interviewing bankers and loan agents, as all the facts together with the location, are given in a concise form. Building is continued at the rate of 6 to 10 hermits each day, and Chicago will be as well supplied with good houses as any city in the West when this season's building is at an end.

A PLEA FOR APARTMENT HOUSES.



The great temptation to build apartment houses lies in the fact that, as much room can be obtained on two lots as could be had out of five or six by the single house plan. The price of lots on the best streets of Chicago, within reasonable distance of the business centre, although only one-fourth to one tenth as dear as in New York, has become an item of so much importance that capitalists much prefer to build large apartment houses. rather than small dwellings cottages. People are apt fo forget the gr revolution effected by the elevator, wh has practically increased the area of York city two fold. Builders now buy a not so much with a view as to the kind house they will be able to build on it how high a structure they can get on They utilize the space upwards more th the foundation on which it is reared. course they have to pay for the height building in the increased strength requi in the lower part of the superstructure in the walls beams and so forth, but thi compensated for a hundred-fold by the s ing in the ground. It may be added, that the value of every lot in the apartm house locality is very much increasd. ow to the greater prospective income which be derived from it by the erection of a si lar building. With a ten story buildi eovering twelve city lots, 25x100, sixty-f families or suites should be the maximu It costs only a quarter of the sum requi to furnish a private dwelling, and much l in service and heat, and saves by means the elevator, the trouble of ascending descending fiights of stairs, especially children and the aged and infirm. The ter advantage is one of the principal reas why apartment houses are popular with dies. From a physical point of view, it no doubt true that children would be bet off if reared in the country as city li does not admit of much fresh air for a child. Grown up persons can have no f of course, of being made hot house pla of, As for the children, as much fresh should be given to them as possible un any circumstances, and it is the duty of ery city government to provide a great nu ber of parks for the recreation of the p ple, especially in the densely populated d tricts. Swings and other gymnastic app rattuses should be reserved for use in a c ner of each of the parks, so that the phy cal development of the children shonld assisted thereby.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

he general outlook for business in this ntry is more hopeful. The railroad re- ts show that a large amount of material eing transported, but at very close rates. fits are not as large of they were a year , but the amonut of business transacted larger. There is a better demand for road iron, Mexico having become a pur- ser in our markets. Our manufactures e to meet the demand there better than gland, The only difficulty in this direc- n is the enormous productive power of mills. Wheat made an advance in Chi- o on the rumor of a European war. e readiness with which prices ad- ice shows there is a healthy undertone business. Evidently the country is in hape to advance all kinds of business; course the margin for profit will be small, ck speculations have been inactive, and future is full of uncertainfy. The indi- ions are that prices will harden, but op- ting in stocks on margin is a most dan- rous operation.

The noticeable feature in business is the se of money. The arrival of $1,250,000 m Europe and a gain in revenues by the w York banks, with only a moderate de and for crop moving purposes, have not ly imparted ease but promise its continu- ce. The flow of gold from Europe prom- s to continue. This is accounted for by e favorable balance of trade. On the me bulk of business the balance has been rned $100,000,000, in our favor; that is, have bought $50,000,000 less and sold 0,000,000 more as compared with the same riod last year.

TIMBER TESTING.

Besides straight and close grain, freedom om sap, shakes, and loose knots, good tim- r such as the best deals, should have a niform color throughout. Appearances of mber may mislead if they are not in ccordance with well-understood character- tics of soundness. In the same species of mber the strongest and most desirable pecimens will be marked by narrow, regu- ir, annual rings, indicating slow growth nd close texture. The cellular tissue as een in medullary rays, should also be rm and compact. Uniformity of substances s one of the chief characteristics of good imber; dead knots, flaws and shakes are, of course, prejudicial and affect the strength. In sawn timber the architect should see that the surface is not woolly, and that it does not clog the teeth of the saw. A bright, silky appearance should be apparent when planed, while a "dull chalky appearance," says one authority, "is a sign of bad timber." When the annual rings are porous, the wood is weak. Mr. Britton has remarked that good timber is sonorous when struck, while a dull heavy sound betokens decay. "Star shakes" and "cup shakes" or splits in the direction of the rings and rays, are to be avoided, especially heart shakes, which prevent large scantlings being cut. Good deals have a uniform color, and darkness of tone is a stgn of strength and durability. In best pine timber the annual rings are hard, of a dark red color, but these vary in tint; the rings ought not to exceed one-tenth of an inch. Oak, if of the best kind, should be of a pale brownish-yellow color, with a percepitible shade of green, a firm and glossy surface, and hard and compact medullary rays. Laslett observes: "Bright-looking timber is better than dull, and that which is smooth in the working better than the rough or woolly surfaced." The heart of trees having the most sap-wood is generally stronger and better in quality than the heart of trees of the same species that have little sapwood." No doubt the microscope affords a better test of good timber than the naked eye. The use of the microscope in testing timber was noticed in a paper read at the Franklin Institate, Philadelphia, in which the author showed that timber condemned by that instrument cannot be mistaken, and after once seeing and comparing samples of good and bad wood it is easy to recognize the difference with a pocket magnifying glass. The micro-photographs of different sorts have shown that in the strong kinds the concentric layers are close in texture and narrow in width. and the radial plates are numerous, wide, long and stout, while in poor wood the opposite characteristics prevail. With such sections of timber of known strength ii would be easy to discard samples which did not exhibit the same number of rings or radial plates per inch of section. Generally, it will be found that the strongest scantlings are generally obtained near the sap. It is considered, as a rule, that American pine is generally less durable than that from the Baltic, thouhh it may be clean and free from defects. The Prussian timber stands the first in the order of quality, according to Mr. Laslett, then the timber from Russia, Sweden, Finland and Norway.—Exchange.

THE LAND QUESTION IN EUROPE

During the last ten years the indebtedness of the agricultural classes throughout Europe has increased to an alarming extent, and the problem now is, for how long a period can the small farmers carry their gradually increasing debts, which are principally in the form of mortgages on lands that in former years merely yielded them sufficient to sustain life comfortably. It has been openly stated in the Prussian Chambers that small farmers and landlords in Germany, in a majority of cases, are hopelessly snnk in debt.

For several years the lands of England have been receding from cultivation, simply because the tillers of the soil cannot compete with the farmers of other countries—notably those of the United States—where land is much cheaper. The land question is not to be underestimated and is one of serious importance to all the great agricultural countries of Europe.

British, German and French farmers are compelled to compete with the farmer sor freeholders in Kansas, Dakota, Minnesota and the far West. Within the past nine years the farmer on the Northern Pacific road could purchase his farm at a low price from the company, or obtain it from the government for nothing, put up shanties and spend a few hundred dollars on plant, and raise his thirty or forty bushels of wheat to the acre, and immediately sell it at the nearest railroad station to be shipped abroad. His rental is almost nothing, his expense for manure nothing; the interest on his outfit very small. His main expenses are labor. Against all this his foreign competitor has only to aid him, his possible superior skill and the cost of carriage.

The remains of the feudal system of land tenure are yet deeply rooted in the continental countries, and producing a ferment there that appears at times inexplicable to the American mind. The British farmer will be finally compelled to leave the land because he cannot pay the rental.

The same may be said of the German tiller of the soil, whose condition is, perhaps, even closer to a state of starvrtion or impoverishment than his English neighbor. The only relief, then, for the under-fed peasantry of the older nations is to be found in emigration to our shores. As our unsettled sections in the West comprises an enormous acreage, room will be found for all, and the youngest of the great nations will continue to extend a welcome hand to honest and hardy imigrants driven from home through inability to compete with the cheaper cost in the production of cereals, made possible by the development of the United States.

West Park Board.

Financial Matters.

The Board of West Park Commissioners met in regular session Monday afternoon in the rooms of the Roard, Commissioner Brenock, the President, in the chair. All of the members of the board were present.

A communication was read from Geu. G. W. Smith stating that Mr. and Mrs. Furiong would give a quit claim deed in favor of the Park Commissioners to that portion of their premises abutting on Grand avenue for the sum of $1000. It is claimed by the board that the premises have been condemned for park purposes and paid for. The communication was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

W, E, Mason, Attorney for the Board, preented the following bill: Salary for October, $100; services prior to Oct 1, $300. Referred to the Chair with power to act.

The Judiciary Committee, to whom was referred to the monthly reports of the Treasurer of the Board, recommended that they be approved. Adopted.

The Finance Committee submitted the following report of the receipts and disbursements: Total receipts, $27,51.395; total disbursements, $950.21; balance on hand Oct, 31, 1883, $27,229.25. Adopted.

Following is the general monthly report of the Finance Committee for October 1883: Total receipts, $12,917.78; total disbursements, $8,369.13; balance on haud, Oct, 31 1883, $4,548.65. Adopted.

The board then went into executive session.

THE CORN CROP.

The November report of the Department of Agriculture gives the local yield per acre in the October final report. The condition of corn, which averaged seventy-eight, "was interpreted to mean a product" of close to 1,600,000,000 bushels. The average yied per acre appears to be twenty-three and one-tenth bushels—one and one-half bushels lower than the yield of 1882. This gives a result practically identical with that of October. On the acrcage reported in July of 68,300,000, the exact figures would be 1,577,-000,000 bushels. In the revision of the season's returns this result will not be materially changed. The product will, therefore, be about 40,000,000 bushels short of the previous crop, notwithstanding the increase of area.

The potato crop is large, amounting to 175,000,000 bushels,

AMERICAN FAT-STOCK SHOW.

HELD AT CHICAGO NOV. 14 to 22.

The office force of the Department of Agriculture is busily engaged in opening and attending to the large mails coming in by every train from exhibitors who propose to show cattle, sheep or hogs, etc., at the approaching show, which takes place in Chicago Nov, 14 to 22. The interest in this great show is increasing each year, and it now attracts exhibitors from England, Scotland and Canada and all the states engaged in meat production. The general character of this show is the same as that of the great Smithfiold cattle show of London, England, for nearly a century so popular with all classes, and especially with those who consume the high priced meats throughout the British Isles and the European continent The exhibition has for its object the encouragement of breeders and feeders in the matter of raising a better class of meat stock for market, and to educate the consumer in the difference in quality of meat consumed daily. The Fat Stock show attracts the choicest specimens of stock that this continent can produce, and when these cattle, hogs, and sheep are dressed and put on the hooks at the Exposition building, the best opportunity is given for judging the difference between the best quality of meat and that usually purchased at the shops of butchers throughout the country. There is much difference in the quality of meat as the value of glass and the diamond of first water, There is more deception a fraud in the sale and purchase of meat th any other article found on the table of average American citizen, simply becau our people are not educated in this matt

The arrangements for the exhibition fat stock at the show have been admirab and cannot fail to meet the approval of t ladies and gentlemen who may attend. T reports of the attendance at the previc exhibitions show that a large proportion the visitors are ladies. who manifest mu pleasure in examining the beautiful catt sheep and hogs, so smoothly covered a nicely proportioned and with tender. juic steaks, roasts loins, etc,, so artissically l raded.

The number of entries received to da leave no doubt that the exhibit will be per cent larger than any former exhibitio while the rivalry existing among feeders the breeds of cattle gives assuranee that t quality will be in keeping with the great increased numbers. At this early date e tries of fat cattle, sheep and hogs have bee received from Great Britain, the Canada Kentucky, Indiana. Michigan, Ohio, Illinoi Iowa, Wisconsin, Kansas, and olher mea producing States. The contributions fro England have gone through quarantine good condition and will soon arrive in Ch cago. Several new candidates for publ favor will be on exhibition at this show fc the first time. including several noted spec mens of Aberdeen-Angus and Galloway ca tle from Scotland. The show of horses wi be large and attractive, and will include th best specimens of draft horses from Franc England and Scotlaud.

There will be about 250 head of breedin stock on exhibition representing all th leading beef breeds of cattle, and some ex cellent specimens of dairy cattle from Hol land, known as Holsteins.

These cattle will be sold at public auctio from day to day during the continuance o the show.

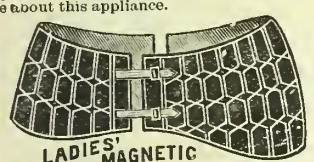
DISEASE CURED WITHOUT MEDICINE.

A Valuable Discovery for Supplying Magnetism to the Human System.



Electricity and Magnetism Universally Used in Curing the Sick.

THIS MAGNETIC BELT IS

WARRANTED TO CURE Or Money Refunded, the following diseases without medicine:—Pain in the back, hips, head, or limbs, nervous debility, lumbago, general debility, rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, sciatica, diseases of the kidneys, spinal diseases, torpid liver, gout, seminal emissions, impotency, asthma, heart disease, dyspepsia, constipation, erysipelas, indigestion, hernia or rupture, catarrh, piles, epilepsy, dumb ague, etc.

When any debility of the GENERATIVE ORGANS occurs, lost vitality, lack of nerve force and vigor, wasting weaknesses, and all those diseases of a personal nature, from whatever cause, the continuous stream of Magnetism permeating through the parts must restore them to a healthy action. There is no mistake about this appliance.

Warranted

TRY ONE.

TO THE LADIES:— If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Exhaustion, Dyspepsia, or with Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Headache or Cold Feet, Swollen or Weak Ankles, or Swollen Feet, an Abdominal Belt and a pair of Magnetic Foot Batteries have no superior in the relief and cure of all these complaints. They carry a powerful magnetic force to the seat of the disease.

For Lame Back, Weakness of the Spine, Falling of the womb, Leucorrhœa, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Barrenness and change of Life, this is the Best Appliance and Curative Agent Known.

For all forms of Female Difficulties it is unsurpassed by anything before invented, both as a curative agent and as a source of power and vitalization.

Price of either Belt with Magnetic Foot Batteries, $10. Sent by express C. O. D., and examination allowed, or by mail on receipt of price. In ordering, send measure of waist and size of shoe. Remittance can be made in currency, sent in letter at our risk.

The Magneton Garments are adapted to all ages, are worn over the underclothing, (not next to the body like the many Galvanic and Electric Humbugs advertised so extensively) and should be taken off at night. They hold their power forever, and are worn at all seasons of the year.

Send stamp for the "New Departure in Medical Treatment Without Medicine," with thousands of testimonials

TO PRESERVE THE HEALTH

Use the Magneton Appliance Co.'s

--:--Magnetic Lung Protector--:--

Price Only $5.

They are priceless to Ladies, Gentlemen and children with weak lungs, no case of Pneumonia or Croup is ever known where these garments are worn. They also prevent and cure Heart difficulties, colds, rheumatism, pneuralgia, throat troubles, diptheria catarrh and all kindred dieeases. Will wear any service for three years. Are worn over the under-clothing.

Catarrh, It is needless to describe the symptoms of this nauseous disease that is sapping the life and strength of only too many of the fairest and best of both sexes. Labor, study and research in America, Europe and Eastern lands, have resulted in the Magnetic Lung Protector, affording cure for catarrh, a remedy which contains no drugging of the system, and with the continuous stream of magnetism permeating through the afflicted organs, must restore them to a healthy action. We place our price for this appliance at less than one-twentieth of the price asked by others for remedies upon which you take all the chances, and we especially invite the patronage of the many persoffs who have tried drugging their stomachs without effect

How to Obtain This appliance Go to your druggist and ask for them. If they have not got them, write to the proprietors, enclosing the price, in letter at our risk, and they will be sent to you at once, by mail, post paid.

Send stamp for the "New Departure in Medical Treatment without Medicine," with thousands of testimonials.

THE MAGNETON APPLIANCE CO.,

218 State Street, Chicago, Ill.

Note,—Send one dollar in postage stamps or currency (in letter at our risk) with size of shoe usually worn, and try a pair of our Magnetic Insoles and be convinced of the power residing in our Magnetic Appliances. Positively no cold where they are worn, or money refunded.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Callatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELECANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

TWO TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and MINNEAPOLIS and ST. PAUL, via the famous

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

For more detailed information, see Maps and Folders, which may be obtained, as well as Tickets, at all principal Ticket Offices in the United States and Canada, or of PARTY WALLS.

A party wall in law is the wall dividing lands of different proprietors, used in common for the support of structures on both sides. At common law. an owner erects a wall for his own buildings which is capable of being used by an adjoining proprietor, cannot compel such proprietor, when he shall build next to it. to pay for any portion of the cost of such wall. On the other hand. the adjoining proprietor has no right to make any use of such wall without consent of the owner, and the consequence may be the erection of twe walls side by side, when one would answer all purposes. This convenience is often secured by an agreement to erect a wall for common use, one-half on each other's land, the parties to divide the expense; if only one is to build at the time, he gets a return from the other party of half what it costs him. Under such an agreement, each has an easement in the land of the other, while the wall stands, and this accompanies the titles in sales and descent. But if the wall is destroyed by decay or accident, the ease is gone, unless by a deed such contingency is provided for. Repairs to party walls are to be borne equally; but if one has occasion to strengthen or improve them for a more extensive building than was at first contemplated, he cannot compel the other to divide the expense with him. In some States there are statutes regulating the rights in party walls, and one may undoubtedly acquire rights by prescription on a wall built by another. which he has long been allowed to use for the support of his own structure.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph street, Bryant Block, Chicago, Ill.

BUILDING NOTES FROM ABROAD.

Builders are so busy in Washington that it is hard to get ne most trifling repairs done. Houses are going up all ver the city, and land since 1880 has quadrupled in value. laine's house cost $67,000, including the land; Robeson,s ost $28,000, but he bought his lot several years ago; Don ameron's between $40,000 and $50,000, while those of Pen- leton, Windom, and Hazen averaged about $35,000. But obeson asks $100,000 for his house, and lots everywhere re assuming metropolitan prices. A member could for- erly hire a nicely furnished house for $150 a month dur- g the session; now the same accommodations are twice as igh, and floors in good neighborhoods, which four years go rented at $50 are now scarce at $100. The influx ere grows each winter, People who cut but a moderate gure on $10,000 a year in New York and Baltimore, can ome here and live handsomely, The result is that Penn- lvania avenue of an afternoon is crowded with handsome rnouts, and houses renting at $2000 to $3000 a year are demand. A large number of flats are being erected oo.

In many of the business houses in Paris and especially those of which the cellars are used as offices, glass is now being extensively used instead of boards for flooring. At the headquarters of the Credit Lyonnais, on the Boulevard des Italiens, the whole of the ground floor is paved with large squares of roughened glass embedded in a strong iron frame, and in the cellars beneath there is, even on dull days sufficient light to enable the clerks to work without gas. The large central hall at the offices of the Comptoir d'Escompte has lately been provided with a similar flooring; and it is said that although its prime cost is considerably greater than that of boards, glass in the long run is said to be far cheaper, owing to its almost unlimited durability, The material is cast in slabs about eighteen inches square by an inch and a half thick, and transmits a blueish light.

Bricks impregnated at a high temperature with asphalt are being successfully used in Berlin for street pavement, By driving out the air and water with heat, bricks will take up from fifteen to twenty per cent of bitumen, and the porous, brittle material becomes durable and elastic under pressure. It is said that the rough usage which a pavement made of these bricks will stand is amazing.

THE BUILDING BOOM.

It is already conceded by Eastern journals that Chicago will again surpass any other city in the Union in the number of new buildings erected in 1883. New York city stands at the head in the aggregate amount of money expended in new buildings. Never before in the history of Chicago has there been so much done to beautify and adorn the city, except perhaps the year after the great fire.

A little less than five years ago the river south of Monroe and west of LaSalle street, which is now covered with the immense wholesale houses of the city, was practically untenanted. The wonderful rise in values in real estate in that district is now being parallelled in land adjoining or adjacent to the square on which the new board of trade building is being erected at the foot of LaSalle street. On the south half of this square and facing the Lake Shore Mich & Southern railway station a twelve-story office building will be begun in the spring by the Armour-Keut-Brinsley syndicate. On the northwest corner of LaSalle and Jackson streets, C C Counselman is pushing forward the construction of a fine ten-story office building of pressed brick with sandstone trimmings. An eight-story office building just north of the Counselman building, to cost $150,000, will soon be begun by Wm. A. Giles. Immediately west of these buildings, with a frontage on both Jackson and Quincy streets, the Royal Insurance Company's ten-story building of pressed brick and granite, to cost $500,000 is in process of construction. The square bounded by Jackson, Clark and Van Buren streets, and Pacific avenue, will soon have, beside the substantial Mendel building, the McCoy hotel building, and business blocks to be begun in the spring by Wm. C McCoy, Henry L. Everhart, Mary E. Hanley, and Malcom McNeill. The new open board of trade building, and an office building, to cost $100,000, facing the new board of trade on Sherman street, just south of Jackson, to be built by John D. Parker, have been already begun. C. M. Henderson will build a seven-story structure for the use of the business house of C. M. Henderson & Co., on the corner of Adams and Market streets. It is also understood that Marshall Field will erect a magnificent structure for business purposes, to cover the entire square bounded by Adams, Franklin and Quincy streets, and the river with a fine building, to be used as a warehouse by the firm of Jno. V. Farwell & Co. The interest and attention of property-holders and buyers, as well as that of all business men of the city, have been for some time past fixed upon the probable results and benefits of the approaching removal of the board of trade (in May or September next) to the local commercial and real-estate interests. Comment upon the new board of trade building, the construction of which has been pushed forward in a wonderful way, has been most favorable, Most people feel that it is to be a great architectural triumph for Chicago.

The construction of the new building of the board of trade is progressing rapidly and satisfactorily,

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, NOV. 24, 1885.

THE MARKET.

At this season of the year the attention of our merchants and business men is being directed more to the winding up of the years business than to new investments. Very few sales of importance have been made this week and nothing of interest remains to be said by the editor as far as the land trade in Cook County is concerned, Last week's Journal showed that over $1.500,000 worth of property was transferred in Cook county mainly within the seven mile radius. The most remarkable feature of the trade is and has been the large number of sales north of the city limits. About forty sales were made and recorded in last week's Journal for Lake View alone. A good deal of inquiry is reported by agents and is confined to lots and property for use and immediate improvement. A good deal has been said about the business centre of the city drifting south, but many of our thinking men who have watched the growth of the city for many years, are of the opinion that Washington street will continue to be "THE office street of the city." This street is wider than Madison street and wider than any other street between Randolph and Van Buren; its width being eighty feet, Higher buildings can be erected without impairing the light, Madison street is only seventyfive feet wide and is strictly a business street, Monroe is but sixty six feet wide, Adams and Jackson, the same. Besides the Montauk and First National Bank building on Monroe street, there is nothing suitable for first class offices. The building No's 99 and 101 Washington street is now six stories high with basement, all well lighted from top to bottom, and supplied with a first class elevator. The building contains forty offices or suites, all of which are rented to first class tenants at a fair rental. Not a good building on the last named street will ever suffer for tenants, although the cry is "to the south."

The United States Rolling Stock Co's property in Block three, S. J. Walker's second Dock add between Robey street and Hoyne avenue with frontage on the west branch of the south branch, consisting of thirty five lots and dock slip is for sale. The above company has bought ground in section thirty one, near south Chicago and will rebuild there.

The McCord Estate

was finally settled by Judge Jamison's decision on Wednesday in the case of Ira McCord vs. Andrew McCord, et al. This divides the great estate of Jason McCord and nearly $1,000,000 worth of property is involved. Messrs. C. N. Holden, H. C. Morley and M. Watkins were appointed commissioners to appraise the value of the property. The estimate is as follows:

The Brevoort house, subject to a lease to J. E. Taylor and others, $135,000; the property on the southeast corner of State and Adams streets, leased to H. L. Taylor, $180,000; the adjoining property. in the form of an L, on both Adams and State streets, leased to Phoebe Brown, $100,000; the lot on the corner of Clinton and Washington streets, leased to the Garden City Manufacturing Company, $165,000; No, 202 Lake street, $27,000; No. 105 Lake street, $40,000; Nos, 75 and 77 Lake street, $80,000; No. 89 South Water street, $5,000; No. 26 Van Buren street, $21,000; about four acres at Blue Island $12,000; and a farm in Will county, $18,500. The property is not to be sold for less than two-thirds of the price set on it by the commissioners. The terms are one-third cash and the balance in three years with interest at 6 per cent. The sale is to be made by B. D. Magruder, master in chancery, after giving three weeks' notice of the time and place of the sale in the daily papers. The total value of the property is, as appraised, $703,500.

Quieting Titles to Numerous Holdings in South Chicago.

Judge Gardner decided the case of Torrence against Shedd yesterday finding for the defeudants, and therby quieting the title of about forty land owners. The land comprises 160 acres and is worth about $300,000.

The original proprietor was Askun, a Pottawatomie chief, who deeded it to Louis de Seille, a catholic missionary priest. Father de Seille deeded two thirds of the land to Father Sorin, of South Bend Indiana. and died in 1856, leaving the other one third to his brother, Fdouard de Seille, of Ghent Belgium. Father Sorin conveyod his two thirds to the late James H Bowen, and promised that he would acquire title to the remaining one third interest and also convey that to Bowen. He went to Belgium in 1879 and procured a deed from Edouard de Seille, but on his return found that Bowen was bankrupt and so sold the one third interest to Joseph T. Torrence. Gen. Torrence brought suit for a partitiou of the property, and that was decided Wednesday.

After Bowen's bankruptcy his share in the land was taken by the Fidelity Savings bank his crediior, and on the failure of that institution V C Turpin, its receiver divided the land into bvilding lots and sold it to about forty people, who built cottages upon their holdings.

New York.

Great dullness has prevaiied since the first of the month, A few sales have transpired but they were mostly forecloseures and there was so little interest evinced for the possession of them that they were purchased by the mortagors, albeit one was on Fifth avenue which brought $116,300. There has been a sale at private contract, of West side vacant lots, which are intended as sites for new buildings, which probably will not be commeuced until the spring. The elections no doubt have disturbed the mind of capitalists, and thus lessened the inclinations of others to attend to extraneous matters,but the approach of the close of the year render a great many indisposed to enter upon new engagements of a real estate character,

REAL ESTATE LAW.

TITLE— FICTITIOUS PERSON — LACHES.—The opinion of the United States Circuit Court for the District of Colorado by McCrary, J., holding that there can be no conveyance to a fiictitious person; that lacbes are not imputable to the general government, nor is it estopped by the frauds of public officers.

WHEN ABSOLUTE TRANSFER REGARDED AS AN ASSIGMENT FOR CREDITORS.—The opinion of the Supreme Court of Pa., by Paxon J., holding that an absolute transfer of a man's property in trust for the payment of his debts will be regarded as an assignment under the act of 1836 without regard to the particular form of conveyance, but a mortgage in trust to poy off certain notes at the time to which the creditors had extended the time of payment is not such an assignment.

TAXING REAL ESTATE.

Taxation on the basis of actual valuation is the only fair method of imposing taxes on real estate; the question of greatest difficulty is: How can the actual value be best determined? The customary plan is to let an assessor or a board of assessors guess at the valuation. Ordinarily the assessors do not try to ascertain the actual value, but they fix a relative appraisement, upon which the tax rule is based. For instance, in New York City a correspondent calls attention to the practice of systematic undervaluation by the assessors, and he shows that, although the average rate of taxation in New York City for the last four years has been almost exactly 2½ per cent, the cost to the property-owners has been little, if any, above the sums paid by Philadelphia tax-payers, whose rate has averaged less than two per cent during the same time. The practice of undervaluation, if the same rule were observed in every township and county in the State, would lead to no hardship, because it would only result in an apparently increased tax rate. If a required amount of tax is to be raised it makes no difference whether an estate valued at $10,000 is assessed at $5,000. A tax rate of ten cents per hundred on the actual value would necessarily be increased to twenty cents on the redneed assessment. It is the inequalities of the system of assessment that do the mischief. Some properties are assessed for all tney are worth, others for less than one-third their value. Even with honest, accurate, and experienced assessors inequalities must exist, and frequent injustice be done. Why, therefore, should not the tax-rate be based upon the income-producing capacity of property? Special provision could be made to guard against fraudulent leases and for taxing unimproved or unproductive real estate. Property-owners are always interested in getting high rents, and as the higher the rent the more tax they would pay, they could not escape a fair taxation without losing a part of their rentals.

RATES OF GROWTH.

The tide of immigration in this country is so vast that a difference of a few thousand makes very little impression on the rate of increase of the population. For the past four years, however, there has been much more than a few thousands of increase—so much that the rate must be revised to get at anything like an accurate computation of the number of people in the United States. Between 1870 and 1880 the growth of the population was 30 per cent., or 3 per cent. a year. Of this 30 per cent. twenty-two and a half was due to the natural growth, and the remaining seven and a half to immigration. This gave three-quarters per cent. per year as the rate of increase due solely to immigration. On that basis, the present population of this country would be about 54,500,000. During the last four years, however, 1,514,794 foreigners have landed on our shores, as against 2,354 934 for the nine years preceding that. This increase has raised the rate to about 38 per cent., and on that basis the total population now is not far from 56,000,000.

The rate for the next year seems likely to be a little smaller than for the past four, but still larger than that immediately proceeding them. The population in July, 1884, will be nearly 58,000,000.

THE PUBLIC LANDS.

"According to the official statistics nearly 20,000,000 acres have been disposed of during the last fiscal year, an increase of more than 500,000 acres compared with the transfers of the preceding year. The receipts at the General Land Office from all sources in connection with the transfer of land the past year, were $11,713,883, an increase over the receipts of the previous year of $3,319,367. For the purpose of encouraging immigration and the development of our resources, it is more than desirable that the best lands yet unoccupied should be in the hands of the Government rather than in the hands of speculators, and to that end additional legislation is needed. In view of the fact that large tracts of lands have been, and still continue to be, pre-empted merely for speculative purposes, the Commissioner of Public Lands earnestly advocates the repeal of the pre-emption law. It will doubtless be urged that much good has heretefore resulted from the pre-emption system, and that though there have been some abuses, it should not be discontinued, but it is patent to every one who examines the provisions of the present homestead laws, that the usefulness of the pre-emption system has passed away. It has been possible for speculators to obtain through pre-emption large tracts which they hold for selfish purposes, defeating the intent of the laws under the provisions of which they have secured them. With the repeal of the pre-emption law, the homestead law should also be amended so as to require proof of actual residence and improvement for a period of not less than two years, before a homestead may be commuted by cash payment. The timber culture law is doubtless also abused, but the abuses are inherent in the law, and so are probably beyond the reach of administrative methods for their correction. It has been found on a careful investigation that a majo rity of the entries under the timber culture act are made for speculative purposes, and not the cultivation of timber. Compliance with the law in these cases is a mere pretense, and does not result in the production of timber. In the past we have been accustomed to regard our public domain as inexhaustible, and as a consequence, our land policy has been the spendthrift's policy. The time has certainly come to call a halt."

CANDIDATES AND ISSUES FOR 1884

"The New York Record and Guide" Proposes the Following Candidates For President on the Democrotic and Republican Tickets.

"Chester A. Arthur for President on the Republican side.

Abram S. Hewitt for President on the Democratic ticket.

Seth Low Republican candidate for Governor of the State of New York.

Whitelaw Reid to succeed Lapham as Republican candidate for Senator in 1885."

President Arthur would undoubtedly be the strongest candidate the Republicans could put forward to succeed himself. He is pre-eminently a safe man. With him as Chief Magistrate there is no danger of foreign war or domestic disturbance. He is filling his high office with dignity, and is better placed where he is than many a more brilliant man would be.

Abram S. Hewitt is without his peer in the Democratic party. He is a man of high character, great breadth of view and unusual business capacity. The only objection to him is that he is not a lawyer. The American people have by an unwritten law decided that uone but second-rate lawyers shall hold high office in this country. The only exception is in the case of a successful general. Yet the glory of our country are its business men. It is they who are building up this mighty nation. But our people always prefer an inferior lawyer to the ablest merchant or manufactnrer. No first-class lawyer-statesman has ever been elected Presidcnt. as is shown by the histories of Calhoun, Clay, Benton, Silas Wright, Daniel Webster, Rufus Choate and Roscoe Conkling. If there should be an exception to this rule of lawyers President Abram S. Hewitt would fill the bill.

The tariff issue cannot be evaded. There will be no demand for free-trade but rather for what Mr. William M. Evarts so happily called "full" trade. In other words our manufacturers will demand that they must have some show with their wares in the markets of the world, and not to be confined to the United States. They will insist upon having untaxed raw material, so that they can produce goods as cheaply as their rivals in Europe, plus, of course, the higher price of labor in this country. While free-trade is making progress in the West, the maritime interests of the Atlantic States are also anxious for some easing up of the present restrictive policy of the Government. It will be remembered that the late tariff commission was made up of the representatives of the great protected interests, yet it conceded that a reduction of 20 per cent. of the old import duties was desirable. It has now been found that the reductions made by the amended tariff of last spring have not helped the trade of the country; hence, a most determined effort will be made this winter to enlarge the free list and reduce still further such duties as are onerous. Such a bill may pass Congress, but if very radical will be vetoed by President Arthur.

The silver question will come up, but there will be no change in the coinage act of 1878. There is no danger from silver when there is two dollars for one of gold in the country compared to the white metal. Now is it possible to have too many silver dollars? We have less than $160,000,000 minted for a population of 55,000,000. France has over 500,000,000 silver five-franc pieces —the equivalent of our standard dollars— with a population of 20,000,000 less, An effort will be made to establish a Postal Telegraph system, but if it should pass, which is doubtful, President Arthur will veto it. He believes in corporations every time, and will be supported by them to a great extent if he is the Republican nominee for the Presidency, which is now more than probable. An effort will also be made to deprive the railroad companies of the forfeited land grants; but President Arthur would never consent to such action. Very little will be done for the banks, nor will there be any liberal appropriations made for improving our water ways. This will be a do-nothing Congress. Both parties will do what they can to make capital for themselves in the Presidential contest.

THE OUTLOOK IN BUSINESS CIRCLES.

A continuance of the business depression, many failures and a dull but moderately strong stock market may precipitate a short-lived stock panic.

The country is full of cotton, grain and provisions, which must be carried by rail. There is no likelihood of a widespread railway war, and, no matter what the condition of trade, the leading roads will continue to make money and pay good dividends. There a good deal of unemployed investment capital, which is always available even in depressed times, for the purchase of sound securities. It is not reasonable to expect a further enhancement in stock values, now that prices have have advanced from six to fifteen points. It is a good market to keep away from.

There ought to be a good margin for an advance in wheat and corn. Should there be any threat of war in Europe the grain and provision markets would become excited. It is a curious fact that, notwithstanding a fairly abundant harvest, the trade of the commercial world is everywhere depressed. This is owing to the enhancement in the value of gold, due to the efforts that are making to establish it as the sole monetary unit.

VIADUCTS AT CENTRE AVENUE, CHICAGO AVENUE AND HALSTED STREETS.

The following is the resolution as passed:

Whereas, There is a deficiency in the amount of money, at present, available for the construction of the city's portion of the viaducts at Centre avenue and Chicago avenue and Halsted street, based on the bid received for the week and an estimate tor the work necessary to complete the two structures, but not included in the bids as follows:

Chicago avenue viaduct bid	$102,835.90
" " " other work	33,000.00
Total	$135,835.90
Available funds, Oct 1,	$ 54,694.54
Deficit	$ 81,141.36
Centre avenue viaduct bid	$ 74,100.00
" " " other work.	15,000.00
Total	$ 89,100.00
Available funds, Oct 1	34,876.80
Deficit	$ 54.223.20

Therefore, Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works award the bid and proceed with the said work, provided the following or a similar clause be embodied in the contract for Chicago avenue viaduct and be accepted by the contractor, and that a similar clause under same conditions be embodied in contract for Centre avenue, inserting such figures as may be applicable thereto, and that said work be subject to this order.

Whereas, The amount of money appropriated for the work contemplated by this contract and now does not exceed $54,500, and, whereas, the amount to be paid for said work when fully completed is estimated on the basis of the detailed bid of the party of the first part to amount to $90,000, more or less; therefore, it is hereby expressly understood and agreed by and between the parties hereto that the said party of the second part will commence the work and carry the same to final completion, and in so doing will depend upon future appropriations to be made by the City Council to meet the said deficit now existing; meaning and intending hereby that said party of the second part hereby releases the city from any claim of damages whatever by reason of the failure of the City Council to make further appropriations for said work or otherwise.

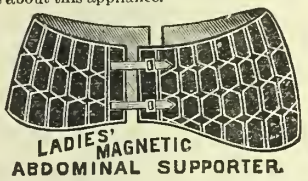
DISEASE CURED WITHOUT MEDICINE.

A Valuable Discovery for Supplying Magnetism to the Human System.



Electricity and Magnetism as never before for Healing the Sick.

THIS MAGNETIC BELT IS

WARRANTED TO CURE Or Money Refunded, the following diseases without medicine:—Pain in the back, hips, head, or limbs, nervous debility, lumbago, general debility, rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, sciatica, diseases of the kidneys, spinal diseases, torpid liver, gout, seminal emissions, impotency, asthma, heart disease, dyspepsia, constipation, erysipelas, indigestion, hernia or rupture, catarrh, piles, epilepsy, dumb ague, etc.

When any debility of the GENERATIVE ORGANS occurs, lost vitality, lack of nerve force and vigor, wasting weaknesses, and all those diseases of a personal nature, from whatever cause, the continuous stream of Magnetism permeating through the parts must restore them to a healthy action. There is no mistake about this appliance.

Warranted

TRY ONE.

TO THE LADIES:— If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Exhaustion, Dyspepsia, or with Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Headache or Cold Feet, Swollen or Weak Ankles, or Swollen Feet, an Abdominal Belt and a pair of Magnetic Foot Batteries have no superior in the relief and cure of all these complaints. They carry a powerful magnetic force to the seat of the disease.

For Lame Back, Weakness of the Spine, Falling of the womb, Leucorrhœa, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Barrenness and change of Life, this is the Best Appliance and Curative Agent Known.

For all forms of Female Difficulties it is unsurpassed by anything before invented, both as a curative agent and as a source of power and vitalization.

Price of either Belt with Magnetic Foot Batteries, $10. Sent by express C. O. D., and examination allowed, or by mail on receipt of price. In ordering, send measure of waist and size of shoe. Remittance can be made in currency, sent in letter at our risk.

The Magneton Garments are adapted to all ages, are worn over the underclothing, (not next to the body like the many Galvanic and Electric Humbugs advertised so extensively) and should be taken off at night. They hold their power forever, and are worn at all seasons of the year.

Send stamp for the "New Departure in Medical Treatment Without Medicine," with thousands of testimonials

TO PRESERVE THE HEALTH

Use the Magneton Appliance Co.'s

--:--Magnetic Lung Protector--:--

Price Only $5.

They are priceless to Ladies, Gentlemen and children with weak lungs, no case of Pneumonia or Croup is ever known where these garments are worn. They also prevent and cure Heart difficulties, colds, rheumatism, pneuralgia, throat troubles, diptheria catarrh and all kindred dieeases. Will wear any service for three years. Are worn over the under-clothing.

Catarrh, It is needless to describe the symptoms of this nauseous disease that is sapping the life and strength of only too many of the fairest and best of both sexes. Labor, study and research in America, Europe and Eastern lands, have resulted in the Magnetic Lung Protector, affording cure for catarrh, a remedy which contains no drugging of the system, and with the continuous stream of magnetism permeating through the afflicted organs, must restore them to a healthy action. We place our price for this appliance at less than one-twentieth of the price asked by others for remedies upon which you take all the chances, and we especially invite the patronage of the many persoffs who have tried drugging their stomachs without effect

How to Obtain This appliance Go to your druggist and ask for them. If they have not got them, write to the proprietors, enclosing the price, in letter at our risk, and they will be sent to you at once, by mail, post paid.

Send stamp for the "New Departure in Medical Treatment without Medicine," with thousands of testimonials.

THE MAGNETON APPLIANCE CO.,

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

TWO TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and MINNEAPOLIS and ST. PAUL, via the famous

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

SWINDLING THE PUBLISHERS.

A short time ago the Inland Architect and Builder publised a notice and kept it standing to the effect that dishonest parties were soliciting subscriptions and advertisements on said paper and were pocketiug the money collected without authority from the publisher,

The Real Estate aud Building Journal has been very fortunate in this regard until during the last two or three weeks. An advertisement was placed in one of the city papers for a solicitor to apply in person. Severzl applicants put in an appearance, and those only who claimed to have had experience were given a trial. One of these parties lounged about the office for ten days and managed to steal some of the most valued periodicals in the office which were received as exchanges. The name of this party is Jutt, and by his impudence compelled the publisher who is not a pugilist to slap his jaws and kick him out.

He is about five feet ten inches in height dark complexioned, and wears a smsll whisker on the sides of his face. He has made his threats that he will do the publisher damage for slapping his face and kicking him out. The public are notified that the publisher of this paper is looking for the domicile of the above descrlbed deadbeat whom he intends to arrest with a warrant for stealing periodicals.

An attorncy in Peoria has written to the office stating that he had paid $2.00 for subscription to include a Directory Card, to a party representing this paper on the 5th of Nov and said he wanted his paper sent to him. The party whoever it is has not reported the money nor any money.

The public are notified to pay no money to any one but the regular collector, who uses bills made out at the Chicago office. The facts in the Peoria swindle will be ferreted out and given to the public if justice requires it.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph street, Bryant Block, Chicago, Ill.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Architects Builders and Manufacturers will confer a favor on the publisher by mentioning the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL when sending for circulars or corresponding with parties advertising in these columns.

IMPROVING THE TENEMENTS OF THE POOR.

By the combined efforts of the Chicago Board of Health "the Citizens Association" and the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL the dilapidated and filthy tenements of the poorer class of tenants, are being abandoned or improved. At the close of the present year there will have been erected between five and six thousand houses in Chicago for residence purposes within two years This will further cause the abandonment of tumble down houses, and landlords who refuse to keep pace with the rapid improvements inaugurated in building and the improved cohstruction adopted by architects will soon find their houses vacant. Chicago has outgrown wooden shanties. Landlords are no longer permitted to rent cellars and basements for living purposes because it is believed that such abodes are but the breeders of crime and disease.

Apartments where the sun never shines and pure air never circulates are unfit for the habitation of man. Dampness from ground air has been discussed in this Journal and shown to be the cause of much sickness as well as the promoter of contagious diseases.

It is gratifying to notice that the subject of improving the dwellings of the poor is steadily growing in importance in all parts of the civilized world, The French Government among its other innovations, is seriously considering the question of building decent and comfortable abodes for the poorest of the population, while in England and America the subject has been, with great advantage, taken up by private individuals, who have done much themselves, and have led the way for olhers, to ameliorate the condition of the most helpless and dependent of their fellow-citizens. In one respect the work which has been done in this direction has led to disappointment. Houses have been built upon most excellent plans, full of light, air, and sunshine, and offered at rents lower than those asked for the vilest dens in the neighborhood, only to be taken up by persons quite able to pay a higher rent, who crowded into them to the exclusion of those for whom they were intended; worse than this, if the better class of tenants are refused admission, it is often found that the houses remain empty, the most squalid and miserable of mankind apparently preferring to live like pigs in a sty, at a high price, rather than suffer the embarassment of being lodged in a decent habitation. This perverted taste will probably disappear as the general habits of living of working people improve, so it is not worth while to lament long over it, and there is no fear that benevolence will not for many years, find ample occupation in modifying and improving the dwellings of those who are quite capable of appreciating, and being grateful for, the favors shown them.

Sanitary plumbing is now receiving the attention it deserves by the Master Plumbers' Association of Chicago. Doubtless much of the interest that has been awakened on the subjects of healthy houses, ventilation etc., is due to the efforts of a few intelligent and enterprising plumbers and sewer builders, as the two trades go well together. Mr. Andrew Young, who is a correspondent for this Journal, maintains that the plumber and not the architect, is the proper person to say where and how pipes shall be laid, and how hydrants are to be arranged. This discussion, if continued, will likely lead to some controversy between the plumber and the architect, as the above named gentleman has many adherents among his professions which are those of plumber and sewer builder.

In many important particulars of plumbing sanitary authorities differ in opinion, and this difference increases the feeling of insecurity on the part of the public. Many sanitarians advocate, for instance, the ventilation of all traps by special stacks of pipes independent of the soil-pipe ventilator; and already this has become a law in many cities. Others claim that such ventilation is positively injurious, as greatly increasing the danger of loss of seal through evaporation, besides complicating the plumbing. Another source of disagreement is in the material and proper jointing of soil and drain pipes. One advocates heavy cast-iron with a joint lead caulked by hand. Another recommends a lighter pipe and caulked by hydraulic or other mechanical pressure, A third prefers the rust-joint. Still another uses wrought-iron piping with screw joints; and others, finally, would return to the old lead pipe which until recently was used almost exclusively in this country. Lead was abandoned in favor of cast-iron largely on account of the greater resistance of the latter to the corrosive action of sewer-gas. Of late, however, the general custom of ventilating our sewers, soil and drain pipes has removed this objection, and the difficulties of properly jointing iron have caused many to favor a return to lead. The authorities again are divided in their opinions as to the best form of trap, water-closet, cistern-valve, snd indeed as to almost every important fixture used in plumbing, and they are always at war on the subject of the proper disposal of kitchen grease.

The most intelligent portion of the public, particulariy in the Eastern aud Middle States, have as yet only begun seriously to turn their attention to sanitary plumbing; and though the demand for literature on the subject is greatly in excess of the supply, the production of improved sanitary appliances is in advance of the demand.

Building continues active in Chicago—the usual number of permits being issued this week. More houses remain to be completed on the West side than upon the North and South sides combined. The miserable, delapidated and tumble-down shanties, which have so long disgrace the West side, are being torn down or moved away and replaced by solid brick structures. It is also a fact that there are more vacant houses for rent on the West side in proportion than can be seen upon either of the other sides of the city. The probabillty is that rents will take a slight tumble west of the river after the first of next May.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, Dec. 1, 1883.

THE MARKET.

Scattering sales for considerable amounts are reported this week in every part of the city and suburbs. As was stated in last week's JOURNAL, the district lying north of the city limits in Lake View is now having its boom, not, however, in high prices, but in numerous sales and new houses.

S. E. Gross sold ten lots in Gross' north addition corner Belmont and Lincoln avenues; also two houses at $1,800 each on Western avenue, near Division street: two houses on Ashland avenue, near Thirty-sixth at $1,800 each. Same party bought five acres northwest corner of Lincoln avenue and Divrrsey street (the old Lill homestead) in May, 1882, when there was not a new house north of Lincoln avenue. Now, for nearly a mile, it is built up on both sides of Lincoln avenue, with a good class of frame-houses. Mr. Gross says he has sold over 200 lots in this vicinity, upon which about 150 houses have been built. The ground is high and sandy with good drainage, and the property is convenient to street-cars. It is said that this locality never had its boom in years past like portions of the South and West sides, and, unlike them, it has a building boom—in keeping with the real estate boom.

Hyde Park and Lake have had a fairly active market the whole year through, and a great amount of building. The amount of building done on the West Side during the last eleven months is unparallelled in the history of the city, and judging from prese appearances there will be a surplus of houses on the first of next May. More stores are now vacant on the business streets than could be seen one, two or three years ago.

The Inter Ocean is of the opinion that the bridges are a serious detriment to business as well as to the appreciation of real estate on the West Side. It is a fact that no man can gainsay that a great many persons have been disgusted with the West Side on account of being "bridged" every morning and evening. In one instance an agent told the writer that he was instructed to buy thirty cottages a few years ago for a New York customer and was told to buy noththing west of the river on account of the bridge nuisance and poor accommoeations on street-car lines running in that direction. A lady and her family doing business on Madison street were looking for a home or place worth from $6,000 to $10,000, which they wanted to buy for a residence, and when offered a bargain on the West Side refused it at any price because they could not travel on the street-cars for more than one reason.

Outside of the city beyond the seven-mile radius a goodly number of sales have taken place. On Nov. 26, H. T. Wilcox sold to James N, Witherell block 5, Taylor's sub east half southeast ¼ 21 38 14, Town of Lake for $12,000. George H. O'Brien sold to Hibbard Spencer & Co., block 8 west ½ southwest ¼ 34 40 13, Town of Jefferson on Nov. 23, for $2.728.

It will pay suburban dealers to examine the column headed "Suburban Warranty Deeds," as published in this JOURNAL. While there is no speculation whatever in any part of the country or city, it must be admitted that fair prices have been maintained and that all grades of property from the best boulevard lots down to the cheap suburban homes have brought the prices at which they have been held—ranging all the way from $400 per foot front for the former $300 per lot for the latter.

A lot 372x301 feet on the northwest corner of Centre avenue and 45 feet was purchased by John Cudahy for $31,000. James B Waller sold 40x189 on West Madison street near Jefferson street, $24,000.

The estate of William Lill couveyed 60x142 feet on West Lake street near Paulina street for $17,500.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The Peoria swindlrr referred to in last week's JOURNAL is doing a thriving business for the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL in the above-named city. Two letters have been read at this office stating that a man by the name of John P. Coffin had collected money of the writers and promised to send them the paper. This man Coffin if the above letters contain the truth is a thief and should be dealt with accordingly. The public are notified to not pay said John R. Coffin any more on account of subscription or advertising in this Journal. The man Jutt who was kicked out of the JOURNAL'S office for trying to beat the publisher two weeks ago is, io is believed, an accomplice of Coffin, who is swindling the people in Beoria.

A REVIEW OF THE MARKET

In the Real Estate and Building Journal, December 4, 1880.

In the future of Chicago, the period from 1873 to 1880 will be remembered as the most trying of her history. After having enjoyed an nnexampled growth in area, business, manufactures and all that brings and results from wealth and power, she was struck a reeling blow by the sudden collapse of Eastern speculations, which turned the money centers into the utmost confusion, and affected every enterprise throughout the land. For thirty years the most wonderful in commercial history—she had steadily and with great and rapid strides, advanced from a village of less than 10,000 inhabitants to a city with 320,000 and had increased her area to thirteen square miles. Her business growth was beyond any comparison with any other city in the same time. So wonderful had her career been that capital from abroad and from every principal point on our continent had sought investment here, and the condition of things had become one of unlimited confidence and wildest furore of speculation.

Rapid, but deliberate, has the recovery been, but it is more complete for the thorough study of every step, and the teachings of contrast have made returning prosperity more real.

The year nearly ended has planted the first mile-stone of another epoch. Prosperity is generally regained throughout the country; the questions raised by the panic have been solved; the difficulties in business ife overcome, and, from a struggle which asted years and embodied the most ludicrous nonsense, the most insane sophistry, the most wretched wrangling, as well as the grandest study and most acute reasoning on the part of a few, congress finally emerged from chaos with financial laws which are the best thought of by the people, and, therefore the best that could be devised. So soon as it was realized that the circulation was inadequate; that money notes must be based on something; that differenoes of value of the media used produced ruinous speculation on the margin; that the world's money, gold and silver, was the only true basis of safety, and that, with wise legislatition the people could renew their wealth, the present system was adopted, and its working has been abundantly satisfactorily.

The last thought on financial science is the one generally suggested by the people, and to be embodied in the recommendations of the able Secretary of the Treasury. It is to increase the intrinsic value of the present silver dollar to equal the value of the gold dollar and thus make it an absolute equal, and take away the last straw from the drowning gold-bugs and fiat lunatics. This will remove the only element which would disturb our present system and make another panic possible. It would undoubtedly increase the circulation of the silver dollar, a thing most desirable, resulting from the gradual withdrawal of the small notes of the government.

The endorsement of this idea may seem, to those who have read the REAL ESTATE JOURNAL for years a little contradictory. The course of this paper may be epitomized in a word; when the panic came there was far from being enough paper money in circulation to do the business of the country, and the metal money available for use was almost nil, and what there was was under control of unprincipled speculators. We then demanded more paper money, always stipulating that it ought to be secured on the solid wealth in the vaults of the country. When the policy of the government tended to lessen the amount of circulating medium by taking away the legal tender character of some of its printed bonds we protested.

When this tendency of monetary affairs was most ruinous, and it was proposed to resume specie payments immediately, we saw, with all who think at all that this would turn the existing gloom into black despair and bring ruin to the country. When the paper medium had been strengthened and enlarged, and when our mines began to develop marvelous riches which had been hidden by Providence until our need of it; and when everything showed that resumption was feasible, we contributed our mite of thought in its favor, knowing that when it could be safely done, it would destroy the speculations of the Wall street vipers, who were biting the bosom that cherished them in forcing gold and silver up and greebacks down.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

RECORD OF DEED AS NOTICE—STATEMENT OF INDEBTEDNESS.—The opinion of the Supreme Court of this State by SCHOLFIELD, J., holding that under our recording system the record of a mortgage, should disclose with as much certainty as the nature of the case will admit, the real state of incumbrance. The effect of not doing so is fully stated in the opinion, which should be read by every one interested in real estate securities in this State.

THE PAVEMENTS OF BERLIN. Fifteen hundred cab proprietors and drivers have petitioned the Berlin City Council that no more wooden or asphalt pavement be laid down. Some of the petitioners say that the accidents are from fifty to seventy-five times greater than on the old stone pavement, and it is further alleged that the expense of repair is much greater. The worst stone pavement is preferable, they declare, to wood or asphalt. Yet in France the wood and asphalt seem preferable, and only last summer several streets could be seen in London in which the stone pavement was being replaced by wood.

The Purposes of a Real Estate and Builders Exchange.

The New York Real Estate Chronicle says: The building trade in New York City has made rapid strides during the last few yesrs, and the experience of builders during the current year indicates that they are absolutely controlled by irresponsible reprerentatives of trade-unions. There has been no question of wages raised, as the mechanics in every branch are in receipt of full pay, but, nevertheless, strikes have been ordered by so-called "walking delegates" on the most flimsy pretexts. The hands of the builders being firmly tied by the laws of the various unions, they in every instance found themselves powerless, and owing to some alleged infringement of a union rule by a sub-contractor, compelled to suspend operations for days or weeks and pocket the losses as philosophically as circumstances permitted. When serious strikes can be ordered for trivial causes, and large losses incurred by the builder where the matter in dispute is beyond his control, it is time for organization for self-protection. This could be done through the medium of the exchange, and a building committee composed of representative men should have the power to deal with committees of strikers, and in the event of the latters demands proving unreasonable the power of the exchange shonld be snch that a lock-out could be or-employment nine-tenths of the members of the amalgamated unions, and be prolonged until the misled representatives of labor were ready to allow common sense and reason to govern their present and future demands. An exchange inaugurated with a view of thus protecting the interests of builders and owners should be able to secure the support and subscription of every operator of note, and its power would be such that a committee could act as suggested above, and its instructions followed by all builders throughout the city. Still another object of the exchange should be to afford agents facilities for ascertaining the rent-paying responsibility of tenants. A bureau could be established in connection with the organization, and its records strictly reserved for the information of members. A list of defaulting tenants could be kept to consist of names handed in by members, and in a few years there would no longer exist any necessity for inquiries as to the responsibility of people applying for dwellings or apartments, other than a reference to the records of the exchange bureau.

NEW YORK NEWSPAPERS.

The distress in the financial and business communities has extended to the newspapers. The reduction in the price of the papers has been an unfortunate matter all round. The two penny morning papers expected to become two-cent papers, but this reduction in the price of the larger journals has made that impossible. One of the most apparently prosperous of the penny papers is now in the hands of a receiver. The Times finds that its circulation has not increased fifteen per cent by the reduction of fifty per cent in its price. The Tribune has a smaller income, of course, and so has the Herald. The Sun admits that its circulation has fallen off. The circulation of the World is increasing, but it cannot be profitable. The press of New York is having a hard time of it since the reduction in price. However, the old associated press monopoly has been broken up and there will now be a struggle for life, in which the ablest journals, backed by the largest purse, will survive.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owners of real estate with buildings are particularly interested in a material that will render their houses safe from fire as well as protection from the weather. Insurance pays actual losses in part, but no incidental losses, as stoppage of rents or business, &c.

THE CHICAGO

Fire Proof Paint Co.

Makes the only reliable mixed paint that will answer this double purpose. The Goss & Phillips Manufacturing Co.'s large manufactory, dry kilns and barns are covered with it, even the engine room.

Where this paint is applied the wood will not take fire from sparks, cinders, burning shingles or embers of any kind, flying from one roof to another, carpets burning on floors, upsetting or explosion of kerosene lamps, and the hundreds of other ways in which fires accidentally start. On a roof, it not only protects from fire, but is ornamental and saves the shingles from decay. All shingle roofs should be covered with it.

For full particulars and testimonials inquire at or address us at our office, Room 6, 89 Randolph street, Bryant Block, Chicago, Ill.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

INCOMBUSTIBLE HOUSES.

The architect to the municipality of Verdun, M. P. C hevenier, has contributed to the Genie Civil a payer on the incombustibility of buildings, which, although more particularly relating to the large Continental house, containing appartements on the several floors, nevertheless gives some general advice for the arrangement of buildings so as to prevent fires from attaining unmanageable proportions, He is of opinion that, until preparations for rendering materials incombusible have stood the test of time, their use should only be resorted to by way of additional precaution, while the buildings themselves should be so constructed that any fire which may happen to break out would be confined within very narrow limits.

The piers that support the principal parts of the structure should be built of such materials as stand heat well without appreciable alteration of form; and preference is given to sandstone, millstone, grit, flint and granite, the joints being made with argillaceous cements like those of Portland. The main portions of the internal walls should be built of similar materials, or, at any rate, faced with them. As regards the exterior, it will be sufficient to face the lintels and jambs of the windows, which are specially liable to be licked by flames.

Indeed, as a rule, the framework of all openings, both in the interior and exterior, is more exposed than the intermediate portions, and should, therefore, be better protected. When, on account of the design, the walls of the facades cannot be well stayed with masonry; should be tied by iron rods let into the floors, or by anchors attached to the ends of the main girders. In this maaner walls standing alone for a great height, are prevented from twisting, and are exposed to the action of the heat on one of their faces only.

The best way to insure the stability of a building under the influence of fire is to keep the floors from giving away. This is easy enough when they are of iron and pugging, but requires special precautions when they are made of combnstible materials. M. M, Flachaf and Noisette have come to the conclusion that a half-inch layer of asphalt over an inch of argillaceous earth is sufficient to protect a floor both at the top and bottom, in the event of a fire occurring and this system is carried out at the fodder-lofts of the Paris General Omuibus Compauy. A layer of plaster of Paris, fine. concrete cement, or clay. 3 or 4 milimetres (0.11 to 0. 15 inch thick), or a paving of of tiles, permits of waiting for assistance, by preventing the air from coming in contact with the wood, and thus maintaining combustion.

The ceilings should be thick and laid on wire gauze to the exclusion of laths; and channels in them should be blotched with clay, small twigs and chopped hay. Similar precautions should be taken with the roofs between the rafters, thus insuring tightness a conservation of heat, and a dimunition of danger from fire. The simplest arrangements consists of a rough ceiling of plaster and argillaceous sand on wire gauze nailed under the rafters, and a planking with closed joiuts under the roofing proper, which should be incombustible, and consist of slates, tiles, or sheet-metal

In the case of iron floors being adopted, the parquetry should be laid on pitch or cement, and special precautions should naturally be taken with the grates and chimneys.

As the floors are supposed to be incombustible, the fire can only extend from story to story by the stair-case, which must therefore, be isolated from the rest of the building. The well should be surrounded by thick walls capable of arresting the flames, and the landings should be flagged and arched or constructed of iron and concrete. The notch board may be of iron or stone. and the steps of cast-iron and tilles, or even of wood set in cement. In this latter case the wood does not easily catch fire, as the air can only get to the uppper surface. There should be incombustible and almost hermetrically tight appliakces for closing all openings from the several landings. Thus doors of thin sheet iron with wrought iron frames may be employed, o the doors may consist of two faces of wood-work with a sheet of iron between. The top of the well should be closed in by wrought iron and bricks that stand the fire well, and the stair-case windows should be made incombustible by means of metal frames and mica panes.

The outside windows of the edifice may be provided with Venetian blinds of iron, rolling blinds of wire gauze, or iron shutters, to be closed in the event of danger threatening. To prevent the fire from spreading by the roof it may be broken by transverse gables at intervals; and the use of combustible materials in all projecting ornamentation is to be avoided.

In conclusion M. Chenevier does not consider it indispensible that all the materials of a house should be incombustible or non-inflamable, but he contends that the carcass of the house should be built in such a manner as to localize the fire, and to insure this, it will be sufficient to adopt the measures named above. This does not prevent the use of materials, such as the roofing-timber, for instance, from being rendered incombustible by any of the various processes for this purpose,—Am. Architect,

The total amount of money expended by the general government in all the States for public buildings from the foundation of the Government up to the spring of 1883 $83,404,221.55, of which New York got $14,314,656.88, Massachusetts $7,670,023.96, Pennsylvania $7, 482,469,42, Illinois $7,453,936.98, Missouri $6,135,098.63, Ohio $5,796,-968.77, Louisiana $4,972,368.58, South Carolina $3,386,-883.90, California $2,115,622.67, Maine $2,080, 137.40, Maryland $1,864,602,80, Tennessee $1,129,044.18, Connecticut $1,074, 925.43, and the other States sums varying from $50,000 to $800,000,

The importance of the forests to this country can hardly be overstated. Our present prosperity and future development are indissolubly bound up with the forests. The value of the raw material produced annually by the forests of the United States has already reached the great sum of $800,000,000. Two million pair of hands find constant and lucrative employment in gathering this harvest and in the subsequent operations to which it gives rise, No other crop produced in the United States equals in value that yielded by its forests. The value of the forest crop is small, nevertheless, in comparison with the importance of the forests themselves to the people of this country in moderating the extremes of temperature, in preserving the rain which falls from the clouds, and in regulating the flow of rivers, Benefits of this nature which the country derives from its forests can never be estimated. They are felt in one direction or another every day by every man, woman and child in the country.

THE MARKET.

All of the leading real estate men of Chicago entertain about the same views as to the real estate market. No one doubts that renewed activity will take place early in the coming spring. During the fore part of the week just closed the weather was favorable and the roads drying up afforded an opportunity for buyers to look round for bargains. Men do not get excited as they once did when a good sale is effected in any particular locality, but buyers go about business deliberately with a determination to buy at a bargain, if at all. The number of sales in the county beyond the seven-mile radius are on the increase, but all are for small amounts this weeek.

Hyde Park still keeps the lead as to these outside sales. Lake is not far behind and Cicero is looming up since the Belt Railway is completed. Mr. E. A. Cummings has done much to attract the attention of buyers to land west of the Northwestern Car Shops. Ira Brown seems to have awakened a new interest out in New Trier in the vicinity of Glencoe. Lake View and Hyde Park are vieing with each other in building and real eslate sales. No other portions of the country come within gun shot of the localities north and south of the city in the towns of Lake View and Hyde Park. Englewood furnishes nearly all the business which entitles Lake to be ranked as third.

A number of important sales have been made within the city limits, some of which are as follows: Lucy J. and Chas. H. Rowe sold to Albert A. Munger for $95.000 Dec. 1' on Wabash avenue 156 feet north of Monroe street west front 40x180 feet. On same date A. R. and W. Hilton sold to C. H. Noyes for $10,000 on Wabash avenue 96 feet south of Twelfth street west front 25x180½ feet. A sale of $15,000 by S. B. Chase to C. C. Chase took place some time ago north of city limits on Belmont avenue, but was not recorded till this week. Also a sale south of the city limits on South Park Boulevard south west corner 48th, amounting to $27,000.

These transactions when fully examined will serve to show the drift of the trade as well as the selling value of suburban property.

The Superior Nail Company bought of Ira Harvey on Lawndale avenue southwest corner of Prince avenue five acres for $1,0000. On Western avenue near Twenty eight street Patrick Mohan sold to W. G. McCormick the undivided half of 434 feet for $20,000. This was a sale made long ago and not recorded till late. On North Clark street 63½ feet south of Chicago avenue south front 25x110 feet improved was sold by Janet Smith to B. Hessemer for $16,000. G. S. Hubbard sold to M. W. Byan on Dec. 1, 49¾x 70 feet on VanBuren street south west corner Throop street for $7,000. Non-residents and strangers can, with the aid of a good map or atlas in connection with the REAL ESTATE JOURNAL obtain a correct knowledge of the value of property in any portion of Cook county. In the days of high prices thousands of lots in places like Norwood Park were sold at a fancy or imaginary figure. Many of these purchasers like Abbott E. Childs, of Troy, Ohio have hung to their lots and are now getting them in shape to sell. Property at the above-named suburb although injured by the high fares charged by the N. W. Railroad Co. has nearly regained its former prices.

Crop Prospects.

Opinions differ widely concerning corn. The general tenor, however, is that the present crop equals last year's, though the quality in many localities is below the average the weather being unfavorable for drying out the cob. The Live Ltock Journal publishes reports from about 80 counties in Kansas, Arkansas, Missouri, South Eastern Nebraska and Southwestern Iowa, which are unanimous in showing that winter wheat is going into the winter in a rank, vigorous condition, probably never before equalled The acreage is increased especially in Kansas.

HOGS.

Hogs, both fat and feeders seem to be abundant, and the prospect is good for a full snpply throughout the winter as far as the above territory is concerned.

Real Estate Thrown on the Market.

Judge Shepherd yesterday granted William J. Fabian, executor of the will of the late William S, Johnston, permission to sell real estate valued at $1,000,000 in order to pay the debts of the estate. Johnston died March 21, 1882, leaving a widow and seven children and a large estate, mostly realty, His debts are not especially large, but his personalty was not sufficient to pay them. Much of his real estate is comparitively unproductive, as block 35 in Kinzie's addition, valued at $80;000 and only returning $3,000 a year income.

THOSE WHO LIVE BY THEIR WITS.

The numerous arrests for vagrancy, theft and drunkenness reported in the Daily News, Inter Ocean and Herald would seem to be meanness enough for one city, but the fact of the matter is that when all the Chicago Dailies do their best to shame the Mayor for his lukewarmness and inadvertance in allowing the criminal classes to gain such headway in our city then the worst is not told, nor half of the villany exposed. A month ago a woman 34 or 35 years old engaged to do housework for Mr. Bliss, of Kellogg, Johnson & Bliss, at 1145 Belden avenue, and before she worked a week robbed his wife of most of her wardrobe, and $10 in money and some jewelry. She left the house of Mr. Bliss on Sunday and went to the residence of R. C. Smyers at 766 Washington bovlevard on Monday morning to do housework. By telling a plausible story about her voyage from "Hingland" to New York and her sickness and hard experience in that city she was allowed to go to work without references, as she stated that she was unable to give references in Chicago. On the very next Tuesday night she robbed Mrs. Smyers of her jewelry, satin dolman, dresses, handkerchiefs, and underclothing and some money. Upon inquiry at the Central station it was learned that she had committed in all, three robberies in like manner all within three weeks.

The detectives had her description and her name for each offense reported and there was such a striking similarity in the reports that any one could see at a glance that it was the same Rebecca Spencer. This woman remained in the city for more than a week and perhaps committed another robbery and is not caught yet. Part of the jewelry taken from Mrs. Smyers was pawned at Hymans, 52 West Madison street, and the satin dolman was captured at another pawn-broker's office. More than half of the last-named lady's clothing and jewelry is still unfound and all of Mrs. Bliss' property. This is only one case out of a hundred within a short time. Business men say that petty thieving is going on continually in hardware and dry goods stores, and, in short, it is hard to find a well-to-do merchant, who is not robbed of from $500 to $1,000 worth of goods every year. Marshal Field pays any one of his employes $25 for exposing a theft in his store. Dead-beating is quite as common as petty larceny and not a day goes by that some honest man has been imposed upon by thieves and dead-beats. Clark street is almost blockaded by loafers and idlers who stand or walk about day after day and are not called upon to explain how they get a living.

It is a universal, common complaint among the police and detective forces of this city that Justices of the Peace and police magistrates are entirely too lenient in dealing with these pests of society. There ought not to be any difficulty in holding under bonds to the criminal court any man or woman who commits theft and where there is an intent to defraud clearly shown in evidence. There are hundeeds of young men in Chicago who would rather steal $5 than earn $10 by honest work though the labor in either case were the same. Many of our Justices certainly deserve credit for the manner in which they have discharged the duties of their office, which are certainly very onerous. The ordinance passed by the common council compelling pawnbrokers to make a daily report of all pledges and articles pawned in their stores or offices has done a great deal towards helping detectives reclaim stolen goods, but if the pawnbroker is disposed to be crooked there is the same chance to secrete stolen property as before. Nor is the cause of so much thievery wholly due to lack of vigilance among the justices and police officers. A short time ago a certain attorney on Randolph street gave a letter of recommendation to a young man who applied to work on the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL saying that he was a good fellow and reliable. The first thing the fellow did was to forge an order for $20 for advertising, drew his commissions on it and then tried to borrow more money of the publisher on a bogus telegram and at once took his departure. The attorney when asked to explain his action in the matter said that he had beaten him out of some money since the letter was written; and he said he had taken the same thief out of jail a few days before, where he had been placed for mortgaging the furniture of the room he lived in, the property belonging to the landlord. He had been indicted by the Grand Jury and tried and sentenced by the criminal court for a deliberate crime, and then given a good character by his lawyer, who ought to be held as an accomplice in the crime.

Such transactions are sometimes done in good faith but they show poor judgment in the would-be good Samaritan in trying to warn a viper who is sure to bite the bosom which nourished it.

CITY COUNCIL.

An ordinance was passed for six inch drains on Spruce street from Loomis to Laflin street, same on Avon Place from Hoyne avenue to its Western terminus; same on Throop street from West Madion street to West Harrison, for water servia pipes: on Milwaukee avenue. from Union street. to West Chicago avenue; same on Robey street from West Harrison street to West twelveth street; same on West Congress street from Lincoln to Hoyne avenue; same on West Harrison street from Ogden avenue to Hoyne avenue; same on West twenty-second street from Brown to Ashland avenue; same on Ashland avenue from West twelveth to West twenty-second street; same on Blue Island avenue from West Harrison street to sixteenth street viaduct.

An ordinance was passed establishing grade on West Twenty-Second street from Brown to Ashland avenue

Ssme on Sedgwick street from Locust street to Elm street.

The committee on local assessments made their reports and presented the same to the council with the opinion the city attorney recommending the employment of some agency or means to search for and discover sequestered and omitted property which ad escaped taxation.

A London company has patented a device for lighting railway cars by means of a battery carried beneath the cars. It is said that the chemicals used will cost only one-eighth as much as the appliances hitherto used to develope the same electrical energy. On a trial trip a Pullman dining car on the Northern road was lighted brilliantly by six Swan incandescent lamps. the supply being furnished by a battery of twelve cells, the length of the battery being four feet, and the breadth and depth each eight inches. The excellence and steadiness of the light were highly commended; it was perfectly easy to read small type while the cars were at full speed. After other preliminary trials, several railroad companies have made propositions for the adoption of the system, The inventors say that they can supply private dwellings at less cost than the estimates lately publish by the Edison or the Goulcher companies.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

Opinion Filed November 20, 1883.

Martha A Walker v. John W. Doane.

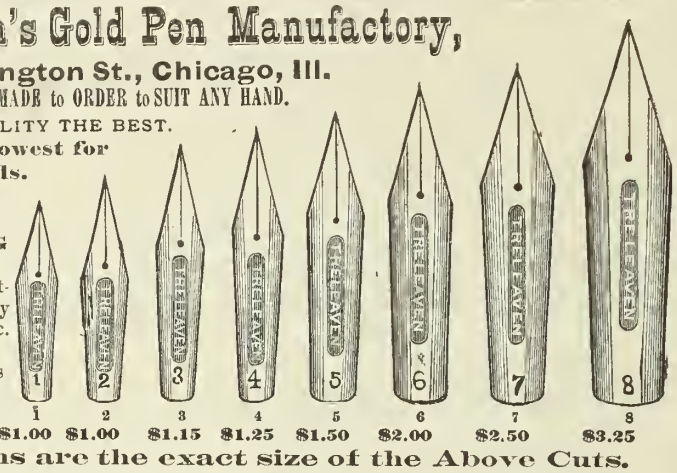
DOWER—WIDOW'S QUARANTINE—HOW LOST—HOMESTEAD.—Mrs. Walker petitioned for the assignment of dower in the property whereof her husband died seized, and that petition included the property in which her husband had his homestead at the time of his death. The decree was in accordance with the prayer of the petition.

In her answer to the petition of the administrator to sell the property to pay debts, she set up no claim or defense, save that she was seeking to enforce through her petition for dower. The administrator's sale was therefore, made subject to that right, and Doane, when he purchased thereat became simply bound to abide by that decree whatever that might be. Had Mrs, Walker not asked and obtained a decree for the payment of dower out of this property, or had the proceedings been commenced against instead of by her, and she had meanwhile remained in possession and insisted upon her right quarantine, the case would have been quite different. The dower having been allotted on the petition of the widow, out of other lands than the homestead, it operated as a release of the estate homestead.—[Ed. Chicago Legal News.

STATUTE OF USES—DEED TO WIFE—DIVORCE.—The opinion of the Supreme Court of this State by Craig, J., construing the Statute of Uses and Trusts, and holding where a husband being in good circumstances by his own voluntary act has land deeded to his wife to secure her from coming to want through any reverses that might come to him, held after divorce and re-marriage that a court of equity had no power to interfere and take the property from the wife and give it back to her former husband.

JUDGMENT FOR BACK TAXES.—The opinion of the Supreme Court of this State by Dickey, J., holding that where a default was entered on an application for judgment for taxes before July 1, 1879, and final judgment was not entered until after that date, that the application was to be governed by the law in force when the default was entered; that back taxes and forfeitures can only be extended in conjunction with the taxes of the current year; that there is no authority for the court to render judgment for back taxes and forfeitures excepting where they are added to the tax of the curreet year upon the same property,

A Word of Encouragement.



So vast and varied are the resources of the country. and so rapid is the accumulation of realized wealth, that the depression which has fallen upon the railway and collatteral interests will probably be short-lived. For a long series of years there has been but a single bad harvest. This year our winter wheat crop is below the average; but the spring wheat crop is excellent. and all the other crops of the country are abundant. This will tend to neutralize largely the effects of the fall in prices, and will expedite the recovery of the country. The new wealth produced will replace the wealth wasted, aud the difficulties in which so many persons are involved will compel more saving than usual. In a brier period, or say before another year rolls round, there will, therefore, probably be little trace left of the present depression.—Real Estate Chronial.

According to the Secretary of the Treasury only about seventeen million dollars of our registered Government bonds are owned in foreign countries. This is believed by good authorities to be an underestimate, as coupon bonds are not easily traced, and some bonds are registered in the name of American residents for foreign accounts. But it is very safe to assume that but a slight fraction of our national bonds is now held in foreign countries. English consuls and even French rentes are owned more largely out of their respective countries than are American Government bonds.

It is probable that, notwithstanding the large decrease of taxation provided for by the Tariff act of March 3, the surplus revenue for the current fiscal year will reach as high as $100,000,000 or $110,000,000, and as the Secretary of the Treasuary has now no discretion in disposing of his surplus, other than by calling in the 3 per cent.bonds, it is to be hoped that the new Congress will be disposed to grant the needed financial legislation for the proper disposition of this surplus.
